OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[RO 5C,[1] Order 4]

MILEAGE RATIONING; GASOLINE REGULATIONS

AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT CLASS R COUPONS

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing by § 1394.8153 (b) (4) (iv) of Ration Order No. 5C, as amended, the following order is prescribed:

(a) Findings. Under the laws of the State of North Dakota, tax exempt gasoline for non-highway purposes may be sold only by licensed dealers to duly licensed consumers.

Licenses are issued by the State Auditor to any dealer desiring to sell tax exempt gasoline and to any person who satisfies the State Auditor that he needs gasoline for non-highway purposes. The license issued to the consumer is in book form and contains the license number, the name and address of the licensee, and provides spaces to be filled in by the dealer for the date of purchase, from whom, and the number of gallons purchased. At the time of sale the dealer executes a receipt in triplicate which is signed by both the seller and purchaser and stipulates the amount and kind of gasoline transferred. Copies of the receipt are retained by the buyer and seller and the original is delivered to the seller's supplier who in turn transmits it to the State Auditor in lieu of taxes.

Licenses issued to the consumer expire on the 31st day of December of the year in which the license is issued. Prior to the expiration of the license the licensee files with the State Auditor a sworn statement showing the amount of exempt gasoline purchased, the date of purchase, and the price paid. Attached to this statement are the receipts issued by the dealer at the time of each sale.

There are approximately 1,300 dealers who have been licensed to make tax exempt sales of gasoline. Each dealer is required to maintain records of all purchases, receipts, and sales which at all times during business hours are subject to inspection by the State Auditor or by any agent or employee duly authorized by him, and not later than the 15th of each month the dealer is required to file a report with the State Auditor of the amount of gasoline sold. Licenses are revocable for violation of any provision of the statute.

In addition to the sales to agricultural and industrial users, tax exempt gasoline may be sold to any licensed subdivision of the State in the construction, reconstruction or maintenance of public roads, highways or streets when public funds of such municipality are used for the purchase of gasoline for use in publicly owned vehicles.

In substance, the laws of the State of North Dakota carefully safeguard the sale of tax exempt gasoline and contain strict standards in order to assure that such transfers will be made for non-highway purposes. The issuance of receipts and the right to inspect records at all times during business hours will enable the investigators of the Office of Price Administration to determine whether or not prohibited transfers are being made. Hence, it appears that authority may be extended to licensed dealers located in the State of North Dakota to make tax exempt transfers of gasoline in exchange for Class R coupons to duly licensed consumers without facilitating the unlawful acquisition of Class R coupons.

(b) Order. It is hereby ordered that dealers and licensed distributors in the State of North Dakota who are permitted by that State to make tax exempt sales of gasoline are authorized to accept Class R coupons at their retail facilities for such tax exempt sales where these sales are made only for non-highway purposes in compliance with the laws of the State of North Dakota: Provided, That such dealers and distributors maintain records of such sales, at the place of business where such transfers of gasoline are made, in accordance with the laws and regulations of the State of North Dakota and permit employees of the Office of Price Administration to inspect such records during business hours.

(c) Definitions. The definition of terms and rules of construction contained in § 1394.7551 of Ration Order 5C shall apply to this order.

(d) Effective period. This order shall become effective May 25, 1944, and shall remain in effect until modified or revoked.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421 and 507, 77th Cong.; WPB Dir. No. 1, Supp. Dir. No. 1Q, 7 F.R. 562, 9121, E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719)

Issued this 24th day of May 1944.

Deputy Administrator,
In Charge of Rationing.

In the matter of Godfrey B. Simonds, Edward B. Aldrich, George F. Bliven, Herbert H. Brooks, Russell C. Harrington and Charles C. McGowan, Proposed Committee for the Rhode Island Public Service Company $2 Cumulative Preferred Stock; file No. 68-40.

Notice is hereby given that Godfrey B. Simonds, Edward B. Aldrich, George F. Bliven, Herbert H. Brooks, Russell C. Harrington and Charles C. McGowan, proposing to act as members of a committee representing the $2 Cumulative Preferred Stock of The Rhode Island Public Service Company (RIPS), have filed a declaration with the Commission regarding a proposed solicitation of authorizations from holders of the $2 Cumulative Preferred Stock of RIPS, and seeking partial exemption from compliance with the requirements of paragraphs (g) (2) and (h) (1) of Rule U-62 for Industrial Trust Company and The Blackstone Canal National Bank of Providence, the respective companies of which Edward B. Aldrich and Charles C. McGowan are officers.

All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission, the substance of which is summarized as follows:

Said declaration indicates that the individuals named therein own beneficially or as trustees or are officers or directors, or both, of companies which own beneficially or as trustees $2 Cumulative Preferred Stock of RIPS consisting of approximately 16,500 shares of stock.

The declarants propose to form a committee on behalf of the $2 Cumulative Preferred stockholders of RIPS and to apply to intervene or otherwise participate in the pending proceedings before the Commission involving the plan of simplification of the New England Power Association holding company system (File No. 54-92) filed with the Commission by New England Power Association and its subsidiary holding companies on March 6, 1944. The declaration sets forth a request for partial exemption from the conditions imposed by paragraph (g) (2) of Rule U-62 for the Industrial Trust Company and The Blackstone City National Bank of Providence to the extent that there be no restriction upon the right of either of these companies to purchase or sell, or to give investment advice with respect to the securities of companies in the New England Power Association System in their respective fiduciary capacities, or in the administration of agency accounts, or in the exercise of their rights as holders of collateral.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said declaration and that said declaration shall not become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission:

It is hereby ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the Rules thereunder be held on May 27, 1944 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t. in the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., in such room as may be designated at such time by the hearing room clerk in Room 318. All persons desiring to be heard or desiring to participate in the proceedings shall notify the Commission in the manner provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's Rules of Practice, on or before May 26, 1944.

It is further ordered, That Allen MacCullen or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issue presented by said declaration, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the requirements of paragraphs (g) (2) and (h) (1) of Rule U-62 as applied to the proposed solicitation, are in any respects not necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers and whether the restrictions proposed in such declaration or any amendment thereto are an adequate substitute, or under the circumstances the only restriction which should be imposed upon dealing in securities of companies in the New England Power Association System by said Industrial Trust Company and The Blackstone Canal National Bank of Providence, and whether the Commission should so order pursuant to sections 11 (g), 12 (e) and Rule U-100.

2. Whether said declaration as filed or as it may be amended, should be permitted to become effective as consistent with the standards of sections 11 (g) and 12 (e) of the act.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the entry of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to New England Power Association, Massachusetts Power and Light Associates, North Boston Lighting Properties, The Rhode Island Public Service Company, Massachusetts Utilities Associates Common Voting Trust and Massachusetts Utilities Associates, and to each of the declarants, and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

The Chief Compliance Commissioner has reviewed this case and he has determined that in order to avoid hardship to the Photo Process Engraving Company and to prevent delay in the making of plans for publications to be used in Army and Navy induction and procurement centers, Suspension Order S-381 should be amended. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

(a) The respondent's quota of copper shall be reduced as follows:

For the third quarter of 1943	1,150
For the first quarter of 1944	1,150
For the second quarter of 1944	No reduction

For the first quarter of 1945	500

which amounts represent 3248 pounds of copper out of a total of 4735 pounds of copper over-consumed during the first and fourth quarter of 1942, unless the respondent is hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board to consume additional copper. If the respondent shall use any copper in fulfilling new government orders as defined in paragraph (e) of Conservation Order M-339, then the quotas shall be further reduced by the poundage of copper used in the government orders up to first 1506 pounds; each reduction in quota shall be made in each quarter in which government copper is consumed and to such amounts.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

HIDES, SKINS AND LEATHER

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in hides, skins and leather for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.196 General Conservation Order M-310—(a) General definitions. (1) "Tanner" means a person in the business of tanning, dressing, or similarly processing hides or skins, who in any calendar month after April 1, 1940, processed or processes more than 100 hides or skins.

(2) "Contractor" or "converter" means a person in the business of causing hides or skins to be tanned or dressed for his account in any tannery not owned or controlled by him.

(3) "Collector" means a person, including a dealer or importer, engaged in the business of acquiring from others untanned hides or skins for resale, or removing hides or skins from animals not slaughtered by him.

(4) "Producer" means a person in the business of slaughtering animals.

(5) "Military order" means an order for hides, skins or leather for delivery against a specific contract placed by any of the following, or for incorporation in any product to be delivered against such a contract:

The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or any foreign government pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act) or any extension or renewal thereof: Provided, That orders for U. S. Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or for U. S. Navy Ship's Service Departments shall not be deemed military orders within the terms of this definition, except orders by the U. S. Navy Ship's Service Departments and War Shipping Administration Training Organization Ship's Service Department for cut sole leather for repair purposes which are endorsed as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 17.

(6) "Military specifications" or "military quality" means, except as herein otherwise specifically provided, the specifications applicable to military orders or the quality of material meeting such specifications.

(7) "Sole leather" means vegetable tanned sole leather unless otherwise specified.

(8) "Scrap leather" means small leather pieces which are unavoidably produced from processing or cutting operations, but in no case shall include bellies or shoulders.

(9) All trade terms shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified.

(b) Provisions applying to all hides, skins and leather. (1) No person shall process any hides, skins or leather contrary to any specific direction issued from time to time by the War Production Board relating to the processing or production of specific types of leather to meet military or designated civilian requirements.

(2) No producer, collector, tanner, contractor, converter or cutter shall sell, deliver, accept delivery of, cut, use or incorporate in any product any hides skins or leather contrary to any specific direction issued from time to time by the War Production Board deemed necessary in order to fill military or designated civilian requirements.

(3) No person shall commercially incorporate any leather or rawhide into any product except as permitted by Schedule A at the end of this order, and no person shall sell any leather or rawhide unless the same is to be incorporated into a product permitted by Schedule A. This restriction shall not, however, apply to products manufactured:

(i) To fill military orders;

(ii) From vegetable tanned cattlehide flesh splits under 3½ ounces;

(iii) From scrap leather, Provided, That any tanner selling any such scrap leather shall report his sales on his monthly form prescribed in paragraph (k);

(iv) Under specific authorization in writing by the War Production Board. Pursuant to this paragraph, the War Production Board may authorize the sale and use of rejected leather, or leather which can be made available consistently with programmed requirements, for essential uses not permitted by Schedule A. Any person may request such authorization by letter on his own behalf or on behalf of his customers, stating the proposed uses of the leather and the quantity, quality, weight and type involved, and in the case of rejected leather, facts substantiating its qualification as such.

"Rejected leather" as used in this paragraph means any leather made to fill a military order or for production of items listed on Schedule A which (i) is so defective that it will be refused if tendered, (ii) the purchaser has refused, or (iii) the purchaser has notified the seller will be refused because of defects. The term also is used to include seconds or over-runs. A "second" is leather made to fill a military order or for production of items listed on Schedule A but not actually offered or tendered to the purchaser because of defects. An "overrun" is leather made to fill a military order or for production of items listed on Schedule A but not delivered because in excess of the quantity actually required to fill the order.

No manufacturer, tanner, contractor or converter shall process or order any leather which he knows will be rejected. This paragraph does not prohibit the production of seconds or over-runs, to the extent that they are unavoidable in the manufacturer's or tanner's operations.

(v) From leather not used for the purpose for which it was produced because of failure to deliver on time or termination of procurement by the United States Government or any of its agencies for which the production was ordered, when the sale or use of such leather is authorized in writing by the War Production Board. Any person may request such authorization on his own behalf or on behalf of his customers, stating the proposed use of the leather, the quantity, quality, weight, and type involved, and explaining why it cannot be used for the purpose for which it was intended.

This paragraph (b) (3) shall supersede any provision in Priorities Regulation Number 13 pertaining to sales of leather of the type covered by this paragraph.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of any priorities or other regulations of the War Production Board, no preference rating shall be applied or extended for the delivery of hides, skins or leather, except:

(i) Leather for military orders; or

(ii) When specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board pursuant to this subparagraph (b) (4), (ii).

(5) In making sales or deliveries of hides, skins or leather, including sole leather cut stock, no person shall make discriminatory cuts in quality or quantity between customers who meet such person's established prices, terms and credit requirements, or between customers and his own consumption of said materials.

(c) Untanned cattlehides, calfskins and kips—(1) Definition. "Cattlehide", "calfskin" and "kip" mean the hide or skin of a bull, steer, cow or buffalo, foreign or domestic (excluding slunks).

(2) No tanner shall put into process, and no contractor shall cause to be put into process, any cattlehide, calfskin or kip in excess of such amounts for specified periods as may be fixed by the War Production Board from time to time.

(3) No person shall sell, deliver, purchase or accept delivery of any untanned cattlehide, calfskin or kip, or portion thereof, other than splits and glue stock, except to the extent that the purchaser is specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB-1323 or Form WPB-3507. Applications may be made on Form WPB-1325 (formerly PD-569) for the purchase of domestic cattlehides, and on Form WPB-1322 (formerly PD-569-a) for the purchase of domestic calfskins and kips: Provided, That the following may be made without such authorization:

(i) Transactions between collectors and between producers and collectors for purposes of resale;

(ii) The sale and delivery to and the purchase and acceptance of delivery by any person other than a tanner of less than 100 hides or skins in any calendar month.

(4) In acting under paragraph (c) (3), it will be the policy of the War Production Board, so far as is practicable, to grant authorizations so that:

(i) The contractor or tanner may obtain cattlehides, calfskins, or kips in the proportions that the wettings in 1942 of the contractor or tanner, respectively, of cattlehides, calfskins, or kips, computed separately, bore to all wettings thereof in that year by all contractors and tanners producing the same type of leather, except that authorizations to tanners or contractors having more than a practicable minimum working inventory may be reduced or omitted: and

(ii) The contractor shall contract with the same tanners as in 1942 and shall divide his contracts between them in the same proportions as in 1942.

(5) No producer or collector shall cut off bellies or shoulders of untanned cattlehides, except for a purchaser specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board to purchase hides with portions cut off.

(ii) Rough belting butts or butt bends shall be curried and thereafter used only for transmission belts, hydraulic, packing, mechanical and textile leathers, or fillet leather: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply to straightenings cut from the portion of the belting butt or butt bend beginning at the edge from which the belly was removed, if the straightening is less than two inches in width at the widest point;

(iii) Rough shoulders cut from sole leather hides if not finished for sole leather, and rough shoulders cut from any belting butts, shall be curried and used only for welting, hydraulic, packing, mechanical and textile leathers, except that double rough shoulders 11 iron and up may be curried and used for round belting.

The War Production Board may on written application authorize the substitution of any of the types of leather mentioned in subparagraphs (i), (ii), and (iii) of this paragraph (d) (4) for any of the end uses therein specified, and when consistent with meeting requirements for approved programs, the War Production Board may authorize the finishing and use of any of these types of leather for any products listed on Schedule A.

(8) No tanner, currier, finisher, jobber or dealer shall accept any order for cattlehide leather in the form of harness, skirting, collar, latigo, lace, rigging, rawhide, bag, case, strap or upholstery leather, rated or otherwise, or transfer any such leather to his own fabricating plant, unless such order or the request for such transfer states the specific end use of such leather.

(9) No tanner shall process any cattlehide to make grain garment leather.

(10) [Deleted Jan. 24, 1944.]

(3) [Deleted Jan. 24, 1944]

(4) The restrictions of paragraph (h) (2) shall not apply to persons who put into process less than 200 domestic goatskins in any calendar month and who process no foreign goatskins.

INTERPRETATION 1

EFFECT OF RATINGS ON EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION

Paragraph (b) (5) of this order, the so-called equitable distribution clause, does not excuse filling of rated orders. This clause prohibits discrimination between customers who meet established prices, terms and credit requirements, but it does not override Priorities Regulation No. 1, which requires, subject to the conditions set forth, that all rated orders be accepted and that preference be given to orders carrying higher ratings over those with lower ratings.

The particular types of leather specified by preference rated orders must be delivered unless the leather cannot be produced from the hides or skins available to the tanner or the tanner is excused or prevented from filling the order by a regulation, order or direction of the War Production Board. If a rated order is placed for military quality leather, this order may not be filled with civilian quality leather. (Issued Apr. 11, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 2

OFRA AND UNRRA ORDERS NOT WITHIN DEFINITION OF "MILITARY ORDER"

"Military order" as defined in paragraph (a) (5) does not include orders for delivery against contracts placed by the Office of Foreign Relief Administration or the United Nations Rehabilitation and Relief Administration, or orders for hides, skins or leather for incorporation in products to be delivered against such contracts. (Issued April 15, 1944.)

SYNTHETIC FIBERS, YARNS AND FABRICS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of synthetic fibers, yarns and fabrics for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Nylon

§ 3290.326 General Conservation Order M-356—(a) Definitions. (1) "Nylon" means synthetic fiber-forming polymeric amides having a protein-like chemical structure, derivable from coal, air and water, or other substances, and characterized by extreme toughness and strength and the peculiar ability to be formed into fibers (yarns and fabrics) and into various shapes, such as bristles, sheets, etc. "Nylon" also means fibers, yarn, thread and fabrics made of nylon.

(2) "Nylon waste" means waste, noils and garnetted or reclaimed fibers (including scraps and clippings, generated in the manufacture of thread, fabrics, rope, braiding or other material containing nylon) the total nylon content of which is 95% or more by weight.

(b) Restrictions on nylon. (1) No person shall sell or deliver nylon except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) No person shall knowingly purchase, accept delivery or commercially use nylon contrary to any restriction of the War Production Board.

(c) Restrictions on nylon waste. No person shall sell, purchase, deliver, accept delivery, process or commercially use nylon waste except to recover nylon flake. No person shall mix nylon waste with any other waste material having less than 95% nylon content by weight.

Export of Fine Rayon Yarn and Rayon Fabrics

(d) Definitions. (1) "Rayon fabrics" mean broad woven synthetic fabrics (over 24 inches in width) made from continuous filament viscose yarn, cuprammonium yarn or cellulose acetate yarn, from viscose or acetate staple fiber, or from combinations or blends containing more than 50 per cent by weight of any such synthetic yarns. The term shall not include velvets, plushes, and other pile fabrics, upholstery, drapery and tapestry fabrics, and jacquard woven fabrics.

(2) "Fabric producer" means a person who wove, or caused to be woven for him on commission, an average of more than 25,000 yards of rayon fabrics per week during the three months' period ending September 30, 1943. Wherever the words "his total yardage production" or "produced by him" are used in paragraph (g), they refer to the yardage of rayon fabrics manufactured for, as well as by, the fabric producer.

(3) "Procurement orders" mean orders for rayon fabrics placed by the Army or Navy of the United States (including military exchanges and service departments when the order bears the appropriate endorsement referred to in paragraph (c) of Priority Regulation 17), the Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(4) "Export orders" means, with respect to fine rayon yarns as defined in General Preference Order M-37-d, orders bearing a preference rating of AA-3 or higher, and with respect to rayon fabrics, orders bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, for material which is covered by or the subject of one of the following:

(i) An export license issued by Foreign Economic Administration.

(ii) A release certificate issued by or pursuant to the authority of Foreign Economic Administration in connection with a program license of the Foreign Economic Administration.

(iii) A United States Treasury Procurement Division contract or requisition placed for Foreign Economic Administration under the Act of March 11, 1941, (Lend-Lease).

(iv) A purchase by The Canadian Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation.

(v) An order from a manufacturer, who has accepted orders for garments or materials covered by export orders defined in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii) above, for goods to be incorporated in such garments or materials.

Deliveries to or for United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, and deliveries to Canada, other than on orders referred to in subdivision (iv), are not exports for the purpose of this order.

(e) (1) No preference rating applied or assigned in connection with any export order as defined in paragraph (d) (4) shall be valid, used, or given any effect unless the preference rating is applied and extended as provided in Priorities Regulation 3 and, in addition, substantially one of the following notations (whichever is appropriate) is placed on the order:

(i) The goods hereby ordered will be exported (or will be incorporated in materials to be exported) under export license No. ------ (fill in) issued by Foreign Economic Administration.

(ii) The goods hereby ordered will be exported (or will be incorporated in materials to be exported) under release certificate No. ------ issued by or pursuant to the authority (fill in) of Foreign Economic Administration.

(iii) The goods hereby ordered are (or will be incorporated in material that is) the subject of United States Treasury Procurement Division Contract No. ---------- (fill in)

(iv) The goods hereby ordered will be delivered to or for the account of The Canadian Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation.

(When this is done the requirements of M-328 are met, and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.)

(2) No person shall purchase, accept delivery of, deliver or knowingly sell for delivery for export any rayon yarn or rayon fabric, without a preference rated export order as defined in paragraph (d) (4), except rags or pieces of fabric shorter than ten yards.

(f) Establishment of export quotas for fine rayon yarn. (1) An export quota system is hereby established for the producers of fine rayon yarn as defined in General Preference Order M-37-d. Such export quotas will be established from time to time by the War Production Board within which quotas the Foreign Economic Administration will be authorized to assign preference ratings. Until further notice from the War Production Board, each producer of fine rayon yarn shall, regardless of preference ratings, each day set aside an amount of such yarn equal to the production of 4% of his active spindles producing viscose or cuprammonium yarn and 4% of his active spindles producing acetate yarn. The number of active spindles producing high tenacity tire-type rayon yarn shall not be included in computing the above percentages. The yarn thus set aside shall be known as "export yarn," and shall be set aside, as nearly as practicable, in such denier sizes as will fill the producer's orders on hand for such yarn at the time the producer sets his production schedule. No producer of fine rayon yarn shall be compelled to export or accept an order for export of fine rayon yarn in excess of the export quota so established for him: Provided, That no such producer shall be prohibited from exporting or accepting an order for export of fine rayon yarn in excess of such quota, unless specifically prohibited by the War Production Board.

(2) Disposition of export yarn not booked or delivered. All export yarn set aside from the production of any one month, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (f) (1) and which has not been delivered or booked during said month, shall be immediately available for sale to any person otherwise eligible to purchase such yarn.

(3) [Deleted Feb. 8, 1944]

(g) Establishment of export quota for rayon fabrics. (1) An export quota system is hereby established for rayon fabrics. Pursuant to such system export quotas will be fixed from time to time by the War Production Board. Until further notice from the War Production Board, each fabric producer must accept and fill export orders for rayon fabrics until they aggregate for the current calendar quarter four per cent of his total yardage production of rayon fabrics (excluding yardage produced by him to fill procurement orders) during the preceding calendar quarter. No fabric producer is required to accept or fill export orders for more than the established export quota, nor for more than fifteen per cent of any particular construction of rayon fabrics produced by him during the current calendar quarter. However, he is not prohibited from doing so, unless compliance with other orders or regulations of the War Production Board would forbid it.

(2) Unfilled export quota to be carried over to next quarter. If a fabric producer does not fill his entire export quota of rayon fabrics in any calendar quarter, the unfilled portion hall be added to his quota for the next succeeding quarter. The portion so carried over which is not filled in such succeeding quarter may be dropped. To illustrate: if the export quota of a fabric producer for the second quarter of 1944 is 100,000 yards and he books or delivers only 75,000 yards during that quarter, the remaining 25,000 yards shall be added to his quota for the third quarter of 1944. If his quota for that quarter is also 100,000 yards, he is required to accept and fill export orders aggregating 125,000 yards during the third quarter. Any part of the 25,000 yards not delivered during the third quarter is thereafter free from the restrictions of this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(h) Miscellaneous provisions — (1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, and General Conservation Order M-328, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Reports. Each producer of rayon fabrics shall forward to the War Production Board each week a copy of every export order accepted by him during the week. Each producer of rayon fabrics shall file with the War Production Board quarterly production reports on Form WPB-658-C within the time specified on said form. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-356.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M-356, as Amended May 25, 1944, Interpretation 1]

ALL PRODUCERS OF RAYON FABRICS REQUIRED TO REPORT

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order M-356:

Although "fabric producer" is defined in paragraph (d) (2) to mean a person who wove or caused to be woven for him on commission an average of more than 25,000 yards of rayon fabric per week during the three months' period ending September 30, 1943, paragraph (h) (3), the reports paragraph, refers to each producer of rayon fabrics regardless of the quantity he produces. Accordingly, all producers of rayon fabrics are required to report.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS[1]

[Limitation Order L-23-b, as Amended May 25, 1944]

DOMESTIC ELECTRIC RANGES

Section 3291.180[1] Limitation Order L-23-b is amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials and facilities for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.180 Limitation Order L-23-b— (a) What this order does. This order controls the manufacture and delivery of new domestic electric ranges. It provides for the resumption of production of these items on a limited basis.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "New electric range" means any range or cooking stove designed primarily for home use having as functional parts electric heating elements of a total rated wattage of 2½ kilowatts or over, and which has never been used by a consumer.

(2) "Consumer" means any person who gets an electric range for installation or use, including a builder of a housing project.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person who produces or assembles new electric ranges, or who produced or assembled them during the base period.

(4) "Base period" means the twelve months period beginning July 1, 1940.

(5) "Distributor or dealer" means any person who buys new electric ranges for resale at the wholesale or retail price level.

(6) "Special order" means any purchase order or contract calling for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the U. S. Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Federal Public Housing Authority, the Home Owners Loan Corporation acting for the National Housing Agency, or any purchase order or contract covered by an export license, release certificate, or Lend-Lease requisition approved or authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration.

(c) Production of electric ranges. (1) No person shall make any new electric ranges except in models and quantities specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form CMPL-150-b. Application should be made by filing Form WPB-3700 with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which the electric ranges will be made.

(2) Manufacture of new electric ranges will be authorized so that the total production will not exceed the approved War Production Board Program and so that production in any one plant or labor requirements therefor will not interfere with war production in that plant, or in any other plant located in the same area. Wherever practical, each manufacturer will be permitted under paragraph (c) (1) to make in each calendar quarter, for other than special orders, the number of new electric ranges set forth in Table A. However, to ensure full production of approved requirements, the War Production Board may assign additional quotas to qualified manufacturers. Authorization will be given to produce for special orders without reference to base period production. In general, no single manufacturer will be authorized to produce for other than special orders, more than one model of the standard size and one model of the low oven apartment house type electric range. Approval of models will be based largely on economy of production and the volume of production of the individual models by a manufacturer during the base period. The War Production Board will, from time to time or on request of any manufacturer, give notice to all manufacturers of the total production authorized and the percentage of his base period production authorized to each individual manufacturer.

(3) Manufacturers who are unable to produce in their own plant because of interference with war production may apply to the War Production Board for authorization to have another manufacturer make electric ranges for them. Each application should be made by filing Form WPB-3700 in accordance with the applicable instructions.

(d) Relief on outstanding appeals remains in effect. The provisions of paragraph (c) do not apply to the production or assembly of electric ranges under an appeal from Order L-23-b granted by the War Production Board before May 25, 1944.

(e) Restriction on production of parts. No person shall make any parts for an electric range (including repair and replacement parts) if by making those parts he would have more parts of that type in his inventory than a three months' supply. A person, however, is not required to make less than a minimum practical run of any parts (including repair and replacement parts) in order to comply with the provisions of this paragraph.

(f) WPB may direct distribution of ranges for specified purposes. The War Production Board, on Form CMPL-150-b or otherwise, may direct a manufacturer as to the number of new electric ranges he may distribute for specified purposes such as housing projects, and may state the conditions under which he may sell and ship the electric ranges.

(g) How new electric ranges may be sold to consumers. No person may sell or deliver any new electric range to a consumer except in accordance with the rules stated below.

(1) Sales may be made to fill special orders for which production has been authorized under paragraph (c) (1).

(2) Sales may be made to a person who furnishes a certificate in substantially the following form:

I certify to the War Production Board and to the seller: I own or occupy the residence at ---------- It has the inside and outside wiring needed for an electric range, and my electric company has told me that electric service for range operation will be supplied. I do not have any electric range for this residence which can be used or repaired.

Signature of purchaser

(3) Sales may be made to fill orders for electric ranges to be installed in housing projects approved by the National Housing Agency or War Production Board under Preference Rating Order P-55-c if the purchaser endorses on his purchase order a statement substantially as follows:

This order is placed pursuant to authority granted under Order P-55-c. I have been authorized by the War Production Board or National Housing Agency to install these electric ranges in Project No. ------ located at ----------

A distributor or dealer may not deliver on such an order any new electric ranges which were not delivered to him for housing projects, unless he is advised by the manufacturer that replacements will be shipped from the inventory of electric ranges which the manufacturer has been authorized to distribute for housing projects.

(4) Sales may be made on special authorization of the War Production Board granted on Form WPB-1319. Applications should be made on this form in accordance with the instructions for its use which are obtainable at field offices of the War Production Board. This does not apply to electric ranges sold on special orders or for housing projects. The War Production Board may direct the distribution of specified quantities to any area from any manufacturer's production.

(i) Preference ratings not valid for purchase of new electric ranges. No preference rating lower than AAA shall be valid for the purchase of new electric ranges and orders bearing such preference ratings are to be treated as unrated orders.

(j) Reports. Every manufacturer producing or shipping electric ranges shall file Form WPB-1600, executed in accordance with the instructions for filing that form, with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-23-b, on or before the 15th day of July, October, January and April. This form is a report of the number of new electric ranges made and shipped during the preceding quarter.

(k) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in making electric ranges to a greater extent than this order does, the other order shall govern.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. (m) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB-1477 which should be filed in triplicate with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(n) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-23-b.

NOTE: The reporting and application requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

§ 1300.901 Definition. For the purpose of this Procedural Regulation No. 11, a general increase in the rates or charges of a common carrier or other public utility is defined as any change in its rates, fares, classifications, rules, regulations or practices which results in an increase in the charges for transportation or other public utility service applicable to a class of passengers, shippers or customers, including increases in wholesale or industrial rates or charges for public utility services, as distinguished from an increase of rates or charges applicable to a particular customer or transportation service under special arrangement.

§ 1300.902 General requirements with respect to notices. Thirty (30) days before the effective date of a general increase in the rates or charges of any common carrier or other public utility, there shall be filed with the Transportation and Public Utilities Division of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. All notices shall state the name and address of the Federal, State or municipal authority having jurisdiction over the rates or charges in question.

Each such notice shall contain a statement that the common carrier or other public utility consents to the timely intervention by the Price Administrator, or behalf of the Director of Economic Stabilization, before the Federal, State or municipal authority having jurisdiction to consider such increase.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the foods listed in Table A for wholesalers selling these food products. These new ceiling prices are to be used on and after August 5, 1943, instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA), except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars and cents ceiling prices, which has been or which may be, issued by the OPA pursuant to General Order No. 51.[3]

SEC. 2. How you determine to which class your business belongs—(a) What wholesalers are covered. Your business is classified under this regulation if, prior to the effective date of the regulation you were and still are a wholesaler, the larger part of whose food sales are of food products which you purchase for resale and distribute from your warehouse without materially changing their form, to independent retail stores, or to commercial, industrial or institutional users. This regulation does not apply, however, to "wagon wholesalers" or "flour jobbers."

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 2562, effective 3–13–44.]

(b) Classes of wholesalers. Wholesalers covered by this regulation are defined as follows:

(1) Class 1; retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler. You are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler if you are either a non-profit organization or a corporation 51 percent of the stock of which is owned by your independent retailer customers.

(2) Class 2; cash-and-carry wholesaler. You are a cash-and-carry wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, made without delivery, to independent retail stores, or if they were made with delivery you made a charge for delivery to all customers.

(3) Class 3; service wholesaler. You are a service wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, and still are made, to independent retail stores, with delivery to all customers in a base zone without charge.

(4) Class 4; institutional wholesaler. You are an institutional wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, and still are made to commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation "marine provisioners" shall be considered institutional wholesalers. (If you do business in more than one of the ways outlined above, see sections 17, 18, 19, and 20.)

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 2562, effective 3–13–44.]

[Section 2 amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective 1–8–44, and as otherwise noted.]

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container type and container size) of food listed in Table A shall be the result of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before August 5, 1943, multiplied by (2) the mark-up figure given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of food covered by this regulation which you have in stock at that time. Between July 26, 1943, and August 5, 1943, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than August 5, 1943. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before August 5, 1943, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until August 5. If you receive delivery of any item between July 26, and August 5, for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

[3] Revised: 9 F.R. 408.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item, based on its most recent delivery to you before August 5, 1943. Your "net cost" will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances, plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container size and container type.

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost of the unit in which you receive delivery (i. e. per dozen, per case, per bag, etc.) to the nearest cent.

(3) For items you "manufacture or otherwise process" use the special rules in section 16.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up figure for the item given your class of wholesaler. Table A lists all the items covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next multiply your "net cost" by the mark-up figure in Table A for your class of wholesaler for the item being priced. The resulting amount will be your ceiling price. You must not change this ceiling price unless OPA authorizes you to do so. (Section 6 tells you when you may be allowed to change it.)

(d) Fractions. All calculations of ceiling prices resulting in a fraction of a cent shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent, and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

If you sell an amount less than the unit in which you receive delivery, you must reduce your ceiling price proportionately, rounding any fraction to the next higher cent.

(e) Invoices. You must write your net cost per unit either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record.

You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the "net cost" of the unit in which you received delivery and which you used in figuring your ceiling price. The invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for "new items." (a) A "new item" is any item which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943. You must figure your ceiling price for a "new item" before selling it, following the rules in section 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery of the item to you on or after August 5, 1943.

In pricing new items it is a violation to use the "net cost" of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary quantity) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner. If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use, in figuring your ceiling price, what the "net cost" would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of an amount in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 5a. New wholesalers. If, on or after August 5, 1943, you begin to operate as a wholesaler as defined in section 2, you are subject to this regulation, and as such a new wholesaler you must figure all your ceiling prices for all sales of food items covered by this regulation in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you must figure all of your ceiling prices for sales to members as a retailer-owned cooperative (Class 1) wholesaler and are subject to all of the provisions applicable to such a wholesaler.

(b) If you are not a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler you must figure your ceiling prices in the following way:

(1) For sales to independent retail stores made without delivery, you shall use the mark-ups applicable to a cash-and-carry (Class 2) wholesaler.

(2) For sales to independent retail stores made with delivery, you shall use the mark-ups applicable to a service (Class 3) wholesaler.

(3) For sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users, you shall use the mark-ups applicable to an institutional (Class 4) wholesaler.

(c) You must figure your ceiling price for an item before selling it, in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery of an item to you on or after the date you open your place of business subject to all of the provisions covering the sales of "new items" in section 5.

(d) For sales to retail stores which are not independent retail stores, and for sales to other wholesalers, your ceiling price for any item shall be your supplier's ceiling price for such item plus transportation charges to your usual receiving point.

(e) Within 10 days after you become a new wholesaler under this section, you must notify your nearest District OPA office that you are operating under the provisions of this section.

(f) The provisions of this section may not be used by any person, who, at the opening of business on August 5, 1943, was subject to this regulation, or by any person owned or controlled by any wholesaler who at the opening of business on August 5 was subject to this regulation.

[Sec. 5a added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective 1–3–44.]

SEC. 6. When you may change a ceiling price—(a) Official notification. If OPA changes a supplier's ceiling price for an item covered by this regulation, it may direct wholesalers to refigure their ceiling prices for the item. You may not refigure your ceiling price under this paragraph until you receive written notice requiring you to do so. Ordinarily a written notice telling you to refigure your ceiling price will come to you directly from your supplier or the manufacturer. You will find it inside or attached to the carton, case or barrel containing the item, or it will be sent to you with the invoice. After actually receiving the item for the first time with such a notice, you must, before selling the item, refigure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on that first delivery. If that delivery is from another wholesaler covered by this regulation, you must use the "net cost" of the other wholesaler. You must write this new ceiling price on the invoice covering that delivery. Be sure to keep this notice attached to your invoice or other record showing the price you paid for the item. Even though you receive later shipments with the same notice you must not change your ceiling price again.

When you make a sale to a retail store at this new ceiling price, you must send with your invoice a copy of the notice received by you from your supplier if the notice is not attached to the item you are selling.

(b) Special deals. If your ceiling price for an item was based on a delivery to you at a "special deal" price, you may refigure your ceiling price when you receive your first delivery of that item after the termination of the "special deal". In refiguring your ceiling price, you must follow the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item after the termination of the "special deal".

A "special deal" price means a reduced price, in effect for an announced period of not more than 90 days, to all purchasers of the same class, which price was made for the purpose of introducing a new commodity not theretofore on the market, or resulting from offers of free goods or combination sales. No price resulting from a discount for quantity purchases shall be considered a "special deal" price.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective as to paragraph (a) 1–8–44, and as to paragraph (b) 12–29–43]

SEC. 7. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, by any stratagem, scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food item, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost, as used in section 4, would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price.

SEC. 8. Invoices and receipts. You must give each of your customers an invoice, receipt or other evidence of purchase in connection with every sale, retaining a copy for your files. Each such record you prepare and give your customer must show the date of sale, the name and address of your customer, your name and address, each food item sold, and the price you charged for it. Be sure that your description of each item shows the kind, brand, variety, container-size and container-type.

In addition, you must, on or before May 8, 1944, file with your nearest District OPA office a list of the items of canned fruits and canned vegetables you sell for which OPA regulations require processors to notify purchasers of the grade. (For example, in Maximum Price Regulation No. 306 certain items are listed by grades such as "A", "B", "C", or "Fancy", "Extra Standard" and "Standard". Each processor selling such an item must furnish the purchaser with an invoice describing the item and separately stating its grade.) The list must give your name and address, and the name of each brand and the grade thereof. If at any time the grade is changed so that it is different from the grade shown on the list, or if you offer for sale an item which you were not selling at the time you filed your list, you must, within 5 days of such change or such addition, notify your nearest District OPA office thereof.

If you sell more than one grade of any canned fruit or canned vegetable under the same brand name, you must show, on each invoice, the grade of each such item.

[Sec. 8 amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective 1–8–44 and Am. 8, 9 F.R. 3647, effective 4–8–44]

SEC. 9. Records. After July 26, 1943, you must keep for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid for each item and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation. You are required to show all your invoices and records on request of any OPA representative. You are also required to keep available for inspection by any OPA representative the records you used in determining your class. In addition, you are required, on request of any OPA representative, to furnish a written record of your ceiling price for any or all of the items covered by this regulation.

SEC. 10. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[Sec. 10 amended by Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43]

SEC. 11. Prohibitions. On and after August 5, 1943, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provision of this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 12. Dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to General Order 51,[5] fix dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for wholesalers for some or all of the food items covered by this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices and these orders may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation. If the OPA has, before the effective date of this regulation, established a ceiling price for you for an item pursuant to such an order, you shall use that as your ceiling price and shall not figure a ceiling price for the item under this regulation.

SEC. 13. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your class of wholesalers, you must, by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. In doing so, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 15260, effective 11–9–43]

(c) On and after March 13, 1944, "marine provisioners" are made subject to this regulation. If you are a "marine provisioner", you must, by the opening of business on March 13, 1944, have figured your ceiling price in accordance with sections 3 and 4 for items which you have in stock at that time. For items which you do not have in stock at that time, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with section 5. However, in doing so, you must substitute the date March 13, 1944, for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 2562, effective 3–13–44]

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 14. Additions to "net cost" for packaging. If you buy in bulk any item covered by this regulation and then package and sell it in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or Kraft bags or similar type bags on which the name and weight of the commodity and your name are stamped or printed and which are packed and sealed at a place and time other than the point and time of sale, you may add to your "net cost" whichever of the following allowances applies:

(1) 1½ cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of less than 2 pounds.

(2) 2 cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of 2 pounds or more, but less than 5 pounds.

(3) ½ cent per pound for every such bag or container with a net weight of 5 pounds or more

[Sec. 14 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10569, effective 7–27–43 and Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective 1–8–44]

SEC. 15. Purchases and sales between wholesalers. If you purchase from another wholesaler covered by this regulation, an item for which you have not previously been required to establish a ceiling price under this regulation, you must secure a written record of that wholesaler's "net cost". To get your "net cost" for the item, you will add to that wholesaler's "net cost" the transportation charges you paid (not including local trucking or local unloading) to your usual receiving point. You will multiply the resulting figure by the mark-up figure for your class of wholesaler to get your ceiling price. However, your "net cost" for an item under this section may not exceed the net cost for that item had you purchased it from the manufacturer or processor.

[Sec. 15 amended by Am. 10, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 16. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process." If you "manufacture or otherwise process" and sell at wholesale any item covered by this regulation you will determine your "net cost" or ceiling price for such an item under whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) If the item is one for which OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, but the regulation makes no provision for manufacturers selling to retailers, the lowest ceiling price under that regulation for sales delivered to your usual receiving point shall be your "net cost".

(b) If the item is one for which OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers and makes a provision for manufacturers selling to retailers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under that regulation. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up figure under this regulation.

(c) If the item is one for which OPA has not issued, or does not later issue, a regulation establishing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under the appropriate regulation covering sales of such item by manufacturers. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up figure under this regulation.

(d) If, after you have established a ceiling price for an item which you "manufacture or otherwise process", the manufacturing regulation which you used in figuring your ceiling price under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section is amended so that either (1) the manufacturer's regulation is no longer the type described in the applicable paragraph of this section or (2) the type of regulation is not changed but the prices set forth therein are changed, you must, within 5 days after the effective date of such amendment, refigure your ceiling price for the item under the applicable paragraph of this section based on the manufacturer's regulation as amended.

(e) For the purpose of this regulation you shall be considered a manufacturer of any item which you "manufacture or otherwise process" directly, or which is manufactured for you by a person to whom you supply the raw material.

SEC. 17. How a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to non-members. If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler and you sell to non-members (those retailers who have no share or interest in your ownership) your ceiling prices for your sales to non-members without delivery may be figured as a Class 2 wholesaler. If you sell and deliver to non-members, your ceiling prices for such sales may be figured as a Class 3 wholesaler, in which event you may not add to such ceiling prices the additions for delivery allowed in section 21 of this regulation.

SEC. 18. How a service wholesaler figures ceiling prices for cash-and-carry sales. If you are a service wholesaler but you also make cash-and-carry sales, you must use for such sales the mark-up figures of a cash-and-carry wholesaler if, during March 1942,

(a) You had a separate department for such sales, or

(b) You had a price list for such sales different from the price list which you used in making other sales.

SEC. 19. How a service wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users. If you are a service wholesaler and you make sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users, you may use for such sales the mark-up figures of an institutional wholesaler.

[Sec. 19 amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 17368, effective 1–8–44]

SEC. 20. How an institutional wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to retailers. If you are an institutional wholesaler but you also make sales to retail stores, your ceiling prices for such sales made without delivery must be figured as a Class 2 (cash-and-carry) wholesaler and your ceiling prices for such sales made with delivery must be figured as a Class 3 (service) wholesaler.

SEC. 21. Addition allowed for deliveries by Class 1 and Class 2 wholesalers. (a) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, or a cash-and-carry wholesaler, and you have customarily added a set amount or percentage to your sales price for delivering to retailers, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item you deliver to retailers, add to your ceiling price such set amount or percentage. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price for the item when delivered by you.

(b) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler or a cash-and-carry wholesaler and you have not customarily added a set amount or percentage to your sales price for delivering to retailers, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item you deliver to retailers, add .01 to your mark-up figure (example: If your mark-up figure is 1.06, you change it to 1.07).

SEC. 22. Addition allowed for deliveries outside of a base zone—(a) Addition allowed to retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers, service wholesalers and institutional wholesalers. (1) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler, who, during March 1942, customarily sold goods on a delivered basis in different zones at established price differentials between zones, you may, in figuring your ceiling prices for items delivered by you to such other zones, add to your "base zone" ceiling prices, the same zone differentials which you added in March 1942. The resulting figures will be your ceiling prices for items delivered by you to such other zones. (Your base zone shall be the area surrounding your warehouse in which you customarily made free deliveries.)

(2) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you may not, in figuring your ceiling prices under this section, include any addition allowed in section 21.

(3) Before using different delivered prices for different zones under this section, you must report, in writing, to the Distribution Branch, Food Price Division, OPA, Washington, D. C., the amount of such differentials and a description of your base zone and delivery zones.

(b) Additions by certain wholesalers making f. o. b. sales. If you are a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler who, during March, 1942, customarily sold f. o. b. your warehouse for delivery to zones or delivery points outside of your base zones, and

(1) If you added a freight charge when making such sales or included a freight charge in figuring your selling price, you may add to your ceiling price for each item the same charge or the same freight rate, apportioning the charge or freight rate to each item, in which case the resulting figure will be your ceiling price for the item when sold to such other zones or delivery points, or

(2) If your customer paid the freight bill, you may make such sales at your ceiling prices, the freight bill to be paid by the purchaser.

(c) Additions by certain wholesalers who did not use a zone delivery system or make f. o. b. sales. If you are a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler, who, during March 1942, customarily sold all customers on a delivered basis at the same price regardless of distance from your warehouse, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for an item delivered by you to a customer located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse, add to your mark-up figure whichever of the following amounts applies:

(1) If your customer is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from your warehouse, you may add .01 to your mark-up figure (example: If your mark-up on mayonnaise in Table A is 1.16, you change it to 1.17).

(2) If your customer is located at a distance of from 200 miles through 299 miles from your warehouse, you may add .02 to your mark-up figure.

(3) If your customer is located at a distance of from 300 miles through 399 miles from your warehouse, you may add .03 to your mark-up figure.

(4) If your customer is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from your warehouse, you may add .04 to your mark-up figure.

(5) If your method of figuring ceiling prices for items delivered to zones outside of a base zone falls within either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section, you may not use this paragraph (c) in figuring your ceiling prices for items delivered to such other zones.

SEC. 22a. Special limitations in figuring your net cost in certain cases—(a) Pineapple which you import—(1) "Net cost". If you import any item of packed pineapple, or packed pineapple juice, (other than pineapple and pineapple juice packed in the Territory of Hawaii or in Puerto Rico), your "net cost" for any such item may not in any case exceed the maximum price fixed in Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation for the item ex dock, any United States port of entry, duty paid, or ex railroad car or other type of carrier, any point of entry on the United States-Mexico border, duty paid, plus any allowable charges actually incurred in putting the items in the warehouse at port or point of entry, plus actual transportation charges from the port or point of entry to your usual receiving point.

[4] 8 F.R. 13240.

[5] Revised, 9 F.R. 408.

If, prior to May 25, 1944, you had figured a ceiling price under this regulation for any of the above items of packed pineapple or packed pineapple juice which you imported, you must refigure your ceiling price for that item in accordance with the provisions of sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item on or after May 25, 1944.

(2) Notification of changes in ceiling price. With the first delivery to retailers of any of the above items of packed pineapple or packed pineapple juice after you have figured or refigured your ceiling price for the item under the provisions of this section, you shall supply each retailer who purchases from you, with the written notice set forth below:

(Insert date)

NOTICE TO RETAILERS

Our OPA ceiling price for (describe item by kind, variety, grade, brand, container type and container size) has been changed by the Office of Price Administration. We are authorized to inform you that if you are a retailer pricing this item under Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422 or 423, you must refigure your ceiling price for this item on the first delivery of it to you, from your customary type of supplier, containing this notification on and after (insert effective date of change in ceiling price). You must refigure your ceiling price following the rules in section 6 of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422 or 423, whichever is applicable to you.

For a period of 60 days after figuring such ceiling price and with each shipment after the 60 day period to each person who has not made a purchase within that period, you must place on or attach to each invoice the written notice set forth above.

[Sec. 22a added by Am. 10, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 23. Special pricing provision for manufacturers selling some commodities at wholesale. Any person the larger part of whose business consists of the manufacturing or processing of foods but (a) his entire business in connection with a particular commodity consists of the purchase and resale of such commodity without substantially changing its form and (b) the larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to independent retail stores or to commercial, industrial or institutional users (c) may figure his ceiling price for such sales of that commodity under this regulation.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 24. How retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers may, under certain conditions, apply for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for other wholesalers. If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you may file an application for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for another class of wholesaler if you can establish:

(a) That you have customarily operated in the same manner as the other class of wholesaler, and

(b) That in 1941 you had an overall gross margin at least as high as the overall gross margin you would realize by using the mark-up figures specified in this regulation for such other class of wholesaler.

(c) Your application must set forth the following:

(1) A statement as to whether your members received dividends or other proceeds from your organization; the basis for determining the amount of such payments; the amount of such payments for the years 1941, 1942, and, if available, so far in 1943;

(2) The amount and conditions of fees, if any, paid by your members in addition to the invoice price of commodities;

(3) Your profit and loss statement for your fiscal years 1941 and 1942, and so much of 1943 as is available, and balance sheets as of the end of each such accounting period;

(4) Your percentage mark-ups over invoice cost for sales during 1941 to your members for each commodity group listed in this regulation, and if sales were made to non-members, the same information with respect to such sales;

(5) Any evidence you may be able to furnish showing the difference between your operations and functions and those of the usual retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, including a statement of any special service performed by you, any additional compensation received for such special services, and a reasonable basis for distinction or classification, if any, between you and other retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers.

(d) Such application must be filed in duplicate by July 20, 1943, with your nearest District OPA office. You may not use these requested mark-up figures until you have received specific authorization from your proper OPA office.

(e) If you filed an application under section 29 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 237,[8] and such application has been denied, you are not eligible for adjustment under this section. If your application has been allowed, you may use the mark-up figures for the class of wholesaler to which you have been adjusted and you are subject to all of the provisions of this regulation applicable to such other class of wholesaler.

(f) Applications for adjustment. Any regional office of the OPA or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this section. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[7]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5067, 5665; 8 F.R. 6173, 6174) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Revised Supplementary Order No. 9 (8 F.R. 6175) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, excepting those which expressly prohibit such applications and certain specific regulations listed in Revised Supplementary Order No. 9.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

SEC. 25. How service wholesalers may, under certain conditions, apply for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for institutional wholesalers. If you are a service wholesaler (you must consider each warehouse as a separate wholesaler), you may file an application for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for institutional wholesalers if you can establish:

(a) During your fiscal year 1941 and so far in 1943, you regularly distributed grocery products to at least 12 states; and

(b) The total gross margin on all sales made by you in your fiscal year 1941 was at least 20 percent; and

(c) You offered for sale during 1941 at least 3,500 different items of food.

(d) Your application must set forth the following:

(1) Profit and loss statements for the fiscal years 1941, 1942, and so much of 1943 as is available, and balance sheets as of the end of each such accounting period;

(2) Any evidence you may be able to furnish concerning the difference between your operations and functions and those of the usual service wholesaler, and a reasonable basis for distinction or classification between you and other service wholesalers;

(3) A list of the states to which you regularly distributed grocery products in 1941, 1942, and 1943 and an approximation of the volume of sales made by you in each of the states during 1941, 1942, and 1943; and

(4) The number of food items that you offered for sale in 1941.

(e) Such application must be filed in duplicate by June 24, 1944, with the Distribution Branch, Food Price Division, OPA, Washington, D. C. You may not use these requested mark-up figures until you have received specific authorization from such OPA office. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 10, effective 5-25-44]

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 26. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after August 5, 1943, you acquire in any way the business, assets and stock in trade of any wholesaler covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in the same establishment, and you render the same service and sell to the same class of purchaser, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you or give you all the records of his transactions before you acquired the establishment which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If, after the transfer, you fall into a class of wholesaler different from the former owner's, your ceiling prices shall be those for the class of wholesaler in which you fall. (For example: If you acquire the business, assets, and stock in trade of a service wholesaler and you decide to discontinue making deliveries, your ceiling prices must be figured as a cash-and-carry wholesaler, using as your "net cost" the same "net cost" the former owner used in fixing his ceiling prices.)

SEC. 27. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at wholesale of food covered by this regulation, if you state the tax separately, and if the tax statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 28. Export sales. The ceiling prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[9] as amended, issued by the OPA.

SEC. 29. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after August 5, 1943, supersede the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 237, Maximum Price Regulation No. 249,[10] Maximum Price Regulation No. 255,[11] the General Maximum Price Regulation,[12] and any other applicable price regulation or order issued by the OPA except any order issued pursuant to General Order No. 51,[13] with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 30. Definitions—(a) Delivery. Delivery of any item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(b) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be the warehouse at which you generally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation and from which you generally supply your customers.

(c) "Manufacture or otherwise process". "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, milling, bottling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, and other similar operations. Packaging as used in section 14 shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

(d) Independent retail store. Independent retail store shall mean one that is not one of four or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(e) "Wagon wholesaler". A "wagon wholesaler" is a wholesaler who distributes food products to retail stores or to commercial, industrial, or institutional users from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances under the supervision of driver-salesmen who make deliveries at the time and point of sale. A wholesaler is a wagon wholesaler only of the food products he sells in this way.

(f) "Marine provisioners". A "marine provisioner" is a person, the larger part of whose food sales are of food products which he purchases for resale and distributes from a warehouse, without materially changing their form, to boat and steamship companies and ship operators for the provisioning of boats and ships, with delivery from shore locations by the use of truck or launch facilities.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 2562, effective 3-13-44.]

(g) Flour jobber. "Flour jobber" shall mean a "primary distributor" as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 296,[14] and also a person the larger part of whose business is the purchase and resale of flour made from wheat, semolina and farina without additional processing and in the original containers, to bakers and commercial, institutional or Governmental users. For sales to retail stores, "flour jobbers" other than "primary distributors" must figure their ceiling prices for flour under this regulation.

[14] 8 F.R. 16262, 17375; 9 F.R. 576.

SEC. 31. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

ARTICLE V—TABLE AND COMMODITY DEFINITIONS

SEC. 32. Table of mark-up figures—(Table A.)—(a) Instructions. Table A (printed below) lists the commodities and the mark-up figures for the four classes of wholesalers covered by this regulation. For a detailed list of the items included in each category of commodities, see "Commodity definitions", printed immediately after Table A. This regulation must not be used to determine ceiling prices for the commodities listed in paragraph (c) of this section.

The commodities covered by this regulation are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table A and the four classes of wholesalers are listed across the top of Table A. To find your proper mark-up figure for any item, first determine the class of wholesaler to which you belong; then find the commodity listed at the left of Table A which includes the item you are pricing. Directly opposite, in the column for your class of wholesaler, you will find the proper mark-up figure for the item. This is the figure by which you should multiply your "net cost" in order to determine your ceiling price. Drop any fraction of a cent which is less than ½ cent; take the next higher cent if the fraction is ½ cent, or more.

For example, you are a Service (Class 3) Wholesaler, and you want to figure your ceiling price for a case of 9-oz. packages of X Brand Spaghetti which you had in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943. The amount you paid your customary type of supplier for your last purchase of a customary quantity of this item prior to August 5, 1943, was $1.75 per case after deducting all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances. In addition, you paid incoming freight, excluding local trucking charges, amounting to 9 cents per case. Your net cost is therefore $1.84 per case. Now refer to Table A. Check the list of commodities and you will find "Macaroni and spaghetti products." This category includes the item you are pricing. Directly opposite "Macaroni and spaghetti products", in the column headed "Class 3 Wholesaler", you will find the figure 1.15. Multiply your net cost by this mark-up figure; the resulting amount is $2.116. By rounding up the fraction of a cent, which is more than ½ cent, you will get your ceiling price of $2.12 per case.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 422[1] Incl. Amdts. 1-17]

CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN GROUP 3 AND GROUP 4 STORES

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 422 includes Amendment 17, effective May 25, 1944. The text added or amended by Amendment 17 is underscored. Deletions are indicated by notes.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the ceiling prices established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and comply with the requirements of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, and Executive Order No. 9328, and will effectuate the purposes of said act and Executive orders.

§ 1351.361 Ceiling prices of certain foods sold at retail in group 3 and group 4 stores. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, and Executive Order No. 9328, Maximum Price Regulation No. 422, which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all retail stores, other than "independent" retail stores, doing an annual business of less than $250,000, and for all retail stores, whether "independent" or not, doing an annual business of more than $250,000. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA) except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices which has been or which may be issued by the OPA pursuant to General Order No. 51.[3] All other retail stores (Group 1 and Group 2 stores) selling these food products are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.[4]

[3] Revised: 9 F.R. 408.

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 3 or 4 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to fresh fruits and vegetables. However, this regulation does not apply to "health food stores", or to automatic vending machines or farmers selling produce grown on their own farms.

(b) What are Group 3 and 4 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Group 3 and 4 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 3. Your store is in Group 3 if its "annual gross sales" are less than $250,000, and if it is not an "independent" store. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(2) Group 4. Your store is in Group 4 if its "annual gross sales" are $250,000 or more.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in Section 30 for figuring its "annual gross sales". See section 36 for definitions of Group 1 and 2 stores.)

(c) How to post a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation posted on a sign reading "OPA-3" or "OPA-4", whichever it is, or on a sign which the OPA may furnish to you, except that if under any order issued under General Order No. 51[5] you are allowed to post the sign of another group, you may do so. The sign must be posted so that it can be clearly seen by your customers. (The word "group" as used in this regulation means the same thing as the word "class" meant in Revised Maximum Price Regulations No. 238[6] and No. 268.[7])

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a group 4 store. If your store is a Group 3 store, you may choose to treat it as a Group 4 store and post a sign in your store as a member of that group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a Group 4 store;

(2) Use the Group 4 ceiling prices fixed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 390[8] for all the household soaps and cleansers it covers.

(3) Use all the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed under the OPA community price orders issued for Group (or Class) 4 stores in your community; and

(4) Notify your nearest OPA district office of these facts.

Dry Groceries

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before August 5, 1943, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A which you have in stock at that time. (See section 24 for an exception to this rule if you purchase an item from wholesalers.) Between July 26, 1943, and August 5, 1943, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than August 5, 1943. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before August 5, 1943, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until August 5. If you receive delivery of any item between July 26 and August 5 for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries"—(a) "Net cost." To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its most recent delivery to you before August 5, 1943. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances, plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries".

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.), to the nearest half-cent. Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel for instance, and not the cost of the package, can or other unit you sell. You must get the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost for the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(3) For items you "manufacture or otherwise process" use the special rules in section 25.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of store. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price unless OPA authorizes you to do so. (Section 6 tells you when you can change it.)

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 17, effective 5-25-44]

(d) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for "new items" of "dry groceries". A "new item" of "dry groceries" is any item of "dry groceries" which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943. You must figure and post your ceiling price for a new item before selling it, following the rules in section 4, but basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you on or after August 5, 1943. In pricing new items it is a violation to use the net cost of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary quantity) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner.

If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use in figuring your ceiling price, what the net cost would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of a quantity in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 6. When you may change a ceiling price—(a) Official notification. If OPA changes a supplier's ceiling price for an item covered by this regulation, it may direct retailers to refigure their ceiling prices for the item. You may not refigure your ceiling price under this paragraph until you receive written notice requiring you to do so. Ordinarily a written notice telling you to refigure your ceiling price will come to you directly from your supplier or the manufacturer. You will find it inside or attached to the carton, case or barrel containing the item, or it will be sent to you with the invoice. After actually receiving the item for the first time with such a notice, you must, before selling the item, refigure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on that first delivery. You must write this new ceiling price on the invoice covering that delivery. Be sure to keep this notice attached to your invoice or other record showing the price you paid for the item. Even though you received later shipments with the same notice you must not change your ceiling price again.

(b) Special deals. If your ceiling price for an item was based on a delivery to you at a "special deal" price, you may refigure your ceiling price when you receive your first delivery of that item after the termination of the "special deal". In refiguring your ceiling price, you must follow the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item after the termination of the "special deal".

A "special deal" price means a reduced price, in effect for an announced period of not more than 90 days, to all purchasers of the same class, which price was made for the purpose of introducing a new commodity not theretofore on the market, or resulting from offers of free goods or combination sales. No price resulting from a discount for quantity purchases shall be considered a "special deal" price.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17370, effective as to paragraph (a), 1–8–44; as to paragraph (b), 12–29–43]

Perishables

SEC. 7. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the week before, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after August 5, 1943, and changed on Thursday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Thursday.

For items which you receive for the first time or which you have not had in stock for 30 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Thursday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point may refigure ceiling prices for items so priced based on the net cost of deliveries received during the seven days preceding Tuesday of each week. These prices must not be put into effect until the following Thursday.

SEC. 8. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables"—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the seven day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11–9–43]

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit" (for example, 5 lbs., 1 dozen, etc.) listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Always figure net cost to the nearest half-cent.

(3) If you have received no delivery of any item which you have in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943, during the week before, you shall, in figuring your first ceiling price for the item on August 5, 1943, base your net cost on its most recent delivery to you.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table B to find the mark-up for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups, while others are dollars-and-cents additions per "selling unit" which you make to your net cost.

(c) Ceiling price—(1) Percentage mark-ups. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(2) Dollars-and-cents mark-ups. If the item has been given a dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B, instead of a percentage mark-up, do not use Table C to get your ceiling price. You will get your ceiling price for the item by adding the named dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B to your "net cost". If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the "selling unit", charge the next higher cent.

(3) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the "selling unit" results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4–27–44]

SEC. 9. Price which you must post. At all times, you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this posted price must never exceed your ceiling price.

[Sec. 9 amended by Am. 17, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 10. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any stratagem, scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 8 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the net cost of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price.

SEC. 11. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, and each food item sold and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 12. Records. After July 26, 1943, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPA representative and to furnish on request of any OPA representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPA representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point must also keep available at all times in each store a list showing the current selling price, as set at the central point, of each item so priced. These price lists must be kept in each store for one year, or, in the alternative, must be kept in each store for 30 days and thereafter for a period of eleven months in the warehouse from which the food items are delivered to the store. On request, such price lists must be shown to any OPA representative.

SEC. 13. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[9] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[Sec. 13 amended by Supplementary Order No. 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43]

SEC. 14. Prohibitions. On and after August 5, 1943, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

SEC. 15. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to General Order No. 51,[10] fix in your region or community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the "dry groceries" or "perishables" under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and those orders may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation. If the OPA has, before the effective date of this regulation, established a ceiling price for you for an item pursuant to such an order, you shall use that as your ceiling price and shall not figure a ceiling price under this regulation for the item.

SEC. 16. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your group of retailers, you must, by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. However, in doing so, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

If you have customarily made most of your purchases of any item affected from a wholesaler who is pricing under Maximum Price Regulation 421,[11] and if you still customarily purchase such item from such a wholesaler, you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of such item after the effective date of the amendment.

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11–9–43]

(c) Effective May 25, 1944, this regulation requires that the year 1943 be used as the basis for figuring your "annual gross sales" instead of the year 1942. If you find that as a result of that change your store is in a group different from the one it was in before, you must, by the opening of business on Thursday, June 15, 1944, refigure all of your ceiling prices. For "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 if you become a Group 1 or Group 2 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store becomes a Group 1 or Group 2 store, it is on and after June 15, 1944, subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 17, effective 5–25–44]

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 18. Additions for packaging. (a) If you buy in bulk any item covered by this regulation (except shell eggs) and then package and sell it in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or Kraft bags or similar type bags, on which the name and weight of the commodity and your name are stamped or printed and which are packed and sealed at a place and time other than the point and time of sale, you may add to your "net cost" whichever of the following allowances applies:

(1) 1½ cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of less than 2 pounds.

(c) Fresh fruits and vegetables. Whenever there is an order in effect in your area or community fixing ceiling prices for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables by wholesalers, your net cost may not in any case exceed the highest ceiling price fixed for wholesalers in your area or community.

SEC. 20. How you figure your "net cost" in certain cases—(a) Fresh bananas bought from importers f. o. b. port of entry, or imported directly by retailers. If you import bananas directly, or if you buy fresh bananas directly from an importer f. o. b. port of entry, figure your "net cost" by the following procedure.

First, increase the importer's maximum price per hundredweight f. o. b. port of entry (as fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 285[13]) by either $1.25 or by 29 percent, whichever is greater. To the resulting figure add the cost of getting the bananas to your usual receiving point, which may include costs you have to pay for freight, icing, heating and messenger service, but which may not include costs for local trucking or local unloading (figure your freight costs at the lowest available common carrier rates, and if you import directly, these freight costs are to be figured from the United States port of entry). Divide this total by 100 and you will get your net cost per "selling unit" (1 pound). This is the net cost you will use in figuring your ceiling prices and to which you add the mark-up in Table B for your group of stores.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44]

(b) Fresh bananas bought at auction. If you buy bananas at an auction market in New York, Philadelphia, or Baltimore, figure your cost the same way as in paragraph (a) of this section except that you can include freight costs only from the port of entry to the auction market. Costs for ferry service may not be included.

(c) Butter printed by you. If you package and print butter, you shall figure a ceiling price per pound for each resulting type of print and package and score (or grade) of butter. In figuring your ceiling price for butter of any particular score (or grade), in a print or package you shall use as your "net cost" the lowest ceiling price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 [32a] which would apply to sales of that particular score (or grade) of butter in such print or package directly by a creamery to a primary distributor delivered to the city, town, village or hamlet in which your usual receiving point is located, plus ½¢ per pound. When you perform the printing and packaging functions in a butter print division apart from your warehouse or store and then deliver the printed or packaged butter to your warehouse, the warehouse shall be considered your usual receiving point, and when it is delivered directly from the butter print division to your store, the store shall be considered your usual receiving point.

(d) Eggs candled and graded by you. If you purchase eggs in other than retail grades and sizes (or weight classes) and then candle and grade them into the retail grades and sizes (or weight classes) set forth in Table B, you shall calculate a maximum price weekly for each resulting grade and size (or weight class) using as your "net cost" the lowest ceiling price fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 333 [34] which would apply to sales to a retailer of eggs of that particular grade and size (or weight class) delivered on the Monday of the week in which calculations are made to a receiving point located in the same city, town, village or hamlet as your usual receiving point for the eggs: Provided, however, That before eggs which you grade as extra large AA may be sold as such, they must be so certified by the United States Department of Agriculture.

(e) Eggs sold by you as "ungraded eggs". If you purchase eggs in other than retail grades and sizes (or weight classes) and do not candle and grade them into the retail grades and sizes (or weight classes) set forth in Table B, you must sell them as "ungraded eggs." You shall calculate a ceiling price weekly for such eggs using as your "net cost" the lowest ceiling price established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 333 which would apply to sales to a retailer of large Grade C eggs delivered on the Monday of the week in which calculations are made to a receiving point located in the same city, town, village, or hamlet as your usual receiving point for the eggs.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10569, effective 7-27-43]

(f) White potatoes purchased by you ungraded and unsacked. If you purchase ungraded and unsacked white potatoes at a country shipping point (as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 271 [35]) and you grade and sack such potatoes, you shall figure a separate ceiling price weekly for each grade and variety, using as your "net cost" per "selling unit" the lowest ceiling price per 100 pounds fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 271 for sales by a country shipper f. o. b. country shipping point of such grade and variety, adjusted by the applicable packaging differential, during the month in which you receive delivery at your usual receiving point, plus all transportation charges you paid (except local trucking and local unloading) to your usual receiving point, divided by 100, and multiplied by 5.

(g) Dry onions purchased by you ungraded and unsacked. If you purchase ungraded and unsacked dry onions at a country shipping point (as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 271) and you grade and sack such onions, you shall figure a separate ceiling price weekly for each grade and variety, using as your "net cost" per "selling unit" the lowest ceiling price per 50 pounds fixed by Maximum Price Regulation 271 for sales by a country shipper f. o. b. country shipping point of such grade and variety, adjusted by the applicable packaging differentials, during the month in which you receive delivery at your usual receiving point, plus all transportation charges you paid (except local trucking and local unloading) to your usual receiving point, divided by 50 and multiplied by 3.

[Paragraphs (f) and (g) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 12610, effective 9-11-43]

(h) Citrus fruits purchased by you ungraded, unsized and unpacked. If you purchase ungraded, unsized and unpacked citrus fruits and you grade, size and pack such citrus fruits, you shall figure on such purchases a separate ceiling price weekly for each variety, and size, and fruit from different areas, using as the basis of your "net cost" for each variety, and size, and fruit from different areas, the lowest ceiling price fixed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 292 [36] for sales by a packer of such variety, size, and fruit in the type of container in which each item is packed, in effect at the time when you receive delivery at your usual receiving point, plus all transportation charges you paid (except local trucking and local unloading) to your usual receiving point. To get your ceiling price, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of the "selling unit", and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 8.

[Paragraph (h) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11-9-43]

(i) Poultry bought live or dressed and sold drawn. If you buy poultry live or dressed, and you draw or eviscerate said poultry, you shall figure your ceiling price for such drawn or eviscerated poultry as though you had bought it drawn, using as your "net cost" the lowest ceiling price fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 269 [37] which would apply to sales to you by your customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point of a similar item of drawn poultry during the week in which you are figuring your ceiling price for the item. To that "net cost" you shall apply the mark-up applicable to that kind of poultry bought drawn and sold drawn. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price per pound of drawn weight.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17370, effective 1-8-44]

(j) Poultry bought live, dressed or drawn and sold in parts—(1) "Cut-up poultry". If you buy poultry live, dressed or drawn, and you sell such poultry in parts which are "cut-up poultry" as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, you shall figure your ceiling price for each item of such "cut-up poultry" as though you had bought it "cut-up", using as your "net cost" per pound the lowest ceiling price per pound fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, which would apply to sales to you by your customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point, of such "cut-up poultry" items during the week in which you are figuring your ceiling price for the item. To that "net cost", you shall apply the mark-up applicable to that kind of poultry bought cut-up and sold cut-up. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price per pound for that item of "cut-up poultry".

(2) Poultry other than "cut-up poultry". If you buy poultry live, dressed or drawn and you sell such poultry in parts (other than split, or in quarters) which are not "cut-up poultry" as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, you shall figure a separate ceiling price for each of such parts. You must use as your "net cost" per pound for each of such parts the lowest ceiling price per pound fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269 which would apply to sales to you by your customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point, of such part, during the week in which you are figuring your ceiling price for the item. To that "net cost", you shall apply the mark-up applicable to that kind of poultry bought cut-up and sold cut-up. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price per pound for such parts.

[Paragraph (j) added by Am. 12, 9 F.R. 3510, effective 4-8-44.]

(k) Coconuts imported by you. If you import coconuts, your "net cost" per pound may not exceed the ceiling price per pound ex dock any United States port of entry duty paid, as fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 505 [38] for sales by importers, plus transportation charges paid by you (except local trucking or local unloading) from the United States port of entry to your usual receiving point.

(l) Pineapple which you import. If you import any item of packed pineapple, or packed pineapple juice, (other than pineapple and pineapple juice packed in the Territory of Hawaii or Puerto Rico), your "net cost" for any such item may not in any case exceed the maximum price fixed in Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation for the item ex dock, any United States port of entry, duty paid, or ex railroad car or other type of carrier, any point of entry on the United States-Mexico border, duty paid, plus any allowable charges actually incurred in putting the items in the warehouse at port or point of entry, plus actual transportation charges from the port or point of entry to your usual receiving point.

If, prior to May 25, 1944, you had figured a ceiling price under this regulation for any of the above items of packed pineapple or packed pineapple juice which you imported, you must refigure your ceiling price for that item in accordance with the provisions of sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item on or after May 25, 1944.

[Paragraph (l) added by Am. 17, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 21. Additional charges allowed for slaughtering and plucking poultry. You may add to your ceiling prices for poultry established by this regulation whichever of the following amounts apply.

(a) 10¢ for a bird killed in accordance with the Hebraic dietary laws, if such killing was done by your employee, or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by you.

(b) 10¢ for plucking a bird which you buy live and sell live, or buy kosher-killed and sell kosher-killed, if such plucking is done by your employee or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by you.

SEC. 22. Additions for delivery from your warehouse to your store. If your store is located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse which is your usual receiving point, you may, in determining your ceiling price for an item delivered from the warehouse to your store, use whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) In the case of percentage mark-ups. Where a percentage mark-up is given for the item:

(1) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1 to your mark-up figure. (Example: If your mark-up figure on sugar in Table A is 7 percent, you change it to 8 percent.)

(2) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2 to your mark-up figure.

(3) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3 to your mark-up figure.

(4) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4 to your mark-up figure.

(b) In the case of dollars-and-cents mark-ups. Where a dollars-and-cents mark-up is given for the item:

(1) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1 percent to the cost of the delivery or deliveries on which your net cost per "selling unit" is based. You must then figure the "net cost" on the basis of the "selling unit", in accordance with the rules in section 8. (Example: If you are figuring your ceiling price for green peas and your largest delivery during the preceding week was of 5 bushel baskets at $3.00 per basket, you may add 1 percent, that is, $0.15, to the $15.00 cost, and then reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of one pound, the "selling unit" for green peas.)

(2) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

(3) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

(4) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

[Sec. 22 amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44]

SEC. 23. How you may figure your ceiling prices for "perishables" on a weighted average basis. Section 7 of this regulation requires you to use in figuring your ceiling price for "perishables" the net cost of the largest delivery to you in the seven day period before the Thursday (or Tuesday for stores which price from a central point) for which you are figuring your price. If you desire to figure your ceiling prices for all items of "perishables" by using for each item, instead of the net cost of the largest delivery during this seven day period, the weighted average net cost of all deliveries of it to you during this seven day period, you may do so. However, you must apply in writing to the nearest district OPA office for permission. After receiving such permission, you may not use the net cost of the largest delivery during the seven day period to figure your ceiling price for any of the "perishables" listed in Table B. However, you shall continue to use all other provisions of section 8 in figuring your ceiling prices for these items.

SEC. 24 How you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries" you purchase from wholesalers. If you have customarily made most of your purchases of any item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A from a wholesaler who is now pricing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, you may, if you still customarily purchase that item from such a wholesaler, figure your ceiling price for that item on the basis of the "net cost" of your first purchase after August 5, 1943, instead of your most recent purchase before August 5, 1943, as required by section 4. Such ceiling price shall not be changed except as required by section 6. Until you make such a purchase you shall keep your present ceiling price.

SEC. 25. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process". If you "manufacture or otherwise process" and sell at retail any item covered by this regulation, you will figure you "net cost" or ceiling price for such item under whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) If the item is one for which the OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, but the regulation makes no provision for manufacturers selling at retail, the lowest ceiling price under that regulation for sales delivered to your usual receiving point shall be your "net cost".

(b) If the item is one for which the OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers and makes a provision for manufacturers selling at retail, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under that regulation. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under this regulation.

(c) If the item is one for which the OPA has not issued, or does not later issue, a regulation establishing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under the appropriate regulation covering the sales of such item by manufacturers. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under his regulation.

(d) If, after you have established a ceiling price for an item which you "manufacture or otherwise process", the manufacturer's regulation which you used in figuring your ceiling price under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section is amended so that either (1) the manufacturer's regulation is no longer the type described in the applicable paragraph of this section or (2) the type of regulation is not changed but the prices

Sales or transfers from separate warehouses shall be considered as separate transfers.

SEC. 26. Mail order sales. When you make mail order sales, you may add to your ceiling prices determined under this regulation your actual express or mailing expense to the buyer's address.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 27. How you may, under certain conditions, apply to use Group 1 mark-ups. (a) If your store meets the gross margin requirements specified in this section and does business in the manner outlined below, you may apply under paragraph (b) of this section to use the mark-ups provided in Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 for Group 1 stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your grocery department are made by sales clerks who assist customers in selecting, collecting, and wrapping merchandise;

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service;

(3) The general level of your prices for grocery products was during September 1942 at least as high as the level maintained by Group 1 stores, and was generally higher than that maintained by Group 3 and 4 stores, for such products in your community; and

(4) The total gross margin in your fiscal year 1941 was more than 25% on all sales in your food departments and also, if you are not an "independent" store, more than 25% on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores in your organization. Do not count a restaurant as a food department. If not in business in 1941, use your most recent fiscal year (or fiscal period, if not in business a full fiscal year).

(b) Your application must be filed in duplicate on or before June 24, 1944, with your nearest District OPA office on a form which you may get from that office. You may combine on one form the applications of more than one of your stores. If your application is finally approved, OPA will tell you when to begin using the Group 1 mark-ups, and from such time on you shall post a sign in your store designating it as a "Group 1" store, and it shall be considered a Group 1 store for all orders issued under Revised General Order No. 51[19] and for the purpose of all "special pricing provisions" contained in Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

(c) If you filed an application under section 26 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238 or section 25 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268 and such application has been denied, you are not eligible for adjustment under this section. If your application has been allowed, you may use the mark-ups for a Group 1 store in Tables A and B of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 and may consider your store a Group 1 store for the purpose of all "special pricing provisions" contained in that regulation and you must post a Group 1 sign, but you are subject to all other provisions of this regulation.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) amended by Am. 17, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 28. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for mark-up adjustments. If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with your nearest district OPA office two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry; service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

SEC. 29. Applications for adjustment. Any Regional Office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation, and may deny any application filed under section 27 or revoke any order granting adjustment under that section if denial of such application would not cause the applicant a substantial financial hardship. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[20]

[Sec. 29 as amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11-9-43]

SEC. 29a. Regional adjustment of poultry mark-ups. Each Regional Administrator of the OPA is hereby authorized to reduce the mark-ups listed in Table B in section 39 (a) for retailers in any area or locality within his jurisdiction for sales of any poultry items in connection with adjustments made pursuant to § 1429.14 (e) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, whenever such action is necessary to prevent an increase in the ceiling prices at which such poultry items may be sold by retailers.

[Sec. 29a added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10569, effective 7-27-43]

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 30. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales", take your total sales for the calendar year 1943. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. Return to get your gross sales for all or You can use your Federal Income Tax part of the calendar year 1943 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1943, you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to May 25, 1944, by the number of weeks you were in business. This will get you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales".

[Sec. 30 amended by Am. 17, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 31. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store.

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after May 25, 1944, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store, and you must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 1 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 423). However, after you have been in business for 3 months you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

If you find that your store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 or 3 mark-ups until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for your new group. For "dry grocery" items use the same "net cost" which you used in figuring your ceiling prices in effect at the end of the 3-month period. For "perishable" items, you shall use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8. If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Thursday, you shall use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

(d) Discontinuance of stores. (1) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores so that you now have less than 4 stores under one ownership, you may find your group for each of the remaining stores by determining the "annual gross sales" under section 30 (a), treating each store as an "independent" store.

(2) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores, but 4 or more stores continue under one ownership, you may refigure the combined "annual gross sales" under section 30 (a) for those remaining in operation. If the combined "annual gross sales" are not $500,000 or more, you may then determine your group for each store, treating each as an "independent" store.

(3) If you find that any store is now in another group, you may refigure all of your ceiling prices for that store before the opening of business on any Thursday. For "dry grocery" items, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation if a Group 4 store (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 if a Group 1 or Group 2 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store is now in Group 1 or Group 2, it is subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 9, 8 F.R. 15607, effective 11-20-43]

SEC. 32. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 33. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after August 5, 1943, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailer to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 34. Export sales. The ceiling prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [21] issued by the OPA.

(b) Instructions for use of Table A, Table B, and Table C. Tables A and B contain the mark-ups for all commodities in this regulation. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups and some are dollars-and-cents mark-ups. Table C is included to assist you in determining ceiling prices without burdensome calculations, where the mark-up given is a percentage mark-up.

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 3 and Group 4 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables". However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables". For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and "Commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find either a percentage mark-up or a dollars-and-cents mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to Table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items with per unit net costs ranging from ½¢ to 50¢. Percentage mark-ups over net cost are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc.). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the last column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table C, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item.

If your net cost per unit is more than 50¢, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

If the mark-up specified for an item is a dollars-and-cents mark-up, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you simply add the stated amount of mark-up to your "net cost". If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the "selling unit", charge the next higher cent.

Example (1). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "XX" Brand, No. 2 can tomatoes, 1942 pack, which he must put into effect by August 5, 1943, in accordance with section 3. His most recent purchase of a customary quantity of this item from a customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point was a carload purchased from a packer and delivered at a cost of $2.00 a case (24 cans) on July 20, 1943. He must first figure, to the nearest half-cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis (sec. 4 (a) (2)), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $2.00, by the number of single units in the case, 24, and gets a result of $0.0833, before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half-cent, this becomes $0.085. (If the figure had been $0.0821 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.080.) He then turns to Table A to find the mark-up to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned tomatoes this group is "Corn, green and wax beans, peas, tomatoes, and tomato juice, canned". Going across the page on that line, he will find his mark-up for the item in the column for Group 3 retailers. In this case, his mark-up is 21 percent. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he will find a column headed by his net cost, $0.085. Going down this $0.085 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as his percentage mark-up of 21 percent listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 10 cents per can.

Example (2). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure a ceiling price for California yellow globe dry onions, U. S. #1, which he must use during the period, August 19, 1943, (Thursday) to August 26, 1943 (Wednesday), inclusive. He must first find the net cost of his selling unit based on his largest purchase during the seven days preceding Thursday, August 19. During the preceding week he made a purchase of 250 bags of 50 pounds each of California yellow globe dry onions, U. S. #1, at a delivered cost of $2.98 per bag, a purchase of 150 bags of the same grade and variety of onions at a delivered cost of $3.02 a bag, and another purchase of the same item of 200 bags at a delivered cost of $2.97 a bag. His largest purchase, therefore, was the purchase of the 250 bags. He must figure his net cost on the basis of the selling unit listed in Table B, which for onions is 3 pounds. He divides his cost per 50-pound bag in his largest purchase, $2.98, by 50, to get a result of $0.0596, which would be his cost per pound. Multiplying this by 3 he gets, before rounding, a figure of $0.1788, his cost for 3 pounds. Since net cost is to be figured to the nearest half-cent, he would then round this figure to $0.180. Having his net cost and his mark-up (obtained from Table B) he finds his ceiling price in Table C in the same way as he did in Example (1) above. Going to Table C, he will find that 25 cents is the ceiling price for an item with a net cost of $0.180 and a mark-up of 40 percent.

Example (3). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure his ceiling price for California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th. His largest purchase during the preceding week was a purchase of ten bushel baskets at $4.05 per basket. His selling unit for green peas, given in Table B, is 1 pound. He therefore divides his cost per basket ($4.05) in his largest purchase during the preceding week, by 28 (the minimum net weight of a bushel basket of green peas). This results in $0.144, which is rounded to 14½ cents. He then looks in Table B for the mark-up for green peas, which is $0.050. This mark-up, 5 cents, added to the net cost per selling unit of 1 pound, 14½ cents, gives him 19½ cents. Therefore his ceiling price per pound of California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th is 19½ cents. In selling 1 pound, he may charge 20 cents. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 39 cents (2×19½¢).

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all "independent" retail stores doing an annual business of under $250,000. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA), except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices which has been or which may be issued by the OPA pursuant to General Order No. 51.[1] All other retail stores (Group 3 and Group 4 stores) selling these food products are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.[2]

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 1 or 2 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to fresh fruits and vegetables. However, this regulation does not apply to "health food stores", or to automatic vending machines or farmers selling produce grown on their own farms.

(b) What are Group 1 and 2 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Group 1 and 2 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 1. Your store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of less than $50,000. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(2) Group 2. Your store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of $50,000 or more, but less than $250,000.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in section 20 for figuring the "annual gross sales" of your store. See section 25 for definitions of Group 3 and Group 4 retailers.)

(c) How to post a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation posted on a sign reading "OPA–1" or "OPA–2", whichever it is, or on a sign which the OPA may furnish to you. The sign must be posted so that it can be clearly seen by your customers. (The word "Group" as used in this regulation means the same thing as the word "Class" meant in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238[1] and in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268.[2]

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a Group 3 or 4 store. You may choose to treat your store as either a Group 3 or Group 4 store under Maximum Price Regulation 422 and post a sign in your store as a member of such other group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a member of the group you choose;

(2) Use the ceiling prices fixed for that group in Maximum Price Regulation No. 390[3] for all the household soaps and household cleansers it covers;

(3) Use the ceiling prices for "Group 3 and 4" stores fixed in Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 336[4] and 355[5] for all the meat items they cover;

(4) Use all the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed under the OPA community price orders issued for stores in the group you choose; and

(5) Notify your nearest OPA District Office of these facts.

Dry Groceries

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you have to pay for the first delivery to you of the item on or after August 5, 1943, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries." You must figure and put into effect a new ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A not later than 5 days after receiving the first delivery of the item on or after August 5, 1943. Until then keep your present ceiling prices. Figure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries"—(a) Old prices. Keep your old ceiling price until you put into effect your new ceiling price based on the first delivery of the item to you on or after August 5, 1943. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries".

(b) Net cost. To figure your new ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its first delivery to you on or after August 5, 1943. Your net cost will be the amount you pay your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment plus all transportation charges you pay except local trucking and local unloading.

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. If the first delivery of an item to you on or after August 5, 1943, is not one of this type, you shall not use the net cost of that purchase as the basis for figuring your ceiling price. Instead, in that case, you must find out what your net cost would have been if that purchase had been of a customary quantity from your customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery, and use that figure as your net cost in figuring your ceiling price for the item. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.) to the nearest half-cent. Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel for instance, and not the cost of the package, can, or other unit you sell. Find the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost for the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(c) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of stores. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(d) Ceiling prices. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price unless OPA authorizes you to do so. (Section 6 tells you when you can change it.)

(e) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for items of "dry groceries" not kept in stock. If you have already figured a ceiling price under this regulation for an item of "dry groceries" which you have not had in stock for 60 days, you may, if you wish, figure a new ceiling price when next you purchase it. Do this by following directions in section 4, using, however, the "net cost" you had to pay for your new purchase.

SEC. 6. When you may change a ceiling price—(a) Official notification. If OPA changes a supplier's ceiling price for an item covered by this regulation, it may direct retailers to refigure their ceiling prices for the item. You may not refigure your ceiling price under this paragraph until you receive written notice requiring you to do so. Ordinarily a written notice telling you to refigure your ceiling price will come to you directly from your supplier or the manufacturer. You will find it inside or attached to the carton, case or barrel containing the item, or it will be sent to you with the invoice. After actually receiving the item for the first time with such a notice, you must, before selling the item, refigure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on that first delivery. You must write this new ceiling price on the invoice covering that delivery. Be sure to keep this notice attached to your invoice or other record showing the price you paid for the item. Even though you received later shipments with the same notice you must not change your ceiling price again.

(b) Special deals. If your ceiling price for an item was based on a delivery to you at a "special deal" price, you may refigure your ceiling price when you receive your first delivery of that item after the termination of the "special deal". In refiguring your ceiling price, you must follow the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item after the termination of the "special deal".

A "special deal" price means a reduced price, in effect for an announced period of not more than 90 days, to all purchasers of the same class, which price was made for the purpose of introducing a new commodity not theretofore on the market, or resulting from offers of free goods or combination sales. No price resulting from a discount for quantity purchases shall be considered a "special deal" price.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 17371, effective 1-8-44, except that paragraph (b) shall be effective 12-29-43]

Perishables

SEC. 7. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables" — (a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the week before, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after August 5, 1943, and changed on Thursday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Thursday.

For items which you receive for the first time or which you have not had in stock for 30 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Thursday after that you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

SEC. 8. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables"—(a) "Net cost". To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the seven day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases delivered to your usual receiving point.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit" (for example, 5 lbs., 1 dozen, etc.) listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Always figure net cost to the nearest half cent.

(3) If you have received no delivery of any item which you have in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943, during the week before, you shall, in figuring your first ceiling price for the item on August 5, 1943, base your net cost on its most recent delivery to you.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table B to find the mark-up for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups, while others are dollars-and-cents additions per "selling unit" which you make to your net cost.

(c) Ceiling price—(1) Percentage mark-ups. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(2) Dollars-and-cents mark-ups. If the item has been given a dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B, instead of a percentage mark-up, do not use Table C to get your ceiling price. You will get your ceiling price for the item by adding the named dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B to your "net cost". If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the "selling unit", charge the next higher cent.

(3) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. (For example, if your ceiling price for an item of potatoes is 20 cents for 5 pounds, the "selling unit", and you make a sale of 3 pounds of these potatoes, take three-fifths of your ceiling price for 5 pounds, 20 cents, and the resulting figure of 12 cents would be your ceiling price for the 3-pound sale. If you make a sale of 10 pounds, multiply 20 cents by 2, and the resulting figure of 40 cents would be your ceiling price for the 10-pound sale.) If figuring a price for a quantity different from the "selling unit" results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent.

SEC. 9. Price which you must post. At all times you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this posted price must never exceed your ceiling price.

[Sec. 9 amended by Am. 18, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 10. Additions allowed for deliveries made by you to your customers. (a) If you deliver to your customers' homes or places of business any of the items covered by this regulation, you may add to the total value of the delivery, as a separate charge, whichever of the following amounts applies:

Value of delivery:	Addition allowed
$0.00–$1.99	No addition
$2.00–$2.99	10¢
$3.00–$4.49	15¢
$4.50–$5.49	20¢
Over $5.49	25¢

(b) If you make such deliveries and add such charges, you are required to keep for one month a copy of each sales slip or invoice, itemizing clearly your prices for the items delivered and the amount of the delivery charges permitted under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 11. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any stratagem, scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You must not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 8 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the "net cost" of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price.

SEC. 12. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, each food item sold and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 13. Records. After August 5, 1943, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPA representative and to furnish on request of any OPA representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPA representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[10] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[Sec. 14 amended by Supplementary Order No. 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10-1-43]

SEC. 15. Prohibitions. On and after August 5, 1943, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 16. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to General Order No. 51,[11] fix in your region or community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the dry groceries or perishables under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and these orders may also provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation, you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation. If the OPA has, before the effective date of this regulation, established a ceiling price for you for an item pursuant to such an order, you shall use that as your ceiling price and shall not figure a ceiling price under this regulation for the item.

SEC. 17. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your group of retailers, you must refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of such items after the effective date of the amendment.

[Paragraph (a) and (b) added by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 15252, effective 11-9-43]

(c) Effective May 25, 1944, this regulation requires that the year 1943 be used as the basis for figuring your "annual gross sales" instead of the year 1942. If you find that, as a result of that change, your store is in a group different from the one it was in before, you must, by the opening of business on Thursday, June 15, 1944, refigure all of your ceiling prices. For "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 if you become a Group 3 or Group 4 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store becomes a Group 3 or Group 4 store, it is on and after June 15, 1944, subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 18, effective 5-25-44]

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 18. Sections in Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 which you must use if they apply to your method of doing business. Maximum Price Regulation No. 422, which covers the same food items as this regulation, but for Group 3 and 4 stores, contains a number of special pricing provisions which you are required to follow if you perform the operations they cover. (You may obtain a copy of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 from your nearest OPA District Office.) The sections of that regulation which you must follow if they apply to you are as follows:

(a) SECTION 18. Additions for packaging. (Applies to you if you package any item under this regulation in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or certain Kraft bags or similar type bags, or if you carton eggs.)

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 17371, effective 1-8-44]

(b) Section 19. Special limitations in figuring your "net cost" in certain cases. (Applies to you if you purchase butter or cheese f. o. b. shipping point and not on a delivered basis, and if you buy fresh fruits and vegetables from others than wholesalers.)

(c) Section 20. How you figure your "net cost" in certain cases. (Applies to you if you import fresh bananas or purchase fresh bananas from importers f. o. b. port of entry or at auction; if you package and print butter; if you candle and grade eggs; if you sell "ungraded eggs"; if you purchase white potatoes or dry onions ungraded and unsacked; if you purchase ungraded, unsized and unpacked citrus fruits and you grade, size and pack such citrus fruits; if you buy poultry live or dressed, and you sell it drawn; if you buy poultry live, dressed or drawn and sell it cut-up or in parts; if you import cocoanuts; or if you import packed pineapple, or packed pineapple juice, other than pineapple juice packed in the Territory of Hawaii or in Puerto Rico.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10570, effective 8-5-43; Am. 4, 8 F.R. 12611, effective 9-11-43; Am. 7, 8 F.R. 15252, effective 11-9-43; Am. 11, 8 F.R. 17371, effective 1-8-44; Am. 13, 9 F.R. 3510, effective 4-6-44; Am. 16, 9 F.R. 4217, effective 4-27-44; and Am. 18, effective 5-25-44]

(d) Section 21. Additional charges allowed for slaughtering and plucking poultry. (Applies to you if you slaughter or pluck poultry for your customers.)

(e) Section 22. Additions for delivery from your warehouse to your store. (Applies to you if your usual receiving point is a warehouse over 125 miles from your store.)

(f) Section 23. How you figure your ceiling prices for perishables on a weighted average basis. (Allows you to apply to use a weekly weighted average as a basis for figuring net cost of perishables instead of the largest single delivery.)

(g) Section 25. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process." (Applies to you if you manufacture or process any of the foods covered by this regulation.)

(h) Section 26. Mail order sales. (Applies to you if you make mail order sales.)

(i) Section 34. Export sales. (Applies to you if you make export sales.)

[Paragraph (j) added by Am. 12, 9 F.R. 95, effective 12-31-43]

SEC. 18a. How you figure ceiling prices for items if you are also a wholesaler and receive such items from a warehouse owned or controlled by you. (a) If, prior to March 1942, you owned or controlled a warehouse physically separate and apart from your retail store, and you acted as a wholesaler distributing from such warehouse, food products to independent retail stores not owned or controlled by you, and you still own or control such a warehouse, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item customarily obtained by you from such warehouse and sold by you from your retail store to the ultimate consumer other than commercial, industrial or institutional users, use as the basis of your "net costs", the net cost you used in figuring your ceiling prices for your wholesale sales under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421,[12] plus the mark-up allowed in that regulation for a Class 1 (retailer-owned cooperative) wholesaler. To get your ceiling prices, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of a single unit and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 4.

(b) For any item so obtained for which you have already figured a ceiling price under this regulation, you must refigure your ceiling price on or before October 14, 1943, using as the basis of your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your present ceiling prices for your wholesale sales under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, plus the mark-up allowed in that regulation for a Class 1 (retailer-owned cooperative) wholesaler. To get your ceiling price, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of a single unit and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 4.

(c) Within 10 days after you first figure your prices in accordance with the provisions of this section, you must notify your nearest district office in writing that you have so figured your prices.

[Sec. 18a added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 13294, effective 10-4-43]

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 19. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for mark-up adjustments. (a) If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with your nearest District OPA office two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry; service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

(b) Any Regional Office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulaton No. 1."

SEC. 19a. Regional adjustment of poultry mark-ups. Each Regional Administrator of the OPA is hereby authorized to reduce the mark-ups listed in Table B in section 28 (a) for retailers in any area or locality within his jurisdiction for sales of any poultry items in connection with adjustments made pursuant to § 1429.14 (e) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269," whenever such action is necessary to prevent an increase in the ceiling prices at which such poultry items may be sold by retailers.

[Sec. 19a added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10570, effective 8–5–43]

SEC. 20. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales", take your total sales for the calendar year 1943. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1943 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1943, you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to May 25, 1944, by the number of weeks you were in business. This will get you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales".

[Sec. 20 amended by Am. 18, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 21. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store.

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after May 25, 1944, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store, and you must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 3 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.) However, after you have been in business for 3 months, you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales in the new store for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

Furthermore, if by reason of the new store you now are one of 4 or more stores under one ownership, you must at the end of the 3-month period refigure the combined "annual gross sales" for all your stores. If the combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more, all of your stores must then be considered as Group 3 or Group 4 stores. You may continue to use the existing ceiling prices in each store until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all of your ceiling prices in each store, using the mark-ups for its proper group.

If you find that only the new store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 mark-ups until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for the new group in which this store falls.

In refiguring your ceiling prices as required above, for "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable items", you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation if a Group 1 store (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 if a Group 3 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Thursday, you shall use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 15608, effective 11–20–43; and Am. 18, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 22. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation, if you state the tax separately, and if the tax statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 23. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after August 5, 1943, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail store to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailers to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 24. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 423, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after August 5, 1943, supersede the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238, Maximum Price Regulation No. 250,[14] Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 256,[15] Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268, the General Maximum Price Regulation," and any other applicable price regulation or order issued by the OPA except any order issued pursuant to General Order 51," with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 25. Definitions—(a) Retail route seller. A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(b) Health food stores. A "health food store" is one whose sales to consumers consist principally of especially prepared vitamin-enriched foods customarily included in the trade term "health foods" which are usually sold for special dietary purposes.

(c) Delivery. Delivery of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(d) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(e) Item. You must determine a separate ceiling price for each item; that is, for each kind, brand, size, variety, grade, container-type, and container-size, except for fresh fruits and vegetables. Separate fresh fruit and vegetable items shall be those defined as separate in the definitions accompanying Table B.

(f) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, bottling, milling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, and other similar operations.

Packaging as referred to in section 18, ripening of bananas, printing of butter, candling and grading of eggs, and killing and dressing of poultry shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

(g) Group 3 retailer. A retailer is in Group 3 if he has an "annual gross sales" of less than $250,000 and he is not an "independent" retailer.

(h) Group 4 retailer. A retailer is in Group 4, whether "independent" or not, if he has an "annual gross sales" of $250,000 or more.

SEC. 26. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(b) Instructions for use of Table A, Table B, and Table C. Tables A and B contain the mark-ups for all commodities in this regulation. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups and some are dollars-and-cents mark-ups. Table C is included to assist you in determining ceiling prices without burdensome calculations, where the mark-up given is a percentage mark-up.

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 1 and Group 2 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables." However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables". For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and "Commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find either a percentage mark-up or a dollars-and-cents mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to Table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items with per unit net costs ranging from ½¢ to 50¢. Percentage mark-ups over net costs are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc.). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the last column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table C, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item.

If your net cost per unit is more than 50¢, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

If the mark-up specified for an item is a dollars-and-cents mark-up, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you simply add the stated amount of mark-up to your "net cost". If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the "selling unit", charge the next higher cent.

Example 1. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "XX" Brand, No. 2 can, golden bantam cream style corn, 1942 pack. Section 3 requires a Group 1 or 2 retailer to keep his present ceiling price for a "dry grocery" item until he puts into effect a new ceiling price for the item based on the first delivery of the item to him after August 5, 1943. This new ceiling price must be put into effect not later than 5 days after receiving such delivery. In figuring this new ceiling price, his "net cost" must be based on a purchase of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to his "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Therefore, if on August 7, 1943, a Group 1 retailer receives at his usual receiving point 5 cases of "XX" Brand, No. 2 can, golden bantam cream style corn, 1942 pack, which he has purchased from a wholesaler (his customary type of supplier), at a delivered cost of $2.37 a case (24 cans) he must under Sections 3 and 4 figure and put into effect a new ceiling price for the item by August 12, 1943. This is the first delivery of a customary quantity of the item he has received since August 5, 1943 (from his customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery). He must first figure, to the nearest half-cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis, Sec. 4 (b) (2), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $2.37, by the number of single units in the case, 24, and gets a result of $0.0987, before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half-cent, this becomes $0.10. (If the figure had been $0.0967 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.095.)

He then turns to Table A to find the mark-up to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned corn, this group is "Corn, green and wax beans, peas, tomatoes, and tomato juice, canned". Going across the page on that line, he will find his mark-up for the item in the column for Group 1 retailers. In this case his mark-up is 25%. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he will find a column headed by his net cost, $0.10. Going down this $0.10 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as the 25% mark-up listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 13¢ per can.

Example 2. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure a ceiling price for round white potatoes to use during the period August 19, 1943, (Thursday) to August 26, 1943, (Wednesday) inclusive. He must first find the net cost of his selling unit based on his largest purchase during the seven days preceding Thursday, August 19. During the preceding week he made a purchase of 3 bags of 100 pounds each of white round U. S. No. 1 potatoes at a delivered cost of $4.12 per bag, and another purchase of the same item of 1 bag at a delivered cost of $4.33 per bag. His largest purchase, therefore, was the purchase of the 3 bags. He must figure his net cost on the basis of the selling unit listed in Table B, which for potatoes is 5 pounds. He divides his net cost per 100 pound bag in his largest purchase, $4.12, by 100 to get a result of $0.0412, which would be his net cost per pound. Multiplying this by 5 he gets, before rounding, a figure of $0.2060, his cost for 5 pounds. Since net cost is to be figured to the nearest half-cent, he would then round this figure to $.205. Having his net cost and his mark-up (obtained from Table B) he finds his ceiling price in Table C the same way as he did in example (1) above. Going to Table C, he will find that 27 cents is the ceiling price for an item with a net cost of $.205 and a mark-up of 33 percent.

Example 3. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure his ceiling price for California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th. His largest purchase during the preceding week was a purchase of ten bushel baskets at $4.45 per basket. His selling unit for peas, given in Table B, is 1 pound. He therefore divides his cost per basket ($4.45) in his largest purchase during the preceding week, by 28 (the minimum net weight of a bushel basket of green peas). This results in $0.158, which is rounded to 16 cents. He then looks in Table B for the mark-up for green peas, which is $0.05½. This mark-up, 5½ cents, added to the net cost per selling unit of 1 pound, 16 cents, gives him 21½ cents. Therefore, his ceiling price per pound of California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th is 21½ cents. In selling 1 pound, he may charge 22 cents. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 43 cents (2 x 21½¢).

§ 1315.509 Recognition as a dealer for purpose of acquiring new passenger tires or tubes from manufacturers without certificates. (a) A person who held no tires or tubes for resale on May 31, 1944, who intends in good faith to become a dealer and who wishes to acquire an initial inventory of passenger tires or tubes from a manufacturer under § 1315.804 (j), may apply by letter to the District Director serving the area in which his establishment is located for recognition as a dealer. He shall declare in a letter to the District Director that he possesses premises at which he intends to hold for resale all tires and tubes which he may acquire under § 1315.804 (j), on replenishment portions of certificates or receipts or on authorization. He shall also state in the letter the location of such premises.

(iii) From a manufacturer to a manufacturer.

(2) Application for authorization to make any transfer permitted in subparagraph (1) shall be made by the transferor and shall state the names and addresses of the transferor and the transferee and the amount, type and grade of tires and tubes to be transferred: Provided, however, That application may be made by the central accounting office of the transferor to the District Director serving the area in which such office is located.

10. Section 1315.804 (f) (4) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) A "regional branch" means any premises wholly controlled by the manufacturer where the functions of his business, other than production, are performed, and where the only transfers of tires or tubes to consumers are made to those consumers who acquired tires or tubes from a manufacturer between December 31, 1940 and August 6, 1943.

Tires or tubes in transit on July 15, 1944 may be acquired after that date by the dealer to whom the shipment was made.

(2) A manufacturer may ship tires or tubes being transferred under this paragraph to a dealer for the account of another dealer. The dealer who ordered the tires or tubes from the manufacturer may, without certificate, transfer legal title to the tires or tubes to the dealer to whom they were shipped.

(3) A manufacturer who transfers tires or tubes under this paragraph shall send a shipping memorandum to the dealer receiving shipment showing the name and address of the dealer, the date of the shipment, the number of tires and tubes which were shipped and the name and address of the dealer for whose account the shipment is made, if he is someone other than the dealer receiving shipment. All shipping memoranda which the manufacturer sends to a dealer, under this paragraph, shall contain the following statements: "A copy of this has been sent to the OPA Inventory Branch. A person who was not a dealer on May 31, 1944, may not acquire tires or tubes under this paragraph unless he has received a letter from a District Director recognizing him as a dealer, in conformity with § 1315.509 (b).

This amendment shall become effective June 1, 1944.

PART 1382—HARDWOOD LUMBER

NORTHERN HARDWOOD LUMBER

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 223 includes Amendment 12, effective May 30, 1944. The text added or amended by Amendment 12, with the exception of the table in § 1382.163 (b) (12), is underscored.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of Northern hardwood lumber by a specific maximum price regulation. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of Northern hardwood lumber prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2] Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

[Preamble amended by Supplementary Order 61, 8 F.R. 12552, effective 9–11–43.]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1382.151 to 1382.166, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

§ 1382.151 Maximum prices for Northern hardwood lumber. (a) On and after September 23, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver any Northern hardwood lumber, where shipment originates at the mill rather than at a distribution yard, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business any Northern hardwood lumber so shipped, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendices A to D hereof, inclusive, incorporated herein as §§ 1382.163 to 1382.166, inclusive; and no person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 shall not be applicable to retail sales as defined in paragraph (a) (7) of § 1382.159.

(c) The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of Northern hardwood lumber to a purchaser, if prior to September 23, 1942, such lumber had been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

(d) The maximum prices established in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit or by any decrease in the time customarily allowed for payment, and shall be decreased for prompt payment to the same extent that the sale price would have been decreased on October 1, 1941.

(e) [Revoked]

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 10939, effective 8–10–43; revoked by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 14186, effective 10–15–43.]

§ 1382.152 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

§ 1382.153 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

[§ 1382.153 amended by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 2783, effective 3–4–43 and Supplementary Order 50, 8 F.R. 10568, 14310, effective 7–27–43.]

§ 1382.154 Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to Northern hardwood lumber, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are prohibited:

(1) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard;

(2) Unreasonably refusing to ship lumber on standard grades and in grade-rule range widths and lengths;

(3) Falsely or wrongly grading or invoicing lumber;

(4) Grading as a special grade lumber which normally is graded by the seller as a standard grade;

(5) Making charges for delivery which exceed the actual cost to the seller of such delivery (except as provided in 1382.166).

(c) It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring (including buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of lumber. This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, insofar as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

[Paragraph (c) added by Supplementary Order 37, 8 F.R. 2192, effective 2–23–43 and amended by Supplementary Order, 77, 8 F.R. 14310, effective 10–26–43.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9864; 8 F.R. 1312, 3702) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1382.155 Records and reports. (a) Every seller and purchaser subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 making sales or deliveries or purchases of Northern hardwood lumber to the value of $500.00 or more in any one month, after September 23, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years a complete and accurate record of each sale or delivery or purchase of Northern hardwood lumber, showing the date of purchase or sale, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the quantities and grades purchased or sold, and the prices paid or received.

(b) Such persons shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as that Office may from time to time require or permit.

§ 1382.156 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, proceedings for suspension of licenses, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942: Provided, That no War Procurement Agency, or any contracting or paying finance officer thereof, shall be subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 or the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1382.157 Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[§ 1382.157 amended by Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43.]

[Paragraph (a) amended by Supplementary Order 83, 9 F.R. 973, effective 2–1–44.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 42 (8 F.R. 4968) provides that no price regulation of the OPA shall apply to sales or deliveries of any commodity or service made to Government agencies pursuant to secret contracts or subcontracts.]

(b) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraph (b) added by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 8945, effective 11–4–42. Former (b) and (c) revoked by Am. 1.]

(c) In treating with petitions for amendment or adjustment, consideration will not be given to log and bolt costs which are higher than the applicable maximum purchase prices for logs and bolts established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 161 (West Coast Logs),[6] or Maximum Price Regulations 313 (Prime Grade Hardwood Logs)[7] and 348 (Logs and Bolts),[8] or any revision or amendment of these regulations. This rule shall be followed regardless of whether the petitioner gets logs and bolts by purchasing them, logging his own standing timber, contracting for the logging of his own standing timber, or any other means. All petitions in any way based on the cost of logs or bolts must show the actual cost to the petitioner of logs and bolts received at his plant during the three months immediately prior to filing the petition, and the cost which would have been incurred by the petitioner if all of these logs and bolts had been purchased by him at ceiling prices. To figure these ceiling prices the petitioner should refer to the regulation which fixes the maximum prices for purchases and sales of the kinds of logs and bolts received at his plant.

[Paragraph (c) added by Supplementary Order 47, 8 F.R. 5808, effective 5–8–43.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619, 8 F.R. 7256) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

Notes on White Oak or Red Oak—Freight Car Stock, Common Dimension, Mine Car Lumber

Random widths; in 2" and 3" thicknesses—$90.00.

Free of heart; in 2" and 3" thicknesses—add $8.00 to maximum price for same thickness, width and length in above schedule.

Prices for specific sizes not in schedule. The maximum price for material of a length not included in this schedule shall be determined by adding to the maximum price for the next shorter length the proportionate amount of the difference between the maximum price of such next shorter length and the maximum price of the next longer length.

In the case of any item for which the thickness or the width is not included in the schedule, the maximum price shall be the maximum price for the material of the next greater thickness or width.

The maximum prices set forth above supersede the maximum prices for like material authorized for individual sellers under the special pricing provisions of this regulation.

Deduction for mixed hardwoods. For Mixed Hardwoods—Freight Car Stock, Common Dimension, Mine Car Lumber, deduct $4.00 from the maximum price for White Oak or Red Oak—Freight Car Stock, Common Dimension, Mine Car Lumber, in the same size in above schedule.

(c) Deduction for green. For lumber shipped in a "green" condition, deduct from the maximum prices for air-dried lumber established in this Appendix A. 10 percent of the maximum price for rough, air-dried material in the same specifications.

This deduction shall not apply to special sawn timbers, tough ash lumber, or to lumber customarily used without air seasoning, but it shall apply to any lumber which requires further air seasoning by the purchaser before being placed in the kiln for kiln-drying, or before fabrication if not kiln-dried.

The mere fact that the lumber is not used immediately, but is stored on the purchaser's yard, does not necessarily mean that green lumber has been shipped, but in case of dispute any lumber which weighs 25 percent or more in excess of the air-dried weight as published in the Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber, issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association, January 1, 1943, or for weights filed with the Office of Price Administration by the individual shippers, shall be considered to be "green."

Any purchaser who accepts "green" lumber at prices applicable to "dry" lumber is guilty of violation of the regulation to the same extent as the seller.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 8945, effective 7-3-43 and Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17375, effective 1-3-44.]

(d) Additions for kiln drying and working. The following additions per 1,000 feet of Northern hardwood lumber may be charged for the specified treatments and workings:

[Subparagraph (2) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 121, effective 1-6-43 and amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 14136, effective 10-15-43.]

(3) Kiln drying the lumber to a moisture content greater than 12 percent but not exceeding 20 percent as of the time the lumber leaves the kiln: One-half of the addition permitted in subparagraph (1) above except that a minimum of $4.00 per 1,000 feet may be charged.

[Subparagraph (3), formerly (2), amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 121, effective 1-6-43. Former (2), (3), (4) and (5) redesignated (3), (4), (5) and (6) respectively by Am. 2.]

(4) Inspecting, grading, and measuring after kiln drying: 5 percent of the f. o. b. mill price of the lumber in a rough air dried condition. This addition may be made only where the seller performs all three of these services, at the request of the purchaser, after kiln drying.

[Paragraphs (e) and (f) added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 5629, effective 5-4-43.]

(g) N. H. L. A. inspection certificate. Where the purchaser requests an inspection by, and an inspection certificate issued by, the National Hardwood Lumber Association, the seller may make an added charge which does not exceed the inspection fees and expenses charged by the Association to the seller and shown on the certificate.

[Paragraph (g), formerly (e) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 121, effective 1-6-43. Redesignated as (g) and headnote added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 5629, effective 5-4-43.]

(h) Custom kiln-drying and milling. Where Northern hardwood lumber is kiln-dried or milled for the seller by a custom kiln or milling establishment, and the custom kiln or milling establishment is not owned or operated by, or connected with, the sawmill, the seller may add the actual cost of this custom kiln-drying or milling. The amount added may not be higher than the maximum price established by Maximum Price Regulation 165, as amended," Services, for the custom kiln or milling establishment applicable to the sale of the services of custom kiln-drying or milling. The invoice of the custom kiln or milling establishment must be attached to the lumber invoice of the seller.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 5629, effective 5-4-43; and Am. 12, effective 5-30-44.]

(c) Additions. Additions to the maximum prices established in this section may be charged in accordance with provisions of paragraph (d) of § 1382.163, Appendix A.

§ 1382.165 Appendix C: Maximum prices for Northern hardwood lumber in "non-standard special" grades or items—(a) Application of Appendix C. (1) This section shall apply to Northern hardwood lumber which is sold on special specifications not covered by Appendix A or B, §§ 1382.163 or 1382.164.

(2) For purposes of this section the term "Northern hardwood lumber" shall include all items of lumber in the species set forth in paragraph (a) (3) (i) of § 1382.159, but shall not include the following items: (The term "items" includes specifications, workings, services and/or extras.)

(i) Glued stock.
(ii) Moulding.
(iii) Shiplap.
(iv) Risers, step treads, thresholds, handrails.
(v) Bevel and drop siding.
(vi) Flooring.
(vii) Switch, cross, and mine ties.
(viii) Mine material.
(ix) Small dimension stock.
(x) Lath.
(xi) Navy oak ship stock (see Maximum Price Regulation No. 281).

[Item (xi) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 8945, effective 7-3-43.]

(b) Maximum prices for combination grades. Where Northern hardwood lumber is sold on a Log Run, Mill Run, or No. 1 Common and Better grade for which no maximum price has been established in Appendix A, § 1382.163, the maximum price shall be the maximum price established in that section for the lowest grade of lumber contained in the stock that is sold on such special inspection grade. The seller, however, may grade and ship the lumber on the standard grades included in such special inspection grade and invoice the footage in each of the standard grades at a price not to exceed the maximum price established in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 for the respective standard grades.

(c) Maximum prices for "non-standard special" grades and items other than combination grades. (1) Northern hardwood lumber, sold on special grades or specifications or with special services or other extras not specifically mentioned in Appendix A or B, is nevertheless subject to this regulation. The maximum price is a price which bears the October 1941 relation to the most comparable standard item. The seller should find his price difference between the special item and this most comparable standard item in October 1941 or the first month before that in which he had sales of both items, or if this is impossible, the price differential he would have used. This difference is then added to or subtracted from the maximum price of the comparable standard grade and the result is the maximum price for the special grade. This price must be reported to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D.C. on OPA Form 323:1, given in paragraph (3) below. It may be ordered reduced, if it is found excessive. But, if the price is not disapproved within 30 days of the receipt of the report, it is approved. Applications for approval of maximum prices for special grades and items under this section will be considered only when accompanied by (i) a true copy of the order or of customer's inquiry on the basis of which the application has been submitted; and (ii) a statement certified to be true by the purchaser or prospective purchaser to the effect that none of the grades specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is intended to be used, which purpose is to be stated; that it has been his custom to purchase lumber on such special specifications. Approval of the price will be conditional on a finding that the purpose for which the special grade item is to be used is classified by the War Production Board as essential to the war effort. Prices, when approved, for such special grades or items will be based on the price differential previously established between the particular special item requirement and the related grade rule specification.

(2) A seller using this pricing section can go ahead with delivery of the lumber and collection of the price he has computed or requested. But, he must tell the buyer that the price is subject to revision within the thirty-day period, and, if the price is ordered reduced, must refund any excess over the final approved price.

(3) Copies of Form 323:1 can be obtained from the Office of Price Administration, or Form 323:1 can be reproduced by the seller, providing no change is made in style or content of the form.

(d) Additions. Additions to the maximum prices established in this section may be charged in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of § 1382.163, Appendix A.

§ 1382.166 Appendix D: Delivered prices and estimated average weights. (a) Delivered prices in excess of the maximum f. o. b. mill prices established in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 223 may be charged, consisting of such maximum prices plus the transportation costs permitted by this section: Provided, That (1) the invoice shows the point of origin of the shipment, the destination, and the applicable railroad or truck rate, or in place of such rate, where shipment is by motor vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, the amount added for transportation; and (2) the invoice is marked "direct mill shipment".

(b) Where shipment is exclusively by motor vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, the charge may be no greater than the actual cost to the seller of delivery by motor vehicle; and in no event shall the charge exceed the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most nearly comparable haul. If the actual cost is less than such railroad charge, only the actual cost may be added to the maximum price.

(c) Where shipment is by common or contract carrier, the amount added for transportation may be no greater than the actual amount paid to the carrier, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, That where shipment is by both rail and truck (either owned or controlled by the seller or a common or contract carrier), the following shall govern:

(1) Where shipment is by rail followed by truck delivery, the amount added for transportation may include, in addition to the amount added for rail transportation, the actual cost of truck delivery, provided such cost is shown separately on the invoice.

(2) Trucking to railhead. When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as when a mill located away from a railhead hauls lumber by truck to the railhead, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following two cases a mill may apply for special permission to make an addition:

(i) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne lumber, and where shortage of shipping has forced it to operate by rail;

(ii) Where a mill's rail connection has been abandoned since September 5, 1941.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 9, 8 F.R. 15193, effective 11-8-43 and Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17375, effective 1-3-44.]

(d) In computing transportation costs, the following practices are permitted:

(1) The computation of transportation costs on the basis of the applicable freight rate and the appropriate estimated average weights set forth in paragraph (e) of this section.

(2) The charging of a sum equivalent to the one-quarter of a dollar nearest to the transportation costs per 1,000 feet of lumber, computed in accordance with subdivision (1) of this paragraph.

(e) (1) The estimated average weights for Northern hardwood lumber in a green or rough air dried condition, shall be as follows:

POULTRY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1429.19 (h) (1) (i) (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Temporary maximum base prices for specific portions of poultry and for poultry fat in the basing point cities. The following Temporary Table A–1 establishes temporary maximum base prices, first, for the wings, legs and breasts of "cut-up poultry", second, for the other specified portions of any poultry item and, third, for poultry fat. These prices, which apply to the enumerated portions and fats delivered at the buyer's customary receiving point in the basing point cities, may be revoked at any time.

TEMPORARY TABLE A-1

(Prices are in cents per pound)

Breasts	60.6	61.6	62.1
Portions of any poultry item
Wing tips, back, neck, or skin	13.1	14.1	14.6
Liver	68.1	69.1	69.6
Gizzard or heart	[1] 28.9	[1] 29.9	[1] 30.4

Government inspected raw poultry fat	58.0	59.0	59.5
Rendered poultry fat	72.5	73.5	74.0
Government inspected rendered poultry fat	77.5	78.5	79.0

[1] If the gizzard is not cleaned by removing the contents and lining, the base price shall not exceed ½ of the maximum base price for gizzards as established by this Temporary Table A-1.

2. Section 1429.19 (i) (3) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The gizzard of each bird must be cleaned by removing the contents and lining. The cleaned gizzard, heart and liver must all either be inserted within the carcass of the bird from which taken or else all three items must be excluded from the carcass and sold separately at prices not in excess of those established under Temporary Table A–1 of this section for the corresponding portions.

Dressed poultry items not drawn as herein described shall be sold at prices not exceeding those established for the corresponding dressed poultry items, in Table A of this section.

3. Section 1429.19 (i) (4) (v) is amended to read as follows:

(v) The giblets of each bird must be removed and cleaned. All giblets must then either be wrapped in water resistant paper and replaced in the bird from which taken, or else all must be excluded from the bird and sold separately at prices not in excess of those established in Table A–1 of this section for the corresponding portions.

4. Section 1429.19 (i) (4) (x) is amended to read as follows:

(x) The prices established for "frozen eviscerated poultry" items in this section shall apply only when such "frozen eviscerated poultry" items completely meet the requirements listed in this definition. A discount of ¾ cent per pound shall be deducted from the maximum base price for any "frozen eviscerated poultry" item which is not individually weighed, packaged, and identified as provided for in subdivision (vii) of this definition, but which otherwise meets all the requirements of this definition, and is packaged in bulk for sale to institutional, industrial, commercial, or governmental users, or for sale to distributors selling to such users: Provided, That a statement is printed on or attached to the exterior of each bulk package certifying that the eviscerated poultry contained therein was eviscerated under federal inspection, and showing the identity of the eviscerator.

In no event may any processed poultry item be sold as "frozen eviscerated poultry" unless all the requirements established for "frozen eviscerated poultry" have been met. If some, but not all, of those requirements have been met, the processed bird, if drawn in accordance with all the requirements established for drawn poultry, shall be sold at a price not in excess of that established for corresponding drawn poultry items in Table A. If not drawn in accordance with all the requirements established for drawn poultry, then the dressed bird shall be sold at a price not in excess of that established for a corresponding dressed poultry item in Table A.

This amendment shall become effective May 30, 1944.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS AND APPROVAL OF EQUIPMENT

By virtue of the authority vested in me by R.S. 4405, 4417a, 4426, 4481, 4482, 4488, 4491, as amended, 49 Stat. 1384, 1544, 54 Stat. 163–167 (46 U.S.C. 375, 391a, 404, 474, 475, 481, 489, 369, 367, 526–526t), and Executive Order 9083, dated February 28, 1942 (7 F.R. 1609) the following amendments to the regulations and approval of equipment are prescribed:

Subchapter O—Regulations Applicable to Certain Vessels and Shipping During Emergency

PART 153—BOATS, RAFTS, AND LIFESAVING APPLIANCES; REGULATIONS DURING EMERGENCY

ESCAPE PANELS

Section 153.21 is deleted and the following is substituted in its stead:

§ 153.21 Means of escape on vessels—(a) Means of escape on new vessels. On mechanically propelled ocean and coastwise passenger, cargo, and tank vessels, certificated for the first time after 1 October, 1944, the means of escape or emergency exits required by this section shall be provided.

(b) Definitions. Certain terms used in this section are defined as follows:

(1) A "crash panel" is a panel of frangible material or a panel of non-frangible material which, when installed in an opening in a door or other structure, may be readily removed by kicking out.

(2) An "escape panel" is a panel of metal or other non-frangible material hinged or otherwise secured over an opening by "dogs" or other means.

(3) An "escape hatch" is a covering over an opening in a deck or other structure, hinged or otherwise secured to such deck or structure.

(c) Number and arrangement of means of escape or emergency exits for new vessels. Plans and specifications showing location, type and arrangement of means of escape or emergency exits shall be submitted to Headquarters for approval. Deviation from the requirements will be considered only when it is shown to the satisfaction of Headquarters that such deviation is unavoidable due to construction features. In all cases, when plans are submitted to and approved by Headquarters and the escapes are installed in accordance with the plans, the vessel shall be considered to be in complete compliance with the regulations. The means of escape or emergency exits shall be provided and arranged as follows:

(1) Each room occupied by one or more persons shall have at least two means of emergency exit and each passageway, compartment, public room, or space serving or containing more than two rooms shall have at least three means of emergency exit. Spaces used as storerooms are not required to be fitted with crash panels, escape panels, or escape hatches.

(2) Each public bath room, wash room, or toilet room, accommodating four (4) or more persons at one time shall have at least two means of emergency exit. The exits may be of any type specified in this section but where entrance doors are not fitted or where half doors are fitted to such bath rooms, wash rooms, or toilet rooms, no other means of escape shall be required.

(3) The exits for each space shall be located as remotely from each other as possible to reduce the likelihood of damage blocking all avenues of escape.

(4) In general, where there are four or more widely separated means of escape from a deckhouse, it will not be necessary to provide these doors with offset hinges or escape panels.

(5) In no case shall a main fire screen bulkhead be pierced to provide a secondary means of escape, nor shall any watertight bulkhead, watertight deck, or watertight door below the bulkhead deck be pierced for the installation of emergency escapes.

(6) Brigs or other spaces for the confinement of persons need be equipped with only one means of emergency exit which shall be a door of the type specified in paragraph (e) (2) of this section and which may be capable of being secured from the outside.

(7) On mechanically propelled vessels of over 1,000 gross tons it is also required that at least two wire or chain ladders (one on each side) leading directly to the highest part of the engine room casing shall be provided and arranged in a way most likely to allow the escape of engine room personnel in the event of damage to the fixed ladders and gratings. On steam vessels a similar ladder shall be provided in the fire room running through the ventilator if practicable. Such ladders are not to be hauled taut. They are to be lashed loosely at the floor plates.

(d) Designs and arrangements for means of escape for new vessels. The following requirements shall be followed in the design and installation of means of escape or emergency exits:

(1) The crash panels, escape panels, and escape hatches shall be operable without the use of tools.

(2) All crash panels shall be designed and installed for ready removal from either side.

(3) Crash panels shall have the same fire-resistive qualities as the door or structure in which they are installed.

(4) The crash panels, escape panels, and escape hatches shall have a minimum clear opening of 18" x 18" or 18" diameter; however, where it can be shown that this size opening is unreasonable or impracticable, a minimum clear opening of 16" x 16" or 16" diameter may be allowed.

(5) Crash panels shall be of frangible material substantially secured to the door or other structure or shall be of non-frangible material and so installed that the fastenings will give way easily when kicked, allowing the panel to be removed whole. The escape openings shall be free from garment entangling projections. The crash panel shall be marked with a suitable permanent notice placed on the side from which it is to serve as an exit. A suggested marking is:

EMERGENCY
KICK OUT

(6) All escape panels and escape hatches shall be arranged so that they may be operated from either side. They shall be clearly marked "emergency exit". A maul or a short length of pipe shall be available to free jammed "dogs" where doors and hatches are fitted with "dogs". Where escape panels and escape hatches are so located that there is a possibility of cargo, equipment, or stores interfering with their operation, special care shall be taken to guard against such interferences.

(e) Acceptable means of escape or emergency exits for new vesels. As one means of escape or emergency exit, each of the following will be considered satisfactory:

(1) A door having a crash panel or escape panel.

(2) A door without a crash panel or escape panel and with offset hinges so arranged that it fits against the face of the frame with a bearing surface of at least one-half inch, and no part of the door inside the frame.

(3) A crash panel or escape panel in a bulkhead.

(4) An entrance opening to a room to which no door is fitted.

(5) Escape hatch fitted in a deck. Necessary ladders, steps, or hand grabs to insure quick exit shall be fitted in order to reach the escape hatch.

(6) A porthole with a clear opening at least 16" in diameter or a window of at least 16" by 16" when located in a deckhouse and fitted where necessary with steps, hand grabs, or ladders. Portholes in the shell leading directly overboard shall not be considered as a means of escape.

(7) A skylight that may be easily opened at point of exit when fitted with a ladder to afford quick exit and the passage of a person through the skylight will not necessitate the removal or cutting of metal screens or blackout equipment. Skylights which are operated by remote control are not considered as satisfactory means of exit.

(f) Means of escape on existing vessels. On all mechanically propelled ocean and coastwise passenger, cargo and tank vessels which are certificated on or prior to 1 October, 1944, the number of means of emergency exits prescribed in this section shall be complied with, insofar as conditions permit. Such compliance shall be made at the time of annual inspection or at such other times as may be appropriate, so as to cause the least interference with the operation of the vessel. While it is not intended that vessels be delayed for non-compliance, it is expected that diligent efforts will be made to meet this requirement as rapidly as is possible.

(g) Administration. When the requirements concerning emergency escapes have been substantially complied with to the satisfaction of Headquarters or the District Coast Guard Officer of one district, subsequent changes or additions shall not be required by the District Coast Guard Officer of another district, without prior approval by Headquarters.

Subchapter J—General Rules and Regulations for Vessel Inspection, Rivers

Amendment 1 to Order No. G–3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 as amended. Maximum prices for specific food products. Maximum prices for interhandler sales of bulk fluid milk.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by § 1351.817a of Maximum Price Regulation 280 as amended, it is hereby ordered that a new paragraph (c–1) be added following paragraph (c) and that subparagraph (j) (6) be amended to read as set forth below:

(c–1) Adjustment of fractions. In calculating a maximum price and/or transportation charges for sales and deliveries by handlers of fluid milk in bulk, all calculations shall be carried to the tenth of a cent.

(1) For sales and deliveries of fluid milk in bulk on an f. o. b. basis, final calculation of maximum prices shall be adjusted to the nearest ½¢ whenever the maximum price is calculated on a gallonage basis and to the nearest full cent when such calculation is on a cwt. basis.

(2) For sales and deliveries of fluid milk delivered by handlers to a place designated by the purchaser, calculations of the maximum prices for fluid milk in bulk and for "transportation charges" as determined in accordance with paragraph (c) shall each be carried to the tenth of a cent. The sum of these amounts shall be adjusted to the nearest ½¢ whenever the maximum price is calculated on a gallonage basis and to the nearest full cent when such calculation is on a cwt. basis.

In adjusting to the nearest ½¢, fractions of ¼¢ or more, and ¾¢ or more shall be adjusted to the nearest higher half or whole cent, respectively, and in adjusting to the nearest whole cent, a fraction of ½¢ or more shall be carried to the next higher whole cent.

(j) • • •

(6) "Handler's fluid milk cost." (i) "Fluid milk cost" of a primary handler who during July, August, and December, 1943, paid all producers on a basis of not less than $2.75 per cwt. for milk of a 4 per cent butterfat content means the price paid to producers (or the returns made to producer members of a farmers' cooperative, excluding patronage dividends), determined as follows:

The weighted average producer price (or returns to producer members of a cooperative, excluding patronage dividends) paid for milk adjusted to 3.5 per cent butterfat content f. o. b. cooling station, receiving plant or processing plant of the primary handler of all milk regardless of type, grade, utilization, or class, purchased or received directly from producers (or members of a producers' cooperative association) during the months of July, August and December, 1943, or the lowest price paid to producers (or members of a cooperative) during the month of December, 1943 for any grade or type of milk at 3.5 per cent butterfat test, whichever is higher.

(ii) "Fluid milk cost" of a primary handler who during July, August and December, 1943 paid any producer less than $2.75 per cwt. for milk of a 4 percent butterfat content means the price paid to producers (or the returns made to producer members of a farmers' cooperative, excluding patronage dividends), determined as follows: the weighted average of (1) the producer price (or returns to producer members of a cooperative, excluding patronage dividends) paid for milk adjusted to 3.5 per cent butterfat content f. o. b. cooling station, receiving plant or processing plant of the primary handler of all milk, regardless of type, grade, utilization or class, purchased or received directly from producers (or members of a producers' cooperative association) during the months of July, August and December, 1943 for which the handler paid not less than $2.75 per cwt. for milk of 4 per cent butterfat content and (2) the actual producer price paid for all milk regardless of type, grade, utilization or class purchased or received directly from producers (or members of a producers' cooperative association) at any time at a price which reflects less than $2.75 per cwt. for milk of a 4 per cent butterfat content, or the lowest price paid to producers (or members of a cooperative) during the month of December, 1943 for any grade or type of milk at 3.5 per cent butterfat test, whichever is higher.

(iii) "Fluid milk cost" of an intermediate handler means the cost of milk to him f. o. b. his cooling station, receiving plant, or processing plant. This cost must be computed for that portion of milk actually purchased from a primary handler regardless of sale or distribution by the intermediate handler.

This order shall become effective May 9, 1944.

Any exceptions to this reduction in use must be specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(a) In general. Section 112 is amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection as follows:

(m) Gain from sale or exchange to effectuate policies of Federal Communications Commission. If the sale or exchange of property (including stock in a corporation) is certified by the Federal Communications Commission to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the Commission with respect to the ownership and control of radio broadcasting stations, such sale or exchange shall, if the taxpayer so elects, be treated as an involuntary conversion of such property within the meaning of subsection (f) of this section. For the purposes of subsection (f) of this section as made applicable by the provisions of this subsection, stock of a corporation operating a radio broadcasting station, whether or not representing control of such corporation, shall be treated as property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted. The part of the gain, if any, upon such sale or exchange to which subsection (f) of this section is not applied shall nevertheless not be recognized, if the taxpayer so elects, to the extent that it is applied to reduce the basis for determining gain or loss upon sale or exchange of property, of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (l), remaining in the hands of the taxpayer immediately after the sale or exchange, or acquired in the same taxable year. The manner and amount of such reduction shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary. Any election made by the taxpayer under this subsection shall be made by a statement to that effect in his return for the taxable year in which the sale or exchange takes place (or, with respect to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944, by a statement to that effect filed within six months after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1943 in such manner and form as may be prescribed by regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary) and such election shall be binding for the taxable year and all subsequent taxable years.

(b) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942.

§ 29.112 (m)–1 Gain from sale or exchange to effectuate policies of Federal Communications Commission. Applicability only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and at the election of the taxpayer, subsection (m), in effect, postpones the recognition of gain upon the sale or exchange of property, if the Federal Communications Commission certifies such sale or exchange to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the Commission with respect to the ownership or control of radio broadcasting stations. Any taxpayer desiring to obtain the benefits of section 112 (m) shall file with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or the collector of internal revenue, a certificate from the Federal Communications Commission clearly identifying the property and showing that the sale or exchange of such property is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the Commission with respect to the ownership and control of radio broadcasting stations. Such certificate shall be accompanied by a detailed statement showing: the kind of property, the date of acquisition, the cost or other basis of the property, the date of sale or exchange, the name and address of the transferee, and the amount of money and the fair market value of the property other than money received upon such sale or exchange.

Section 112 (m) applies only in the case of a sale or exchange made necessary by reason of the Commission's policies as to ownership or control of radio facilities. The section does not apply in the case of a sale or exchange made necessary as a result of other matters, such as the operation of a broadcasting station in a manner determined by the Commission to be not in the public interest or in violation of Federal or State law.

An election to have the benefits of subsection (m) shall be made in the manner prescribed in § 29.112 (m)–4.

§ 29.112 (m)–2 Nature and effect of election—(a) Alternative elections. A taxpayer entitled to the benefits of subsection (m) in respect of a sale or exchange of property may elect:

(1) To treat such sale or exchange as an involuntary conversion under the provisions of section 112 (f); or

(2) To treat such sale or exchange as an involuntary conversion under the provisions of section 112 (f), and in addition elect, except as provided in subsection (b) with respect to that portion of the gain included in a replacement fund, to reduce the basis of property, in accordance with the regulations prescribed in § 29.112 (m)–3, by all or part of the gain that would otherwise be recognized under section 112 (f); or

(3) To reduce the basis of property, in accordance with the regulations prescribed in § 29.112 (m)–3, by all or part of the gain realized upon the sale or exchange.

The effect of these provisions is, in general, to grant the taxpayer an election to treat the proceeds of the sale or exchange as the proceeds of an involuntary conversion subject to the provisions of section 112 (f), including the establishment of a replacement fund, and a further election to reduce the basis of certain property owned by the taxpayer by the amount of the gain realized upon the sale or exchange to the extent of that portion of the proceeds which is not treated as the proceeds of an involuntary conversion.

An election under section 112 (m) for any taxable year shall be irrevocable and shall be binding for such taxable year and all subsequent taxable years.

(b) Application of sections 112 (f) and 113 (a) (9). If the taxpayer elects, either under (1) or (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, to treat the sale or exchange as an involuntary conversion, the provisions of sections 112 (f) and 113 (a) (9), as modified by section 112 (m), together with the regulations prescribed under such sections shall be applicable to determine the amount of recognized gain and the basis of property acquired as a result of such sale or exchange. For the purposes of section 112 (m) and these regulations, stock of a corporation operating a radio broadcasting station shall be treated as property similar or related in service or use to the property sold or exchanged. Securities of such a corporation other than stock, or securities of a corporation not operating a radio broadcasting station do not constitute property similar or related in service or use to the property sold or exchanged. If the taxpayer exercises the election referred to in (1) of paragraph (a) of this section, the gain realized upon such sale or exchange shall be recognized to the extent of that part of the money received upon the sale or exchange which is not expended in the manner prescribed in section 112 (f) and the regulations thereunder. If, however, the taxpayer exercises the elections referred to in (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, the amount of the gain which would be recognized, determined in the same manner as in the case of an election under (1) of such paragraph, shall not be recognized but shall be applied to reduce the basis of property, remaining in the hands of the taxpayer after such sale or exchange or acquired by him during the same taxable year, which is of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (l). Such reduction of basis shall be made in accordance with and under the conditions prescribed by § 29.112 (m)–3.

If in pursuance of an election to have the benefits of section 112 (f) the taxpayer establishes a replacement fund and the entire amount of such fund is not subsequently expended in the acquisition of property similar or related in service or use within the meaning of section 112 (f), gain shall be recognized to the extent provided in such section and the amount of such recognized gain may not be applied to reduce the basis of property under the provisions of section 112 (m) and § 29.112 (m)–3.

In the application of sections 112 (f) and 113 (a) (9) to determine the recognized gain and the basis of property acquired as a result of a sale or exchange pursuant to an election under (1) or (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, the entire amount of the proceeds of such sale or exchange shall be taken into account.

The application of the provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A, who makes his returns on the calendar year basis, sold in 1943, for $100,000 cash, stock of X, a corporation which operates a radio broadcasting station. The stock had a basis in A's hands of $75,000. Forthwith, A used $50,000 of the proceeds of the sale to purchase stock in Y Corporation which also operates a radio broadcasting station. The sale was certified by the Federal Communications Commission as provided in section 112 (m) and A elected in his return for the taxable year in which the sale occurred to treat such sale and purchase as an involuntary conversion subject to the provisions of section 112 (f). He also elected at the same time to reduce the basis of depreciable property, in accordance with the provisions of § 29.112 (m)–3, by the amount of gain that would otherwise be recognized under the provisions of section 112 (f), as made applicable by section 112 (m). The determination of the amount to be applied in reduction of basis under § 29.112 (m)–3 and of the basis under section 112 (a) (9) of the stock of Y Corporation purchased by A is as follows:

Application of section 112 (f) and (m):
Sale price of X Corporation stock	$100,000
Basis for gain or loss	75,000
Gain realized	25,000
Proceeds of sale	$100,000
Amount expended to replace property sold	50,000
Amount not expended in manner prescribed in section 112 (f)	50,000
Realized gain recognized under section 112 (f) (not to exceed unexpended portion of proceeds of sale)	25,000
Amount applied in reduction of basis	25,000
Gain recognized for tax purposes	None
Application of section 113 (a) (9):
Basis of property sold (converted)	75,000
Decreased in amount of proceeds not expended under section 112 (f)	50,000
Balance	25,000
Increased in amount of gain recognized under section 112 (f)	25,000
Basis of Y stock in A's hands	50,000

Example (2). B, who makes his returns on the calendar year basis, owned all the stock of R Corporation, a company operating a radio broadcasting station. The stock had a basis of $100,000 in B's hands. During the calendar year 1944, B sold the R Corporation stock for $300,000, cash. The sale was certified by the Federal Communications Commission as provided in section 112 (m) and B elected in his return for the taxable year to have the benefits of section 112 (f) and applied for and received permission to establish a replacement fund with $150,000 of the proceeds of the sale. He also elected to reduce the basis of depreciable property remaining in his hands by the amount of gain that would be recognized under section 112 (f) as made applicable by section 112 (m). During the calendar year 1945, B expended $100,000 from the replacement fund to purchase stock in the S Corporation, which corporation qualifies under section 112 (m) as a corporation operating a radio broadcasting station. The balance of $50,000 in the replacement fund was withdrawn and the fund discontinued.

The computation of recognized gain, the amount to be applied in reduction of basis under § 29.112 (m)–3, and the basis in B's hands of the stock in S Corporation are as follows:

Application of section 112 (f) and (m):
Sale price of R Corporation stock	$300,000
Basis for gain or loss	100,000
Gain realized	200,000
Proceeds of sale	300,000
Amount expended to establish replacement fund under section 112 (f)	150,000
Balance not expended in manner prescribed in section 112 (f)	150,000
Realized gain recognized under section 112 (f) (not in excess of amount not expended in establishment of replacement fund)	150,000
Amount to be applied in reduction of basis	150,000
Amount of replacement fund	150,000
Amount expended in 1945 to replace converted property	100,000
Balance (withdrawn)	50,000
Amount of realized gain to be recognized for taxable year 1944	50,000
Application of section 113 (a) (9):
Basis of R Company stock (converted)	100,000
Increased in amount of gain recognized under section 112 (f) ($50,000 recognized for tax purposes plus $150,000 applied in reduction of basis)	200,000
Total	300,000
Decreased in amount of proceeds not expended in manner prescribed in section 112 (f)	200,000
Basis of S Company stock	100,000

§ 29.112 (m)–3 Reduction of basis of property pursuant to election under section 112 (m)—(a) General rule. In addition to the adjustments provided in section 113 (b), and the sections of these regulations relating thereto, which are required to be made with respect to the cost or other basis of property, a further adjustment shall be made in the amount of the unrecognized gain under section 112 (m), if the taxpayer so elects. Such further adjustment shall be made only with respect to the cost or other basis of property which is of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under section 23 (l), and which remains in the hands of the taxpayer immediately after the sale or exchange in respect of which the election is made, or which is acquired by the taxpayer in the same taxable year in which such sale or exchange occurs. If the property is in the hands of the taxpayer immediately after the sale or exchange, the time of reduction of the basis is the date of the sale or exchange; in all other cases the time of reduction of the basis is the date of acquisition.

The reduction of basis under section 112 (m) in the amount of the unrecognized gain shall be made in respect of the cost or other basis, as of the time prescribed, of all units of property of the specified character. The cost or other basis of each unit shall be decreased in an amount equal to such proportion of the unrecognized gain as the adjusted basis (for determining gain, determined without regard to this section) of such unit bears to the aggregate of such adjusted bases of all units of such property, but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of such adjusted basis. If in the application of such rule the adjusted basis of any unit is reduced to zero, the process shall be repeated to reduce the adjusted basis of the remaining units of property by the portion of the unrecognized gain which is not absorbed in the first application of the rule. For such purpose the "adjusted basis" of the remaining units shall be the adjusted basis for determining gain reduced by the amount of the adjustment previously made under this section. The process shall be repeated until the entire amount of the unrecognized gain has been absorbed.

(b) Special cases. With the consent of the Commissioner, the taxpayer may, however, have the basis of the various units of property of the class specified in section 112 (m) and this section adjusted in a manner different from the general rule set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. Variations from such general rule may, for example, involve adjusting the basis of only certain units of such property. The request for variations from the general rule should be filed by the taxpayer with his return for the taxable year in which he elects to have the basis of property reduced under section 112 (m) or, if such election is made with respect to a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1944, the request should accompany the statement of election for such year. Agreement between the taxpayer and the Commissioner as to any variations from such general rule shall be effective only if incorporated in a closing agreement entered into under the provisions of section 3760.

§ 29.112 (m)–4 Manner of election. An election under the provisions of section 112 (m) shall be in the form of a written statement and shall be executed and filed in duplicate. Such statement shall be signed by the taxpayer or his authorized representative. In the case of a corporation the statement shall be signed with the corporate name, followed by the signature and title of at least two officers of the corporation empowered to sign for the corporation, and the corporate seal must be affixed. An election under section 112 (m) to reduce the basis of property and an election under such section to treat the sale or exchange as an involuntary conversion under section 112 (f) may be exercised independently of each other. An election under section 112 (m) must be filed with the return for the taxable year in which the sale or exchange occurs, except that in the case of a sale or exchange occurring in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1944, the election must be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., attention of the Income Tax Unit, Records Division, on or before August 25, 1944. Where practicable, the certificate of the Federal Communications Commission required by § 29.112 (m)–1 should be filed with the election.

If the taxpayer elects to treat the sale or exchange as an involuntary conversion under the provisions of section 112 (f), any application to establish a replacement fund thereunder shall be made in accordance with the provisions of such section and § 29.112 (f)–3.

If, in pursuance of an election to have the basis of its property adjusted under section 112 (m), the taxpayer desires to have such basis adjusted in any manner different from the general rule set forth in the regulations, in effect at the time of filing the election, prescribed under section 112 (m), the precise method (including allocation of amounts) should be set forth in detail on separate sheets accompanying the election. Consent by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to any departure from such general rule shall be effected only by a closing agreement entered into under the provisions of section 3760 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(Sec. 123, Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.) and sec. 62, Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 62))

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 933—COPPER

[Conservation Order M-9-c, as Amended May 26, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 933.4 Conservation Order M-9-c—(a) Restrictions on manufacture of articles appearing on combined list. No manufacturer of any article on the combined list attached, or of parts (including repair parts[1]) for any such article, may, if such article or parts contain copper products, or copper base alloy products, continue their manufacture by means of processing, assembling or finishing.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture of articles not appearing on combined list out of inventory on hand on June 30, 1942. (1) A manufacturer of any article omitted from the combined list or excepted from that list, or of parts (including repair parts[1]) for such an article, may not continue the manufacture thereof by means of processing, assembling or finishing:

(i) Unless all copper products or copper base alloy products contained in such articles or parts were acquired by the manufacturer after June 30, 1942; or

(ii) Unless such articles or parts are being manufactured to fill a purchase order, existing or prospective,[2] bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher or, in the case of a controlled materials producer under the Controlled Materials Plan, to fill an authorized controlled material order; and no such article or part so manufactured shall be delivered except to fill such an order; or

(iii) Unless the manufacturer has been specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board to manufacture the article or parts in question, with the copper products or copper base alloy products being used. Applications for specific authorizations shall be made by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Copper Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-9-c.

[1] See also paragraph (f) (3) permitting the manufacture of repair parts to make specific repairs of used articles under certain conditions.

[2] Priorities Regulation No. 1, § 944.14, prohibits the manufacture of more than a practicable minimum working inventory of articles or parts to fill prospective orders.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) shall not apply to a manufacturer assembling a completed fractional horsepower electric motor into machinery of any kind omitted from the combined list or excepted from that list. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) shall also not apply to the manufacturing of any machinery omitted from the Combined List or excepted from that list, or of parts (including repair parts) for such machinery, if the only copper products or copper base alloy products used which were in the inventory of the manufacturer on June 30, 1942 are bushings, bearings, nuts, bolts, screws, washers, and wire weighing in the aggregate less than 5% of the total weight of the article or part.

(c) General restrictions on manufacture and plating. (1) No manufacturer may continue the manufacture of any article or parts (including repair parts) omitted from the Combined List or excepted from that list if such article or parts are to contain copper products or copper base alloy products where the use of any less scarce material[3] is practicable. Furthermore, no manufacturer may continue the manufacture of any article or parts (including repair parts) omitted from the combined list or excepted from that list if they are to contain more copper products or copper base alloy products than is necessary for the article's proper operation or a higher type or grade of copper or copper base alloy than is necessary for the article's proper operation.

(2) (i) The use of copper products or copper base alloy products for plating any article on the combined list or for plating any parts (including repair parts) of such an article, is prohibited unless such plating is expressly stated in the list to be permissible or such plating is an undercoating for lead. Undercoatings for lead should, in general, be less than 0.00005 inch in thickness.

(ii) The use of copper products or copper base alloy products for plating any article omitted from the combined list or excepted from that list, and the plating of parts (including repair parts) for such an article, is permitted provided that:

(a) Such plating is not for decorative purposes, or part of a decoration.

(b) The use of, or the normal wear on, such article or parts would make impracticable any other form of coating.

(d) Restrictions on deliveries to manufacturers. No person shall hereafter deliver copper products or copper base alloy products to any manufacturer, directly or indirectly, if he knows or has reason to believe that such products are to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(e) General restrictions on deliveries. The disposition of frozen and excessive inventories containing certain copper products or copper base alloy products shall be subject to the applicable provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 13 (§ 944.34), as amended from time to time.

(f) Exceptions—(1) Applicability of order to certain Governmental agencies. The provisions of this order shall not apply to the use of copper products or copper base alloy products in the manufacture of any article on the "Military Exemption List", or part therefor, which is being produced for purchase by, or for the account of, or for use by, the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Coast Guard, where the use of copper products or copper base alloy products to the extent employed is required by the specifications (including performance specifications) of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Coast Guard applicable to the contract, subcontract or purchase order.

(2) Installation. The provisions of this order shall not apply to the installation of any article or part (including a repair part) for the ultimate consumer on his premises when any manufacturing of such article or part is incidental to the installation and is done on the consumer's premises. This exception does not, however, in any way affect or modify the provisions of Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-4 (restricting the installation of certain types of copper and copper base alloy pipe, tube, fittings, and building materials) or of any other order restricting installation.

(3) Repair. The restrictions of this order (other than those contained in paragraph (c)) shall not apply to the manufacture of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article, or to a person repairing a used article, on or off the premises of the owner, if the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair does not use copper products or copper base alloy products weighing in the aggregate more than two pounds and when all manufacturing done by him is with knowledge of the particular used article to be repaired. The restrictions of this order (other than those contained in paragraph (c)) shall also not apply to the manufacture of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article, or to a person repairing a used article, on or off the premises of the owner, even if the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair uses copper products or copper base alloy products weighing in the aggregate more than two pounds, when (i) the copper scrap or copper base alloy scrap derived from the article being repaired weighs within one pound of the copper product or copper base alloy product used, (ii) all such scrap is delivered to a scrap dealer or to any other person to whom such delivery may be made under the provisions of Copper Order M-9 and (iii) all manufacturing done is with knowledge of the particular used article to be repaired.

[3] The Conservation Division of the War Production Board issues, periodically, a publication showing the relative scarcity of materials entitled "Materials Substitutions and Supply."

(g) Special products; restrictions and exceptions—(1) Printing and publishing industries. After October 3, 1943, the provisions of this order shall not apply to the use of copper products and copper base alloy products in typography, engraving, photo-engraving, gravure plate making, electrotyping, stereotyping, and printing in the printing and publishing industries. In those processes, the use of bronze powder, bronze ink, bronze paste, and bronze leaf is controlled by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-3. All other uses in those industries of copper products, copper base alloy products, copper scrap, and copper base alloy scrap are governed by Conservation Order M-339. Nothing contained in this paragraph (g) (1) shall affect the prohibition against the manufacture of powder containing copper products or copper base alloy products under paragraph (a) and the Combined List of this order.

(2) Insect screening. This order does not restrict the delivery, installation, or cutting of (i) used or second hand insect screening, (ii) insect screening in any roll which was initially cut before April 10, 1942, or (iii) insect screening in rolls which have been rejected by Copper Recovery Corporation or Metals Reserve Company, or their agent, before February 12, 1944 for any reason, or on or after that date for the reason stated in writing that the screening does not meet the specifications of the government buying program. However, no person shall deliver, install, or cut any other copper or copper base alloy insect screening (i) unless such screening is to be delivered to, installed for or cut on the order of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast Guard, any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), or Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Corporation or any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (except Defense Plant Corporation) or any person acting as agent of any such corporation (except Defense Plant Corporation); or (ii) unless such delivery, installation, or cutting shall be with the specific authorization of the War Production Board. Applications for specific authorizations shall be made by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Copper Division, Washington 25, D. C. Reference: M-9-c. Nothing contained in this paragraph (g) (2) affects the prohibitions on the manufacture, processing, assembling or finishing of insect screening with copper products or copper base alloy products under paragraph (a) and the Combined List. (See the item "insect screening" under the heading "Miscellaneous" on the combined list).

(3) Copper products not controlled by order. The provisions of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of the following articles and parts (including repair parts) even though they contain copper products, or copper base alloy products, since these articles are specifically governed by the following orders:

Shoe findings and footwear of all kinds governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-1.

Fire protective equipment governed by General Limitation Order L-59.

Motorized fire apparatus governed by General Limitation Order L-43.

Bronze paste, bronze ink, and bronze leaf, and products made with bronze paste, bronze ink, bronze leaf and bronze powder (other than decalcomanias and ship bottom paint), governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-3.

Jewelry as defined in and governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-2.

Water meters governed by Schedule I of Limitation Order L-154.

(4) Attachment and assembly work. (i) The provisions of this order do not apply to attaching finished slide fasteners, hook and eyes, brassiere hooks, sewon, machine attached or riveted snap fasteners, buckles, buttons, corset clasps, eyelets (other than eyelets usable as shoe eyelets), garter trimmings, hose supporters, insignia, jewelry, loops, mattress buttons, pin fasteners, pins, staples, slides, and trouser trimmings. The order does apply to the manufacture, processing, assembling and finishing of the closures and associated items listed above where the provisions of this order are more restrictive than other orders of the War Production Board.

(ii) The provisions of this order do not apply to the assembling of watch or clock movements finished prior to June 15, 1942, into cases not made of copper or copper base alloy. The provisions of this order do, however, apply to the manufacture, processing and finishing of watch and clock cases and of all other parts of watches and clocks and to assembling watches and clocks except as specifically exempted in this paragraph.

(h) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal. It shall include unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(2) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy. INTERPRETATION 5

USE OF COPPER IN THE MANUFACTURE OF CERTAIN DRAINS AND STRAINERS

Copper Conservation Order M–9–c, as amended December 10, 1941, specifically prohibited any person from using after March 31, 1942, any copper or copper base alloy in the manufacture of gutters, leaders or downspouts, or accessories thereto, and of all roofing items, to go on private buildings. These provisions have remained in the order without interruption.

In addition, since May 7, 1942, paragraph (d) (1) of Order M–9–c (relettered as paragraph (c) (1) when the order was amended on October 4, 1943), has provided that no manufacturer may continue to manufacture from copper or copper base alloy, any article the manufacture of which, with copper or copper base alloy, is not specifically prohibited by the order, if it is practicable to use any material less scarce than copper, brass or bronze to make the article.

For some time, many manufacturers have been making floor, roof, cesspool and shower drains and strainers out of galvanized steel or iron; and it has been demonstrated that the use for such purposes of this type of material instead of copper or copper base alloy is practicable for all uses to which these articles are put except their use in places where explosives are handled or stored or where explosive vapors may be present. Furthermore, the types of iron and steel used as well as zinc, are less scarce materials than copper or copper base alloy.

Accordingly, manufacturers are prohibited by Copper Conservation Order M–9–c from using brass or other copper and copper base alloy materials to make all roof, floor, cesspool and shower drains or strainers, even if the drains or strainers are not accessories to gutters, leaders or downspouts, or roofing items. An exception to the foregoing arises in the case of drains or strainers for floors in places where explosives are handled or stored or where explosive vapors may be present. (Issued Oct. 19, 1943.)

PART 1204—PHTHALIC ALKYD RESINS

[General Preference Order M–139, Direction 2]

REVOCATION OF CERTAIN AUTHORIZATIONS AND LIMITATION OF PHTHALIC ANHYDRIDE CONTENT OF OTHER AUTHORIZATIONS

The following direction is issued pursuant to General Preference Order M–139.

(a) Revocation. All authorizations issued to any person prior to April 1, 1944, for the use of phthalic alkyd resins, are hereby revoked.

This direction does not apply to phthalic alkyd resins which on May 26, 1944, have been put into process for uses authorized prior to April 1, 1944, and are no longer in the form in which such resins are delivered for resale or consumption. This direction is made necessary because of the critical shortage of phthalic alkyd resins and the ingredients of those resins. All end uses authorized on and after April 1, 1944 are still valid for the quantities authorized for those end uses.

(b) Phthalic anhydride content limited to 31.5%. The phthalic anhydride content of phthalic alkyd resins used on or after June 1, 1944 to manufacture protective coatings conforming to the following specifications shall not exceed 31.5 per cent based on the solid content of the vehicle of said coatings:

(1) U. S. Army specification 3–177 (Enamel, Gloss, for Wood—Cleansing Compound, Resistant).
(2) U. S. Army specification 3–178 (Enamel, Gloss, for Metal—Cleansing Compound, Resistant).
(3) U. S. Army specification 3–181 (Enamel, Olive-drab, Rust-inhibiting).
(4) U. S. Army specification 3–183 (Primer, Synthetic, Lacquer, Resisting).
(5) U. S. Army specification 3–187 (Enamel, Glycerol Phthalic, Special Coating for Pipe-Line Equipment).
(6) U. S. Army Corps of Engineers specification T–1760 (Enamel, Lustreless for Coating Metal).
(7) U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps specification CQD–200A (Coatings; Exterior, Air Drying, Camouflage and Rust-inhibiting for Food Cans).
(8) U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps specification CQD–65B (Liner, Helmet, M–1).
(9) Federal specification TT–E–485 (Enamel-Drum Coating Exterior; Rust-inhibiting, Solvent Resistant).

(c) Phthalic anhydride content limited to 24%. The phthalic anhydride content of phthalic alkyd resins manufactured on or after June 1, 1944 in conformance with the following specifications may not exceed 24 per cent based on the solid content of the vehicle: U. S. Navy Department, Bureau of Ships, ad Interim specification 52–R–13 (Resin, Alkyd, Solution) and also U. S. Maritime Commission specification 52–MC–21 (Resin, Alkyd, Solution).

(d) No phthalic anhydride content permitted. On and after June 1, 1944, no phthalic anhydride may be used in the manufacture of:

(1) Those protective coatings commonly designated in the trade as baking wrinkle finishes or baking wrinkle enamels including materials produced in conformance with U. S. Army specification 3–188 which replaces ES–680A, B Classes 541 and 542.

(2) Lacquer conforming to U. S. Army specifications 3–162B or 3–162C, Grades I and II.

(3) Wood sealer conforming to U. S. Army Ordnance specification TAC–ES–680, Class 638.

(4) U. S. Navy Interim specification 52–P–22 paint, inside, semi-gloss, white; fire retardent.

(5) Those protective coatings conforming to: (i) U. S. Army Ordnance specification TAC–ES–680A, Class 101 or AXS–750, or Corps of Engineers specification T–1599; (ii) ES–680A, B Class 102, or AXS–751; (iii) ES–680A, B Class 200 to 299 inclusive, AXS–752, AXS–753, or Corps of Engineers specification T–1600; (iv) ES–680A, B Classes 439 and 440, or U. S. Army specification 3–175; (v) ES–680A, B Classes 300 to 399 inclusive; and (vi) Bureau of Ships ad Interim specification 52–P–26.

For replacements of these specifications, see paragraph (e) below.

(e) Replacements for certain specifications. In the place of those specifications enumerated in paragraph (d) (5) for which phthalic anhydride is prohibited, the following replacement specifications may be used provided the phthalic anhydride content of the vehicle does not exceed 16 per cent of the total vehicle solids:

(1) U. S. Army specification 3–171, Grade II (Primer, Synthetic, for Ferrous Metal).

(2) U. S. Army specification 3–172A, Grade II (Primer, Synthetic Refinishing).

(3) U. S. Army specification 3–173, Grade II (Enamel, Synthetic, Lustreless).

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L–317, as amended Mar. 23, 1944, Interpretation 2]

APPLICABILITY OF INVENTORY RESTRICTIONS TO V-BOXES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Limitation Order L–317.

(a) Applicability of inventory restrictions to V-boxes. It has been called to the attention of the War Production Board that there is, in certain quarters, a misimpression to the effect that V-boxes are exempted from the Inventory Restrictions of Order L–317. This impression is completely unfounded. Inventories of V-boxes are controlled to the same extent as other fibre shipping containers by the provisions of paragraph (n) through (q) of Order L–317 and paragraph (b) of Direction 1 of that order.

(b) Cancellation of excessive V-box orders. V-box orders are also subject to the restrictions against placing excessive orders set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of Direction 1 of Order L–317. Therefore, all orders for V-boxes in excess of the amount which a person would be entitled to receive within these inventory limitations must be cancelled immediately.

(c) Responsibility of box manufacturers. Attention is called to the fact that box manufacturers share responsibility for seeing to it that no V-boxes (as well as other fibre shipping containers) are delivered which will cause a customer to exceed his permitted inventory, because under paragraph (d) of Order L–317 they are prohibited from manufacturing, selling, or delivering any new fibre shipping containers which they know or have reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of the order.

Issued this 26th day of May 1944.

[General Conservation Order M–241–a, as Amended May 19, 1944, Interpretation 3]

PUNCH BOARDS, PULL BOARDS AND SIMILAR ARTICLES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order M–241–a.

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M–241–a applies to punch boards, pull boards and similar articles. Punch boards, pull boards and similar articles are not included in "Games and Toys" on List D of the order. They are to be considered as coming within the provision of paragraph (e) (1) of the order.

(i) He is subject to subparagraph (73), (140), or (141) of paragraph (b) of this section, or

(ii) He furnishes or offers to furnish to the general public any service listed in subparagraph (28), (33), (41), (51), (81), (82), (91), (92), (99), or (110) at rates or charges which are required by law to be non-discriminatory. (2) If, in the furnishing of a service listed in subparagraph (28), (33), (41), (51), (91), or (110), the person so doing is subject to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph but if maximum rates or charges for the service have not been established, or are not otherwise regulated, by a federal, state, or municipal authority having jurisdiction, then the rate or charge for the service furnished by such person which was lawfully in effect on March 24, 1944 or, if that rate or charge has been or subsequently is increased in conformity with the requirements of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c), such higher rate or charge, shall constitute such person's maximum price for the service under this regulation and the Emergency Price Control Act. In such a case no person furnishing the service shall charge or offer to charge, and no person in the course of trade or business shall pay or offer to pay, a rate or charge higher than the maximum price for the service. Any such charge, payment, or offer to charge or pay shall constitute a violation of this regulation and of the Emergency Price Control Act.

This amendment shall become effective as of May 23, 1944.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 415,[1] Amdt. 6]

CERTAIN FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PURCHASES OF NEW RUBBER TIRES AND TUBES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 415 is amended in the following respects:

1. The preamble is amended to read as follows:

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[2] 8 F.R. 3066, 3849, 4247, 4486, 4794, 4978, 4848, 6047, 6962, 8511, 9026, 9991, 11955, 13754; 9 F.R. 1385, 5169.

In the judgement of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected or have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another Government agency.

2. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. What this regulation covers—(a) Transactions covered. This regulation covers all sales to any agency of the United States Government of new natural rubber tires, tubes, or flaps. However, neither this regulation nor the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] shall apply to sales by Rubber Development Corporation of tires and tubes imported by it into the United States, to sales to Rubber Development Corporation or to Defense Supplies Corporation, to sales of synthetic rubber tires and tubes, or to any sales of aircraft tires or tubes to the War Department or the Department of the Navy. A tire or tube is "new" if it has been used less than 1,000 miles. "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all forms and types of rubber, including scrap, synthetic, balata, and reclaimed rubber. "Synthetic rubber tires or tubes" means tires or tubes which contain any synthetic rubber and which are marked with the symbols designated by the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, to identify them as containing synthetic rubber.

(b) Relation to other regulations. This regulation supersedes any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration as to transactions covered by this regulation.

(c) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the District of Columbia, the 48 states, and the Territory of Hawaii, but not in the other territories and possessions of the United States.

3. Section 4 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Maximum prices—(a) Sales to any Government agency other than Foreign Economic Administration (including Lend-Lease), the War Department, the Department of the Navy (including Marine Corps and Coast Guard), or the Maritime Commission. The maximum prices for such sales are the prices listed in Appendix A, delivered to the buyer.

(b) Sales to the Foreign Economic Administration (including those for Lend-Lease), the War Department, the Department of the Navy (including the Marine Corps and Coast Guard), and the Maritime Commission. The maximum prices for such sales shall be determined by deducting 5 percent from the prices listed in Appendix A. Maximum prices for these sales are f. o. b. the seller's shipping point. However, the maximum price for such sales of aircraft tires and tubes shall be the prices listed in Appendix A, delivered to the buyer.

(c) Packing expenses. The maximum prices fixed by this regulation include all packing expenses, and Supplementary Order No. 34* shall not apply to this regulation.

(d) Natural rubber tires and tubes of types and sizes not listed in Appendix A. (1) The maximum price for sales of a natural rubber tire or tube of a size or type not listed in Appendix A shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum prices otherwise fixed by this regulation, authorized upon specific application to the Office of Price Administration.

(2) In all cases covered by this paragraph (d), the seller must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing the following information:

(i) A description of the tire or tube for which a maximum price is sought, including the type, brand name, size, number of plies and construction.

(ii) The proposed maximum price, and a description of the pricing method used in calculating such price.

(iii) The reasons why the seller believes that such price is consistent with the level of maximum prices otherwise fixed by this regulation.

(3) No seller required to report a maximum price under this section may accept payment for the tires or tubes (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the proposed maximum price is approved by the Office of Price Administration. The proposed maximum price, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless, within 20 days after mailing of the report (or within 20 days after the mailing of any additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed maximum price has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

(4) The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum prices proposed or established under this section so as to bring them into proper relationship with the level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation.

4. A new section 10 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 10. Applications for adjustment. (a) A manufacturer who believes that a maximum price established by this regulation impedes or threatens to impede production of a commodity which is essential to the war program may file an application for adjustment of that maximum price in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6,* issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective May 29, 1944, in the District of Columbia and the 48 states of the United States.

This amendment shall become effective July 10, 1944, in the Territory of Hawaii.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 275,[1] Amdt. 7]

EXTRACTED HONEY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 275 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1302 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1302 Exempt sales. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to sales of "packaged honey" by wholesalers and retailers for which maximum prices are to be determined under the applicable provisions of Maximum Price Regulations 421, 422, and 423.

2. Section 1351.1311 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1311 Evasion. Price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to the commodities whose prices are herein regulated alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, brokerage, premium or other privilege or other trade understanding or otherwise.

Specifically, the prices set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by any understanding between the buyer and seller whereby a seller is to ship or sell, and the buyer receive or buy honey in smaller quantities than ordered or than would have been ordered but for that understanding.

3. New subparagraphs (6) and (7) are added to § 1351.1319 (a) to read as follows:

(6) "Dealer" means any person located in the Continental United States who buys and resells bulk honey. The term includes but is not limited to the following persons: carlot shippers, jobbers, importers, persons selling for the account of foreign shippers, wholesale grocery companies, bakery and confectionery supply houses, and retailers. A producer cannot be a dealer with respect to honey which he produces, but may be a dealer with respect to honey which he has purchased in the normal course of trade or business from another producer or dealer.

(7) "Imported bulk honey" means honey which was produced outside the Continental United States and packed in quantities of more than 15 pounds. Bulk honey which is composed partly of imported honey and partly of domestic honey shall be considered "imported bulk honey".

4. Subparagraphs (3) and (4), including the footnotes applicable to terms used therein, of § 1351.1319 (b) are revoked and new subparagraphs (3), (4), (5), and (6) are added to that section to read as follows:

(3) Purchase price for bulk honey to be imported. The price per pound (net landed weight basis) c. i. f. point or port of arrival which any person may pay for bulk honey to be imported into the Continental United States shall be as follows:

0.112 for honey admitted free of U. S. duties
0.100 for honey shipped from Cuba
0.097 for all other "imported bulk honey"

(i) The above prices include foreign export duties, marine and war risk insurance, freight, and all other charges customarily borne by a seller in a c. i. f. sale, but do not include applicable U. S. duties. If the person importing the bulk honey purchases it on a basis other than c. i. f. point or port of arrival, the maximum price which he may pay shall be the appropriate price set out above less the charges and expenses he incurs in bringing it to the U. S. point of port of arrival.

(4) Dealer maximum selling prices for imported bulk honey. The dealer's maximum price applicable, U. S. duty paid for imported bulk honey shall be as follows:

[Cents per pound]

	F. o. b. freight car or truck at point or port of arrival, U. S. duty paid
	Warehoused by dealer in the U. S. A.	Not warehoused by dealer in the U. S. A.
Quantity of sale:
12,000 pounds or over	11⅛	11¾
Less than 12,000 pounds but not less than 1,500 pounds	12⅛	11¾
Less than 1,500 pounds but not less than 300 pounds	12⅛	11¾
Less than 300 pounds	14¾	11¾

(ii) A dealer's maximum price per pound f. o. b. freight car or truck at a point in the Continental United States other than the point or port of arrival, shall be the maximum price established by this paragraph for the particular quantity and kind of sale made f. o. b. freight car or truck at the point or port of arrival, plus the actual freight charges paid by the dealer to a carrier or prior vendor and incurred on the honey from the point or port of arrival to the point from which the dealer sells f. o. b. The dealer's invoice accompanying the sale shall separately show the points from and to which the freight was paid, and the amounts paid therefore.

(iii) A dealer's maximum price per pound for bulk honey, not warehoused, sold on basis other than f. o. b. car or truck, shall be 11½¢ per pound less the amount of loading and carting charges which would have been incurred if the honey had been sold f. o. b. car or truck.

(iv) A dealer's maximum price per pound for an in-bond sale of imported bulk honey shall be the maximum price established for the same type of sale made on a duty paid basis less the amount of applicable duty.

(5) Dealers' maximum selling prices for domestic bulk honey. The dealer's maximum price per pound for domestic bulk honey, f. o. b. dealer's shipping point shall be as follows:

Quantity of sale:	Prices (cents)
12,000 pounds or over	12½
Less than 12,000 pounds but not less than 1,500 pounds	13½
Less than 1,500 pounds but not less than 300 pounds	14½
Less than 300 pounds	15½

(i) To the above table of prices the dealer may add the following:

(a) ½¢ per pound in instances where he sells the honey in the container without such container being returned or another one being received in exchange.

(b) The actual freight charges paid by the dealer to a carrier or prior vendor, and incurred on the honey from the "producer's local shipping point" to the point from which the dealer sells f. o. b.; Provided, That the dealer states such charges on the invoice accompanying the sale, and lists the "producer's local shipping point" from which such honey was originally obtained.

(6) Dealers' service charges. (i) Whenever any dealer (located in the Continental United States) or the dealer (located in the Continental United States) who supplied him has, within the continental limits of the United States, heated and strained, or heated and filtered, and repacked the bulk honey into a new or thoroughly cleaned container, a service charge not exceeding 1¢ per pound for domestic bulk honey so treated or 1½¢ per pound for imported bulk honey so treated may be charged by such dealer to all buyers except buyers engaged in the business of bottling honey (to whom no such charge may be made). In the event such dealer, or such dealer who supplied him received the imported bulk honey in barrels and repacked it into metal containers after heating and straining it, or heating and filtering it, the maximum service charge shall be 2¢ per pound instead of 1½¢ per pound.

(ii) A dealer shall not make any of the service charges provided above unless (a) the invoice which he gives to his purchaser states that the honey has been heated and strained, or heated and filtered, and repacked into a container by a dealer located in the United States, and states the name and address of the dealer who performed such service, and (b) the honey is in a container which is marked "Repacked in the United States."

This amendment shall become effective May 31, 1944.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Prices higher than ceiling prohibited. (a) On and after May 31, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any Sitka spruce lumber for direct-mill shipment at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 2. What products are covered. This regulation covers all Sitka spruce (picea sitchensis) lumber, except aircraft grades as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109[1], Aircraft Lumber, whether the grades, sizes, and specifications are specifically named in the price tables in Article V, or not. Sitka spruce lumber produced in all parts of the United States, in Canada, and in Alaska, is covered. All grade terms have the meaning given in the Standard Grading and Dressing Rules, Number 12, issued by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, effective March 1, 1943.

SEC. 3. What transactions are covered.—(a) Direct mill shipments. This regulation applies to all shipments originating at a mill, no matter who the seller is, and no matter whether he usually is known as a mill, wholesaler, retailer or anything else. It does not apply to sales out of distribution yard stock. (The prices for yard sales may be found in Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.[2]) A shipment is regarded as originating at a mill if the lumber reaches the purchaser without ever becoming an integral part of the stock of a distribution yard. A sale is considered a sale out of distribution yard stock only if the lumber was a part of regular yard stock at the time the sale was made.

(b) How to tell a mill from a distribution yard. The term "mill", as used here, covers what are known in the trade as sawmills, planning mills and concentration yards. Three types of establishment are described below: The first, (1), a typical sawmill or planing mill; the second, (2), a typical concentration yard; and the third, (3), a typical distribution yard. An establishment which resembles (1) or (2) more than it does (3) is considered a mill; and one which resembles (3) more than it does (1) or (2) is considered a distribution yard:

(1) "A typical sawmill or planing mill" is an establishment which is chiefly engaged in manufacturing lumber from logs or rough lumber by sawing or planing; which is located in or near a lumber producing area; which makes and sells chiefly Sitka spruce lumber.

(2) "A typical concentration yard" is an establishment which concentrates and prepares lumber for commercial shipment; which keeps in stock mostly Sitka spruce or other West Coast lumber; which has its lumber brought in chiefly in rough green form by truck from small local sawmills and sells chiefly for rail shipment; and which has been located at its particular site to be near the lumber producing area.

(3) "A typical distribution yard" is a wholesale or retail lumber yard which gets lumber from mills or other yards; unloads, sorts, stores, and resells or redistributes it; which regularly maintains a varied stock of lumber from different regions; which gets its lumber mostly by rail and sells mostly for truck shipment; which is equipped to make quick deliveries of many different items of lumber; and which has been located at its particular site in order to be near a lumber consuming area.

(c) New yards. In order to prevent violation of this regulation by unnecessary routing through yards, the Office of Price Administration will not recognize distribution yards set up after January 5, 1943, unless the new yard writes to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and proves that it satisfies the requirements of the definition and that the purpose is not to get around this regulation by means of unnecessary yard business. Until approval is received, the new yard cannot consider itself a distribution yard for the purpose either of this regulation or of any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) No quantity limits. There are no quantity limits on the transactions covered by this regulation. All direct-mill sales, large or small, are covered.

SEC. 4. What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase described above, for himself or others, is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group, their legal successors and representatives, the United States or any government or any of their political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[2] 8 F.R. 14145; 9 F.R. 221, 2553, 2948.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 5. Basic prices and cash discount.—(a) Basic prices. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill are set forth in Article V—Price Tables.

(b) Cash discount. If cash is paid, the maximum price must be reduced by the seller's October 1941 cash discount. For example, if the October 1941 discount for cash was 2%, and the maximum price without discount according to this regulation is $30.00, the maximum price when cash is paid is $29.40. If the seller was not in business in October 1941, the discount for cash is 2%. In any case on specific written allocations issued by the Office of the Chief of Engineers, War Department, the terms 30 days net may be used regardless of former practices.

SEC. 6. Direct-mill retail sales. An addition of $3.50 per thousand feet may be made on a sale of less than 20,000 ft. BM (or less than carload if by rail), to any buyer who does not purchase for resale, where the shipment originates at a mill and the seller:

(a) Sees that the lumber is delivered to the job site at such time and in such manner as the buyer specifies;

(b) Gives the buyer the privilege of exchanging the lumber and returning unused material; and

(c) Agrees to make good any shortage promptly from stocks kept on hand for this purpose.

The size of the sale is determined by the total quantity involved in the transaction without regard to whether it is broken up into smaller orders or deliveries.

SEC. 7. Sales on delivered basis.—(a) Rail charges. (1) Only two methods of selling are recognized by this regulation. Any other method is prohibited, as a device to evade the ceiling by manipulation of freight.

The two permitted methods are: On a delivered basis using the estimated weights in Article VI or on an f. o. b. mill basis with actual freight (figured, of course, on actual weights) to be paid by the purchaser.

The two methods may not be combined in a single transaction; that is, a seller may not sell on a basis which gives him the benefit of favorable estimated weights but requires the use of actual weights on items where estimated weights would be unfavorable to him. Note that sales described as "ceiling delivered", or as f. o. b. mill with freight paid or included to a given destination, are to be treated as sales on a delivered basis. In such cases, the given estimated weights must be used. However, sales f. o. b. mill with seller to pay the freight to a stated destination and include it in his invoice to the buyer is a sale on an f. o. b. mill basis, and settlement on the basis of the actual weights must be made.

(2) The estimated green weights may be used only when green lumber is actually specified and shipped.

(3) The transportation charge, when estimated weights are used, must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per 1000 feet board measure (nearest 5 cents per 1000 pieces of lath).

(b) Common or contract carrier (other than rail). Where transportation is by common or contract carrier (other than rail) the only rule is that actual cost of transportation may be added to the f. o. b. mill ceiling.

(c) Private truck. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the following amounts may be added for transportation: For distances up to and including 10 miles, $1.50 per M'; over 10 and up to and including 20 miles, $2.00 per M'; and over 20 and up to and including 30 miles, $2.50 per M'. Where the distance is greater than 30 miles, the seller may charge the amount of the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most similar haul or $3.00 per M', whichever is greater. Distance, as used in this paragraph, means the distance from the mill to the point of destination as measured by the speedometer. No addition may be made for the return trip.

(d) Trucking to rail shipping point. When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as when a mill located away from a railhead hauls by truck to the railroad, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following cases a mill may apply for special permission to make an addition:

(1) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne lumber, and where shortage of shipping has forced it to operate by rail;

(2) Where a mill's rail connection has been abandoned since September 5, 1941, and it has no comparable rail shipping point.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and may be acted upon by letter or telegram. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received.

(e) Truck delivery after rail haul. When truck delivery to yard or job site follows a rail haul, and is specified in the order, the actual cost of truck delivery may be added. This may include the actual cost of handling and reloading involved in transfer from rail cars to trucks.

(f) All-truck haul. When an all-truck haul ends in delivery to the job site, no special addition may be made above the charges provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

SEC. 8. Maximum Export Price Regulation. The maximum price for export sales of Sitka spruce lumber is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[4]

SEC. 9. Lumber produced in Canada. The maximum prices for lumber produced in Canada and sold in the United States shall be the maximum prices f. o. b. mill set forth in Article V plus additions for transportation permitted by section 7: Provided, however, That the amount of such addition may not be greater than if the shipment had originated at Bellingham, Washington.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for Alaska lumber. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for shipments originating in Alaska and delivered to points in Alaska or outside the continental United States shall be the maximum f. o. b. mill prices set forth in Article V plus an amount equal to freight under the Maritime Commission's published freight rate from Seattle, Washington, to the mill's shipping point, including surcharges, War Risk insurance, and wharfage and handling charges under the published Seattle Wharfage and Handling rate for comparable lumber. For all other shipments, the regular maximum f. o. b. mill prices apply.

SEC. 11. Grades, services, or extras not listed. (a) If a seller wishes to sell a grade which is not specifically priced in the price tables, or wishes to make an addition for special workings, specifications, services, or other extras for which additions are not specifically permitted, he must apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for a maximum price. He must provide the following information:

(1) The requested price;

(2) A complete description of the item to be priced;

(3) The price differential between it and the most comparable item in the price tables, between October 1, 1941 and June 1, 1942, from the seller's own records, or if that is impossible, from the experience of the trade. If no established price differential existed, a detailed analysis of comparative value should be furnished.

(b) As soon as the request has been filed, quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price, but the final payment may not be made until the price has been approved. Action on the request may be by letter or telegram.

(c) In all cases where special prices have been approved by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration under § 1381.457 of the earlier regulation, Maximum Price Regulation 290; these special prices shall no longer apply if specific prices for the items are established by this regulation; but if no specific prices are established in the price tables, the price approved under the earlier regulation shall continue in effect.

(d) On any sale involving a "nonlisted" price or addition contemplated by paragraph (a) of this section, if the seller, for any reason, shall have failed to apply for approval of a maximum price under paragraph (a), the maximum price for the item sold shall be $15.00 per thousand board feet, which maximum price shall include all allowances or additions for grade, size, condition, special workings, specifications or other extras.

ARTICLE III—SPECIFIC DUTIES AND PROHIBITED PRACTICES

SEC. 12. What the invoice must contain.—(a) F. o. b. mill price. All invoices must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification, or extra which affects the maximum f. o. b. mill prices must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for these does not have to be separately shown.

(b) Charges for transportation. In all delivered sales, the invoice must show the:

(1) Point of origin of shipment;
(2) Destination;
(3) Rail rate, if estimated weights are used; otherwise the actual amount added for transportation;
(4) The words "Direct-mill shipment".

(c) Delivery and related charges. Any separate charge which the seller is permitted to make for truck delivery after rail haul, or for trucking to railhead, must be separately shown on the invoice.

(d) Direct-mill retail sale. If the "direct-mill retail sale" mark-up is permissible and is added, this must be separately indicated in the invoice.

SEC. 13. Averaging out.—(a) Different grades, classes or sizes. Different grades, classes or sizes of lumber may be sold and invoiced at an average price if all of the following conditions are observed:

(1) The footage of each item must be shown separately, and a piece tally must be furnished for each shipment.

(2) The average price for the lumber actually shipped must not be higher than it would have been if all the individual grades, classes, and sizes shipped had been sold separately at the individual ceiling price.

(3) If the order is shipped in more than a single carload, truckload, or boat shipment, the following invoicing and charging practices must also be followed:

(i) The invoice must show that it is part of a larger order and identify the order. It must also show the individual ceiling prices for the various items of lumber actually contained in each shipment, and the average selling price agreed upon.

(ii) The charges which may be made and collected on account for each shipment must not exceed the average price agreed upon or the total of the ceiling prices for the items in the particular shipment, whichever is the lower. Thus, if an average price was quoted on widths from 4" to 12", and if a car of all 4" was shipped, only the 4" price can be charged and collected on that car. But if a car of all 12" widths was shipped, only the average price quoted could be charged on that car.

(iii) Upon completion of the order the seller must render a final invoice showing the quantity of each shipment or delivery, the freight charge for each if sold on a delivered basis, the amount received on account, the total amount due on the order at the agreed average prices, and a reconciliation of the total amount so computed with the maximum prices permitted by this regulation. Final payment and all necessary adjustments between buyer and seller are to be made upon the final reconciliation.

(b) Different freight rates. When a single order, for which a single flat delivered price was quoted and accepted, is shipped from two or more mills to a single destination on varying freight rates, the seller may average-out the transportation charges. For example, if a wholesaler bids $33.00 per MBM on a single order of a hundred thousand feet of lumber, the ceiling price being $30.00 per MBM and the estimated freight $3.00, he can ship half of it on a rate resulting in a $2.00 freight charge and half on a rate resulting in a $4.00 freight charge.

(1) Where this practice is adopted, the seller must observe all of the following conditions:

(i) Each invoice must state that the particular shipment is part of a larger order and identify the order. It must also show the individual rates for each delivery or shipment.

(ii) The transportation charges which may be made and collected for each shipment or delivery, on account, must not exceed the average transportation charge figured on the entire order or the actual transportation charge for the particular shipment based upon the permitted estimated weights, whichever is the lower.

(iii) Upon completion of the order the seller must render a final invoice showing the individual f. o. b. mill prices separately, the amount shipped from each mill, the freight charge for each shipment, and a reconciliation of the total amount so computed with the agreed delivered selling prices and also with the maximum prices permitted by this regulation. In the event that the sale was made at an average price for different grades, classes or sizes of lumber as well as an averaging-out of transportation charges, the provisions of (a) above shall also be observed. Final payment and all necessary adjustments between buyer and seller are to be made upon the final reconciliation.

SEC. 14. What records must be kept. All sellers and all buyers who, in any one calendar month, sell or buy 20,000 board feet or more of Sitka spruce lumber, must keep records which will contain a complete description of the lumber involved, the name and address of the other party to the transaction, the date of the sale, and the price. Such records must be retained for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 15. Prohibited practices.—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are some of the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices from what they were in October 1941. This includes decreasing credit periods or making greater charges for extension of credit.

(2) Refusing, without good reason, to ship except in specified or restricted random lengths, or in mixed cars, or under other circumstances which bring the seller an extra return.

(3) Selling as specified lengths or widths, a specific lot or shipment of lumber which is substantially equivalent to random lengths or widths, or reselling intact as specified lengths or widths a specific lot or shipment bought by the seller as standard or random lengths or widths, unless specifically permitted in the price tables. This prohibition shall not apply to shipments or deliveries which have been sorted out as to widths and lengths and then resold.

(4) Grading as a special grade lumber which can be graded as a standard grade; or wrongly or falsely grading or invoicing lumber.

(5) Making additions for special specifications, services, or other extras which are not specifically permitted.

(6) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. mill basis, and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(7) Failing to invoice properly and in accordance with the requirements of this regulation.

(8) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard.

(9) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(10) Making additions for kiln-drying, anti-stain treatment or other services, treatments, or specifications unless they are expressly ordered by the buyer.

(11) Getting a higher price by charging the buyer for ripping or resawing, or charging on the basis of an original size larger than the item actually delivered (for example, charging the price of 4 x 4 ripped to 2 x 4 on a sale and delivery of 2 x 4's) except where the items ordered and delivered are non-standard sizes not specifically priced in the tables. This prohibition has no application where the buyer specifies the larger size to be ripped or resawn into items of smaller size and the resulting items are priced higher in the tables than the original larger size; for example, the buyer may order 1 x 4 x 12' #2 Common, priced at $27.00 per MBM ripped to 1 x 2 x 12'. By buying the larger size ripped the price to the buyer is lower ($28.00) than it would have been had he ordered the 1 x 2 as such ($31.00). In this example the maximum price is $28.00.

(12) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want; for example, making a buyer who orders No. 2 Common take all the upper grades that develop.

(13) Breaking up an order or apportioning deliveries in order to get the $3.50 direct-mill retail sale addition.

(c) Adding commission to ceiling prohibited. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring (including buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of lumber. This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, insofar as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

(d) Combination grades. Lumber sold on combination grades may not be sold above the maximum price for the lowest priced grade actually named in the combination. For example, the maximum price for lumber sold as No. 2 and better is the maximum price fixed for No. 2 lumber. It is permissible to quote with specified higher grades as developed, but when the lumber is shipped, the quantities falling in each grade must be tallied separately on a board foot basis, separately identified by grade (except shop grades when sold to millwork establishments), and separately invoiced at prices not in excess of ceiling prices for the respective grades.

SEC. 16. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 17. Special pricing rules. (a) Where the buyer specifies restricted lengths or an average length and the shipment or order fails to conform, the entire shipment must be priced at the random length price (unless the agreed price is lower).

(b) Where the buyer orders a random length shipment, and the given percentages of lengths as specified in footnotes to some of the price tables are not met because there is too large a percentage of shorts, the excess shorts must be priced at the separate prices for the short lengths.

(c) Where random length shipments required to average a specified length (e. g. 12' in the Board Table) fall short of this average, the price may not exceed that of the nearest shorter even length below the average length actually shipped.

(d) Where the order fails to specify the grade required, the seller may only ship and charge for No. 2 Common, unless otherwise agreed.

(e) Where the invoice does not specify the grade shipped or delivered, the price of the lowest grade in the shipment shall apply to the whole order.

(f) Where moisture content requirements are waived by the purchaser, the maximum price for the whole order, shipment, or delivery shall be the price herein established for green lumber. Where such a sale is made on a delivered basis, the seller may only use the given estimated weights for dry lumber in computing transportation costs.

(g) None of the additions permitted in the footnotes to the tables in Articles V may be added to the prices of the various items set forth in the tables unless the order expressly requires the working, grade, condition, size, or length for which the additions are permitted.

(h) In any case where a maximum price established in the former MPR 290, or in this revision or any later amendment, is reduced by subsequent amendment, sellers who have entered into firm contracts on the basis of the earlier ceilings may apply for special permission to complete shipment under such firm contracts without regard to the new ceiling, under the following rules and conditions:

(1) The permission, if granted, will allow completion of the contract within 60 days from the effective date of the action setting up the new ceilings.

(2) The existence of a "firm contract" must be shown by the seller's submitting a copy of formal contract or copies of written order and acceptance covering specific items, quantities, and prices.

(3) The application must show that the items covered by the contract were actually being produced and had not been shipped on the effective date of the action which changes the maximum price.

(4) The seller must state in his application—and the permission, if granted, will be so limited—that all prices shown in the contract will be adhered to, even though the maximum price on some items included therein may have been increased by the price action.

(5) Applications must be sent to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The Lumber Branch may grant or deny such applications by letter or telegram.

Note that the seller must apply for the special permission covered in this paragraph, and he may not go ahead on the basis of the contract prices unless and until he has received the authorization to do so.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 18. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment.—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6 [8] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or subcontracts.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [9] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) In treating with petitions for amendment or adjustment, consideration will not be given to log and bolt costs which are higher than the applicable maximum purchase prices for logs and bolts established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 161 (West Coast Logs), and 348 (Logs and Bolts), or any revision or amendment of those regulations. This rule shall be followed regardless of whether the petitioner gets logs and bolts by purchasing them, logging his own standing timber, contracting for the logging of his own standing timber, or any other means. All petitions in any way based on the cost of logs or bolts must show the actual cost to the petitioner of logs and bolts received at his plant during the three months immediately prior to filing the petition, and the cost which would have been incurred by the petitioner if all of these logs and bolts had been purchased by him at ceiling prices. To figure these ceiling prices the petitioner should refer to the regulation which fixes the maximum prices for purchases and sales of the kinds of logs and bolts received at his plant.

SEC. 19. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. Persons who make sales covered by this regulation to war procurement agencies and buyers to whom lumber has been allocated by any such agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

SEC. 20. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[7] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

AMERICAN STATES UTILITIES CORP., ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 25th day of May, A. D. 1944.

In the matter of American States Utilities Corporation, Edison Sault Electric Company, Southern California Water Company, Respondents.

Simplification of holding company system. Extension of time pursuant to section 11 (c) of the act. Application of a registered holding company and its subsidiary companies, filed pursuant to section 11 (c), for an extension of time within which to comply with an order issued pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) requiring the holding company to liquidate and dissolve, granted, for a period of six months, the Commission finding that applicant has been unable in the exercise of due diligence to comply with the order within one year from the date thereof and that such extension is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers. Appearances: M. Morton Weinstein of the Public Utilities Division of the Commission.

American States Utilities Corporation ("American States"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary companies, Edison Sault Electric Company ("Edison Sault") and Southern California Water Company ("Southern California") have filed an application pursuant to section 11 (c)[1] of the Public

[1] Section 11 (c) provides:

(c) Any order under subsection (b) shall be complied with within one year from the date of such order; but the Commission shall, upon a showing (made before or after the entry of such order) that the applicant has been or will be unable in the exercise of due diligence to comply with such order within such time, extend such time for an additional period not exceeding one year if it finds such extension necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requesting a six months' extension of the period within which it must comply with an order of the Commission dated April 9, 1943.[1] Such order directed, pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act, that American States take such action as is necessary to cause its liquidation and dissolution, and further directed American States and its subsidiaries to submit a plan to effect prompt compliance with the said order.

After appropriate notice, a public hearing was held upon said application, and the Commission, having considered the record, makes the following findings:

At the time of the entry of our order of April 9, 1943, American States had three subsidiary companies, Edison Sault, an electric utility operating in the upper peninsula of Michigan and on Mackinac Island, Michigan, Southern California, a water company operating in and about the City of Los Angeles, California, and Grimes Pass Power Company, an electric utility operating in Boise County, Idaho.

Since April 9, 1943, American States has caused Grimes Pass Power Company to sell and dispose of all its assets and to dissolve. In order to dispose of its interests in Edison Sault and Southern California and to effectuate compliance with the terms of our order of April 9, 1943, American States has filed with this Commission a plan of liquidation which proposes the distribution in kind to its preferred and common stockholders of its interests in the said remaining subsidiaries. Public hearings have been ordered to be held on this plan before a trial examiner of this Commission on June 8, 1944.[2] The record indicates that much time during the year was expended in the formulation of the said plan, including the preparation of various studies on the assets and earning power of Edison Sault and Southern California.

In view of all the circumstances, we find that the applicants have made a showing of due diligence within the purview of section 11 (c) of the act and that an extension of time of six months within which to comply with our order of April 9, 1943 is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers.

It is therefore ordered, That American States Utilities Corporation, Edison Sault Electric Company and Southern California Water Company be, and are hereby, granted an additional period of six months from April 9, 1944, within which to comply with the provisions of the said order of April 9, 1943.

By the Commission.

1. The reduction of the stated value of the no par value common stock of Northern Indiana Public Service Company from $18,790,223.34 to $13,851,356.81, thereby creating capital surplus in the amount of $4,938,866.53, to be immediately extinguished by charging it with $4,938,866.53 of the $8,455,526.46 reclassified, as of January 1, 1937, in its plant adjustment account.

2. The refinancing of 220,078 shares of its outstanding cumulative preferred stock (69,858 shares of the 7% series, 124,505 shares of the 6% series, and 25,715 shares of the 5½% series).

3. A request that the Commission enter an order finding that compliance with Rule U-50 requiring competitive bidding is not appropriate or necessary with respect to the refinancing of the preferred stock.

Northern Indiana Public Service Company having requested that the Commission defer action until the filing of a further amendment upon the refinancing of the preferred stocks; and

Public hearings having been held upon such matters after appropriate notice, and the Commission having considered the record and having made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

It is ordered, That said declaration, as amended, relating to the reduction of the stated value of the no par value common stock of Northern Indiana Public Service Company and the accompanying accounting adjustments, be and hereby is permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

Findings and Determinations

Findings up the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and milk orders (7 CFR, 1941 Supp., 900.1–900.17; 7 F.R. 3350; 8 F.R. 2815) a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and upon a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced in such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The issuance of this order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and all of the terms and conditions of this order, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement, upon which a hearing has been held; and

(4) The handling of all milk sold or disposed of in the marketing area, as defined herein, is in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

Additional findings. (1) It is hereby found and proclaimed in connection with the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, that the purchasing power of such milk during the pre-war period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such milk for the post-war period August 1919–July 1929 can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture; and the post-war period August 1919–July 1929 is the base period to be used in connection with the said marketing agreement and this order in determining the purchasing power of such milk.

(2) It is hereby found that the necessary expenses of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will amount to approximately $12,000 per year; and the pro-rata share of such expenses to be paid by each handler is hereby approved in the maximum amount of 4 cents per hundredweight on all milk received from producers and produced by such handler during each delivery period.

Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk which is marketed within the said marketing area refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of the order and who, during the month of January 1944 (which month is hereby determined to be a representative period), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order Relative to Handling

It is hereby ordered, That such handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce shall from the effective date hereof be in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

This definition shall include any person who produces milk which a cooperative association causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(2) Pay out of the funds provided by § 968.11 hereof the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office;

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate;

(4) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the War Food Administrator, the name of any person who within 10 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (i) made reports pursuant to § 968.5 or (ii) made payments pursuant to § 968.8; and

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

§ 968.3 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All milk and milk products purchased or received by each handler, including milk of a producer which a cooperative association causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in the marketing area, shall be reported by the handler in the classes set forth in (b) of this section: Provided, That (i) milk sold or disposed of by a handler as fluid milk to a nonhandler who distributes fluid milk or cream shall be classified as Class I milk, and cream sold or disposed of by a handler as cream to such nonhandler shall be classified as Class II milk; (ii) milk or cream sold or disposed of by a handler to a nonhandler who does not distribute fluid milk or cream shall be classified as Class III milk subject to verification by the market administrator; (iii) milk sold or disposed of as fluid milk by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class I milk: Provided, That if such milk, except milk sold or disposed of by such handler to another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class II milk or Class III milk, such milk shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator; (iv) cream sold or disposed of as fluid cream by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class II milk: Provided, That if such cream, sold or disposed of by such handler to another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class III milk, such cream shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator; and (v) milk or cream sold or disposed of by a handler who receives no milk from producers to another handler who receives milk from producers shall be classified in the lowest use classification of the purchasing handler.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) of this section the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk and skim milk disposed of in the form of milk and buttermilk or in the form of flavored milk drinks containing more than 1 percent butterfat and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk or Class III milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk used to produce cream (for consumption as cream, including any cream product in fluid form which contains 6 percent or more butterfat), creamed cottage cheese, aerated cream, eggnog, and flavored milk drinks containing not more than 1 percent butterfat.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk specifically accounted for (i) as used to produce a milk product other than those specified in Class II milk and (ii) as actual plant shrinkage but not to exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification as required in (b) of this section, of any milk received by a handler from producers, the burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period each handler shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section, as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received as follows: add together the total pounds of milk received from (i) producers, (ii) own farm production, (iii) other handlers, and (iv) other sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (i) Multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk received from (a) producers, (b) own farm production, (c) other handlers, and (d) other sources, (ii) add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) Convert to pounds the quantity of Class I milk on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart, (ii) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk, and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk and Class III milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) and (5) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of butterfat received computed in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 3.8 percent and added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to (i) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II milk by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, and (iii) divide the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class III by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, (iii) subtract from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, computed pursuant to (3) (ii) of this paragraph, the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers by the handler), (iv) add together the results obtained in (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph, and (v) divide the results obtained in (iv) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(6) Determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(i) Subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from other handlers and used in such class.

(ii) Subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from sources other than producers, own farm production, and other handlers in series beginning with the lowest class.

(iii) Subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk which were received from the handler's own farm production.

(e) Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. In the event of a difference between the total quantity of milk used in the several classes as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section and the quantity of milk received from producers, except for excess milk or milk equivalent of butterfat pursuant to § 968.6 (d), such difference shall be reconciled as follows:

(1) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section, is less than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

(2) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section, is greater than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

§ 968.4 Minimum prices — (a) Class prices. Each handler shall pay producers at the time and in the manner set forth in § 968.8 for milk purchased or received from them, not less than the following prices:

(1) Class I milk: $3.65 per hundredweight.

(2) Class II milk: $3.40 per hundredweight.

(3) Class III milk: The price per hundredweight shall be the highest price paid during each delivery period for ungraded milk containing 3.8 percent butterfat by any of the following: De Coursey Cream Company at its plants at Wichita or Anthony, Kansas; the Central Kansas Cooperative Creamery Association at its plant at Hillsboro, Kansas; or the Arkansas City Cooperative Milk Association at its plant at Arkansas City, Kansas.

§ 968.5 Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler who purchased or received milk from sources other than his own production or other handlers shall, with respect to milk or dairy products which were purchased, received, or produced by such handler during such delivery period, report to the market administrator in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(1) The receipts at each plant of milk from each producer, the butterfat content, and the number of days on which milk was received from each producer;

(2) The receipts from such handler's own farm production and the butterfat content;

(3) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from handlers who purchase or receive milk from producers and the butterfat content;

(4) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from any other source and the butterfat content;

(5) The respective quantities of milk and milk products and the butterfat content which were sold, distributed, or used, including sales to other handlers for the purpose of classification pursuant to § 968.3; and

(6) Such other information with respect to the use of the milk as the market administrator may request.

(b) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, upon the request of the market administrator, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period which shall show for each producer: (1) his total deliveries of base milk and total deliveries of milk in excess of base milk, (2) the average butterfat content of his milk, and (3) the net amount of such handler's payments to such producer with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

(c) Reports of handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers. Handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require.

(d) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk the classification depends. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and milk products and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk and milk products, and in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk purchased or received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in § 968.8.

§ 968.6 Application of provisions. (a) The provisions of §§ 968.3, 968.7, 968.8, 968.9, 968.10, and 968.11 shall not apply to a handler whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers.

(b) If a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, purchases or receives milk or cream in bulk from another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers and sells or disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 968.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(c) If a handler has sold or disposed of milk or cream which was received from sources other than producers, his own farm production, or other handlers as Class I or Class II milk within the marketing area to persons other than a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 968.7, shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(d) If a handler has purchased or received milk or butterfat from sources determined as other than producer, own farm production, or other handlers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler pursuant to § 968.7, shall consider such milk or the milk equivalent of such butterfat as Class III milk. If the receiving handler sells or disposes of such milk or butterfat for other than Class III purposes, the market administfator shall add an amount equal to the differences between (1) the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(e) The provisions of (b), (c), and (d) above shall not apply if the handler can prove to the market administrator that such milk or butterfat was used only to the extent that milk of producers was not available.

(f) If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers, own farm production, or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 968.7, shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler.

§ 968.7 Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligations of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply the pounds of milk in each class computed pursuant to § 968.3 (d) by the class price pursuant to § 968.4 (a), add together the resulting values, and add the value of any payments required to be made pursuant to § 968.6.

(b) Computation and announcement of the uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundred weight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers computed pursuant to (a) of this section who made the reports prescribed by § 968.5 and who made the payments prescribed by § 968.8;

(2) Add an amount equal to one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the amount due handlers pursuant to § 968.8 (g);

(3) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payments by handlers.

(4) Compute the total quantity of milk which represents the delivered bases of producers and which is included in the computation made pursuant to (a) of this section.

(5) Compute the total value of the milk which is in excess of the delivered bases of producers determined pursuant to (4) of this paragraph and which is included in the computation pursuant to (a) of this section, by multiplying such quantity of milk by the Class III price.

(6) Compute the total value of the milk represented by the delivered bases of producers by subtracting the value obtained in (5) of this paragraph from the value obtained in (1) of this paragraph.

(7) Divide the result obtained in (6) of this paragraph by the quantity of milk represented by the delivered bases of producers as determined in (4) of this paragraph. This result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for such delivery period for base milk of producers containing a 3.8 percent butterfat.

(8) On or before the 8th day after the end of each delivery period notify all handlers and make public announcement of these computations, of the uniform price per hundredweight of base milk, computed pursuant to this paragraph, and of the Class I, Class II, and Class III prices computed pursuant to § 968.4.

§ 968.8 Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment, after deducting the amount of the payment made pursuant to (b) of this section, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(1) To each producer, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to § 968.7 (b) for that quantity of milk received from each producer not in excess of such producer's base;

(2) To each producer, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, not less than the Class III price for that quantity of milk received from such producer in excess of such producer's base; and

(3) To a cooperative association for milk which it caused to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments, a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(b) Half delivery period payments. On or before the 25th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of such delivery period, was received by such handler.

(c) Butterfat differential. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.8 percent, such handler in making the payments prescribed in (a) of this section, shall add to the prices per hundredweight for such producers for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.8 percent not less than, or shall subtract from such prices for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.8 percent not more than, an amount computed as follows: to the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (e) and (g) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (f) and (g) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the uniform price for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation, including the payments to producers which are required to be made pursuant to § 968.6 is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to (a) of this section and adding together the resulting amounts, and shall enter such amount on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or credit, as the case may be, and render such handler a transcript of his account.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund, the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler including the payments required to be made pursuant to § 968.6 is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

(f) Payment out of the producer-settlement fund. (1) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) (1) and (2) of this section is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler, including the payments required to be made pursuant to § 968.6.

(2) If the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 10th day after the end of the delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator, shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(g) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to (d) of this section the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to (f) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following the disclosure.

§ 968.9 Base rating—(a) Determination of base. The base of each producer, who is not also a handler, shall be a quantity of milk for each delivery period calculated by the market administrator in the following manner: Multiply the applicable figure computed pursuant to (b) of this section by the number of days for which such producer's milk was delivered during the delivery period: Provided, That, if during any delivery period the total milk not in excess of base, delivered by all producers does not equal 105 percent of Class I and Class II sales for the delivery period, the market administrator shall add thereto as emergency base, in the case of each producer who delivered milk in excess of his base the percent of his excess milk which is the percent of his total excess milk needed to bring total base deliveries up to approximately 110 percent of Class I and Class II sales.

(b) Determination of daily base. (1) Effective for the calendar quarter ending June 30, 1944, the daily base of each producer shall be the daily base of such producer on record in the office of the market administrator under the Amended License for Milk No. 44, Wichita, Kansas, Sales Area, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, August 14, 1935. If no such base is on record for any producer who is not also a handler, the market administrator shall determine a base for such producer in the manner provided in (3) of this paragraph.

(2) For each calendar quarter subsequent to June 30, 1944, the daily base of each producer shall be an amount calculated by the market administrator as follows: (i) Divide the total milk, not in excess of his base, delivered by each producer during the next preceding calendar quarter by the number of days in that quarter and (ii) if the total of the figures so calculated for all producers is not equal to 110 percent of the total sales of Class I and Class II milk by all handlers during that quarter, add to the figure for each producer an equal amount sufficient to bring the total to 110 percent of the total sales of Class I and Class II milk.

(3) In the case of a producer who resumes delivery after not having marketed milk to a handler for a period of more than 30 consecutive days or for whom there is no base on record in the office of the market administrator, a base shall be allotted in the following manner: for each delivery period from the date upon which such producer first markets milk to a handler until the conclusion of one full calendar quarter, the market administrator shall multiply such producer's daily average deliveries of milk by the percentage that base deliveries were to total deliveries to the market during the delivery period by all base holding producers on the market. After the conclusion of one full calendar quarter, the market administrator shall determine a base for such producer in accordance with (2) of this paragraph.

(4) In the case of a producer who is also a handler and who disposes of all of his delivery routes to another handler who is not a producer, the market administrator shall determine the daily average of the total sales of Class I milk and Class II milk by such producer during the preceding 8 months. The figure thus determined shall be such producer's base from the date of such determination until the end of the calendar quarter next following. Thereafter the base of such producer shall be determined in accordance with (2) of this paragraph.

(c) Base rules. (1) Any producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for a period of more than 30 consecutive days shall forfeit his base. In the event such producer thereafter commences to deliver milk to a handler he shall be allotted a daily base computed in the manner provided in (b) (3) of this section.

(2) A landlord who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the tenant if the landlord owns the entire herd. A tenant who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the landlord if the tenant owns the entire herd. If the cattle are jointly owned by the tenant and landlord, the daily base shall be divided between the joint owners according to ownership of the cattle when such share basis is terminated.

(3) A producer, whether landlord or tenant, may retain his base when moving his entire herd of cows from one farm to another: Provided, That at the beginning of a tenant and landlord relationship the base of each landlord and tenant may be combined and may be divided when such relationship is terminated.

(4) Base may be transferred only under the following conditions: (i) In case of the death of a producer, his base may be transferred to a surviving member or members of his family who carry on the dairy operations, and (ii) on the retirement of a producer, his base may be transferred to an immediate member of his family who carries on the dairy operations.

(5) Any producer desiring to earn a new base may do so by notifying the market administrator that he is relinquishing his base at the beginning of the delivery period next following. In such case all milk delivered by such producer during the next 2 full calendar months shall be considered as milk in excess of base. At the end of 2 months a new base shall be allotted by the market administrator computed in the manner provided in (b) (3) of this section.

§ 968.10 Marketing service—(a) Deduction for marketing service. Except as set forth in (b) of this section each handler shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight from the payments made to each producer pursuant to § 968.8 (a) (1) and (a) (2) with respect to all milk of such producer purchased or received by such handler during the delivery period, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator for market information to, and for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk received from, said producers. The market administrator may contract with a cooperative association or cooperative associations for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the War Food Administrator determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, is performing the services set forth in (a) of this section, each handler shall make the deductions from the payments to be made pursuant to § 968.8 (a) (1) and (a) (2), which are authorized by such producers, and, on or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the associations of which such producers are members.

§ 968.11 Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers, with respect to all milk received from producers during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight, which amount shall be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the War Food Administrator.

§ 968.12 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. Any or all of the provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the War Food Administrator shall give and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. (1) If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(2) The market administrator, or such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until removed, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and when so directed by the War Food Administrator deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the War Food Administrator shall direct, and (iii) if so directed by the War Food Administrator execute assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 968.13 Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of May, 1944, to be effective on and after the 1st day of June 1944.

War Food Administrator.

PART 921—ALUMINUM AND MAGNESIUM

[Supplementary Order M-1-g, as Amended May 27, 1944]

ALUMINUM PIGMENT AND ALUMINUM COMPOSITION

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of aluminum for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 921.9 Supplementary Order M-1-g—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order.

(1) "Aluminum pigment" means any material containing aluminum which is manufactured, acquired, or disposed of for use, or which is used in making paint, ink, or other coatings, or liquid welding compound.

(2) "Aluminum composition" means any paint, ink, or other coating, or liquid welding compound, in the making of which aluminum pigment is used.

(3) "Producer" means the department of Aluminum Company of America, Reynolds Metals Company, Metals Disintegrating Company, Aluminum Bronze Powder Company, Premier Bronze Powder Works, Malone Bronze Powder Works, Inc., U. S. Bronze Powder Works, Inc., Magna Manufacturing Company, which produces aluminum pigment, and any other person who may be so designated by the War Production Board.

(4) "Distributor" means any person engaged in the business of purchasing aluminum pigment or aluminum composition and re-selling it without further processing it.

(b) Restrictions upon delivery of aluminum pigment by a producer. No producer shall deliver any aluminum pigment except pursuant to an order endorsed with a CMP allotment number in the S-2955 series or V-9 and the form of certification provided in either CMP Regulation No. 1 or 7 or in Order P-43. Such an order is an authorized controlled material order under CMP Regulations. Persons seeking to obtain aluminum pigment from a producer should apply to the War Production Board, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, on Form WPB-2360 (formerly Form CMP-13), except that where aluminum pigment is to be acquired for research, developmental or experimental activities under Order P-43, no application is necessary. A producer may refuse to accept an order for less than 100 lbs.

(c) Deliveries of aluminum pigment and aluminum composition by any person other than a producer. No person other than a producer shall, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, deliver to any other person any aluminum composition or aluminum pigment except to fill an order rated AA-5 or higher. However, during the period beginning May 15, 1944, and ending June 30, 1944, delivery by a person other than a producer may be made to any distributor even if the order placed by the distributor is unrated or rated lower than AA-5; and a distributor may at any time deliver to a consumer on unrated orders or orders rated lower than AA-5 if the aluminum composition or aluminum pigment being delivered was in the inventory of the distributor on March 15, 1944.

(d) Other restrictions on delivery. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b) or (c), no person shall deliver aluminum pigment or aluminum composition if he knows or has reason to believe it is to be used in a manner forbidden by paragraph (e) of this order.

(e) Restrictions on consumer of aluminum pigment and aluminum composition. No person (except (1) a distributor purchasing aluminum pigment or aluminum composition during the period beginning May 15, 1944, and ending June 30, 1944, (2) a consumer purchasing this material from a distributor which was or which the distributor states was in his inventory on March 15, 1944, or (3) a person purchasing directly from a producer on an authorized controlled material order as described in paragraph (b) above) shall purchase aluminum pigment or aluminum composition except on a purchase order rated AA-5 or higher. In addition, no person shall use aluminum pigment or aluminum composition in manufacturing, maintenance, repair or construction operations, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, except as follows:

(1) In the manufacture, maintenance or repair of products and equipment when they are being produced for or used by the Army or the Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, or when they are combat end products being produced for any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(2) On ship engine rooms and equipment and for repair and maintenance thereof.

(3) On trainer, civilian and commercial aircraft.

(4) For sealing of bituminous coated surfaces, unless he knows or has reason to believe that the bituminous coated surface was put on since January 1, 1944.

(5) For interior use in industrial and utility plants and for industrial and utility company equipment and for use in boiler rooms of institutions and commercial establishments, but in each case only where excessive moisture, fumes or temperatures prevail.

(6) For surfaces in the interior of dairies, milk bottling plants, food processing plants, cold storage plants and walk-in refrigerators. The term "dairy" means the portion of a structure in which milk is cooled or pasteurized.

(7) For outdoor storage tanks used for petroleum products and volatile chemicals.

(8) On hospital equipment.

(9) On caskets and casket hardware.

(10) For bridges, highway guard rails and steel transmission towers, but in each case only where already painted with aluminum.

(11) For movable farm equipment and farm implements.

(12) On railway signal equipment and railway signal towers.

(13) For research, developmental or experimental activities.

(14) For underwater protection of steel and iron.

(15) Vehicle license plates.

(16) For automotive busses, trucks and trailers, and for automotive repair parts.

(17) For coating electric light reflectors.

(18) For coating the exterior and interior of new cans and of new can and jar closures, if made of black plate or chemically treated steel.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of paragraph (e), any person may use for any purpose any aluminum composition which he purchases from a distributor and which was or was stated by the distributor to have been in the distributor's inventory on March 15, 1944; and a printing shop may, in addition, in printing and lithographing, use any aluminum composition in its possession on May 15, 1944. An individual acting in his private capacity and not engaged in work for which he is compensated, may use for his own needs any aluminum paint or aluminum composition.

(f) Applications for authorization. A person who seeks authorization to use aluminum pigment or aluminum composition for a purpose other than one specified in paragraph (e) of this order, shall apply by letter to the War Production Board, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-1-g, setting forth:

(1) The pounds of aluminum pigment or the gallons of aluminum composition for which authorization to use is requested;

(2) Type of equipment or surface to be painted;

(3) Reason why aluminum composition is required and why the use of other material is impracticable;

(4) Rating which applicant is entitled to apply to his purchase order; and

(5) Person from whom it is to be acquired.

Special consideration will be given to requests for authorization to use aluminum pigment or composition for industrial purposes where it can be shown that its use is materially more advantageous than less critical material. The War Production Board will not grant authorizations to use aluminum pigment or composition on hydrants, lamp posts, household equipment, or in dwellings, offices, apartments, churches, or institutions, whether for internal or external use.

(g) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-1-g.

(h) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(i) Violations. Any person who willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 27th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L-197, as Amended May 27, 1944]

STEEL SHIPPING DRUMS

§ 3270.15 Limitation Order L-197—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Drum" means any single-walled cylindrical or bilged container with a capacity of 132 gallons or less (including but not limited to buckets, kits and pails) constructed wholly of steel. It does not include cans as defined in Order M-81, high or low pressure gas steel cylinders, storage tanks, or any container not usable commercially for transporting commodities.

(2) "Used drum" means any drum which has been used for shipping, storage or intra-plant transfer of products. The affixing of ends or other parts to used drums shall not cause them to be regarded as new drums.

(3) "New drum" means any drum which is not a used drum and includes rejects or seconds.

(4) "Reject or second" means any newly manufactured drum which cannot be used for the purpose for which it was intended due to some defect in it.

(5) "Industrial order" means any purchase order for or contract to buy a commodity except one placed by, or to be shipped directly to the Army, Navy, Aircraft Resources Control Office, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or one placed by any United States Government Agency when operating under Lend-Lease.

(6) "Class of Commodity" means any one of the numbered items listed in Schedule A.

Restriction on New Drums

(b) Restriction against manufacture, sale or delivery. No person shall manufacture, sell or deliver any new drums which he has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order.

(c) Restriction against acceptance or use. No person shall accept delivery of or use a new drum for packing any commodity listed in Schedule B to fill an industrial order. Where a specific commodity is listed in Schedule B, the provisions of this paragraph apply even though the general class under which the commodity may be included has a quota under Schedule A.

(d) Quota restrictions. (1) No person shall, during any calendar quarter, unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board in accordance with paragraph (d) (2):

(i) Use a greater tonnage of new drums for the packing of any class of commodities listed in Schedule A for industrial orders than 95% of the tonnage of new drums he used for that class of commodities for industrial orders in the corresponding quarter of 1943;

(ii) No person shall, in any calendar quarter, use more new drums for purposes other than packing commodities (such as drums to be used entirely within the plant or installed as integral parts of other equipment) than he used for the same purpose in the corresponding quarter of 1943.

(2) Application for authorization to exceed the quota established in paragraph (d) (1) shall be made by filing Form WPB 3770 in quadruplicate. Such applications will be considered only on the basis of essential need for, and the supply of new drums, and the availability of used or substitute containers.

(3) As an alternative to basing his packing quota for any quarter upon the usage of new drums in the corresponding quarter of 1943 as provided in paragraph (d) (1), a person may determine his packing quota for any class of commodities for any quarter by taking 23¾% of his total usage of new drums for packing that class of commodities for industrial orders during 1943. A person may not change his method of computing his packing quotas in the course of any calendar year.

(4) Where a commodity is listed in Schedule A with a quota based on previous packing in fibre drums during 1943, any person who packed the commodity in fibre drums during 1943 may in any calendar year pack in new steel drums the designated percentage of the quantity of that commodity that he packed in fibre drums in 1943 in addition to his packing quota for that commodity provided for in paragraph (d) (1).

(5) No person shall use any part of a quota given to him to pack one class of commodities to pack another class of commodities.

(6) Any person who has any part of his packing quota for a class of commodities left over from one calendar quarter may use it to pack that class of commodities in the next calendar quarter. He may also borrow up to 25% of the next quarter's quota for that purpose.

(7) The quota restrictions in this order shall apply to all new drums used for packing commodities for industrial orders beginning with May 15, 1944. For the period from May 15, 1944 to July 1, 1944, a person's quota based on usage of steel drums under paragraph (d) (1) shall be one-half of what his quota would have been for the second quarter of 1944 under the terms of this order. For the period from May 15, 1944 to December 31, 1944, a person's quota based on usage of fibre drums under paragraph (d) (4) shall be five-eighths of what it would have been for the calendar year of 1944 under the terms of this order. All authorizations issued prior to May 27, 1944, shall be null and void after May 27, 1944, when the quota restrictions go into effect.

(e) Inventory restrictions. No person shall, at any time, accept delivery of any new drum which will increase his total inventory of that type or size of drum to more than his requirements for the following sixty-day period or will increase his total inventory of all types and sizes of drums to more than one and one-half carloads, whichever is the greater. This restriction does not apply to the Army, Navy, Aircraft Resources Control Office, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

Restrictions on Used Drums

(f) Prohibition on use. No person shall pack in used drums for industrial orders a commodity which is listed in Schedule B without an asterisk. Any other commodity not appearing on Schedule B or listed there with an asterisk may be packed in used drums without limitation.

(g) Prohibition on sale or delivery. No person shall sell or deliver any used drum which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order.

(h) Restrictions. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any empty drum which was packed with an edible product the last time it was used, and which is capable of being reused for the same purpose, if he knows or has reason to believe that it will be used for packing inedible products.

(2) No person shall sell or deliver any empty drums which were packed with a naval store product the last time it was used, and which is capable of being reused for the same purpose, if he knows or has reason to believe that it will be used for packing anything other than naval store products. Naval store products as used in this paragraph means those materials which are directly derived from the oleo-resinous secretions of various species of coniferous trees; the term includes resins and liquid terpines, both crude and refined, special materials derived from these and such related products as tall oil and pine tars.

(i) Exceptions. Nothing in this order shall apply to the use of used drums (1) for storage purposes by any person having less than five drums in use for all purposes or (2) constructed wholly of lighter than 23 gauge steel having a capacity of 25 gallons or more.

(j) Exception for packing molasses. Notwithstanding the fact that molasses appears without an asterisk on Schedule B, packers of molasses may pack it in used steel drums owned by a farmer and packed on his order for his use for ensilage. The packer may rely upon a signed statement by the purchaser that he is a farmer, that he owns the steel drum which is to be filled and that the molasses is for his own use for ensilage. If he has knowledge of these facts, he may waive the signed statement.

Preference Ratings

(k) Use of preference ratings. No preference rating shall be applied to obtain delivery of new drums except a rating which has been specifically assigned for drums by the Army, Navy, Aircraft Resources Control Office, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration or to other persons pursuant to the authorization by the Maritime Commission under Form WPB 646 (formerly PD–300) for direct or ultimate delivery to them of drums either filled or empty.

(l) Cancellation of ratings previously assigned. Any order for new drums for which a rating of AA–3 or lower has been assigned before May 27, 1944 shall be considered an unrated order whether it was placed before or after May 27, 1944.

(m) Certificate. No person shall sell or deliver any new drums unless he receives a purchaser's certificate, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. This certificate shall be in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Attention is called to the fact that this certificate, once filed by a purchaser with a supplier, covers all future deliveries from that supplier to that purchaser.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(n) Reports. Any person affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may request from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(o) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB 3770 in quadruplicate.

(p) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(q) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–197.

(r) Approval by Bureau of the Budget. The use of Form WPB 3770 has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 27th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[Limitation Order L–120, Schedule XVI]

SPECIALTY PAPER AND BOARD

§ 3281.32 Schedule XVI to Limitation Order L–120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix.

(1) The term "specialty paper and board" means and is limited to the kinds of paper and board commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of paper or board such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasised. However, a difference in the degree to which any common property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper or board or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "basis weight" means the weight in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(5) The term "thickness" means the thickness of a sheet of paper or board expressed either in terms of plies or by caliper in terms of thousandths of an inch measured by the Cady Micrometer.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper or board all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight or thickness, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size selected or specified under A of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or thickness, or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer, converter or consumer.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(11) The terms "SU" and "WO" and similar terms as applied to tag stock refer to converter tag grades recognized by the trade as standard under A (1) of such caption by these terms, and, in conjunction with numbers indicating the thickness, also indicate certain technical standards and tolerances for weight, thickness and tear which apply thereto.

(12) The term "Converter Tag Board" means and is limited to those grades commonly sold to tag manufacturers and coating mills under the names and technical standards generally recognized by the "Tag Converting" industry.

(13) The term "Dealer Tag Board" means any grade of tag board other than converter tag board grades, commonly sold and distributed in the paper trade to others than tag manufacturers.

(b) Identification of the paper or board subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper or board to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the appendix belongs each kind of paper and board manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper or board in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers or boards selling within the same general price range as the paper or board in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers or boards possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper or board in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of paper or board, or whether a particular kind of paper or board is such a paper or board at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper or board, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper or board, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of paper or board with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefore an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of paper or board shall select such "grade" or "grades" (if selection is indicated under the appropriate caption), not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB–1295 (formerly PD–589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board, in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the appendix below a manufacturer is permitted with respect to a particular grade of a kind of paper or board to select a number of colors and such selection is indicated, each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB–1295 (formerly PD–589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of specialty paper and board in any grade, color, basis weight or thickness, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the appendix (if such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption) or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule, is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(2) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(3) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(4) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(5) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under B in certain captions of the appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the greatest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption unless specific exception is made therefor under B.

(6) Specialty paper and board in process of manufacture on May 27, 1944, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper or board under each caption of the appendix (with such exceptions as may be noted under the caption), and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade for such kind. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, Provided, The parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule on an order for rolls; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions, if any, applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds" resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture paper and board according to the terms of this schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper or board is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing from the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of specialty paper or board in any size, basis weight or thickness required, regardless of quantity: Provided, All other provisions of this schedule are complied with and (if the basis weight or thickness is greater than permitted) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such basis weight or thickness.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of specialty paper or board shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after May 27, 1944, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after May 27, 1944, each person who manufactures specialty paper or board for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper or board is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper or board is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this schedule have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 27th day of May 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–550]

THE VISCOL COMPANY

The Viscol Company, a corporation located in Stamford, Connecticut, is engaged in the business of packing and selling saddle soap, leather dressings and waterproofing for leather shoes. It is a subsidiary of another corporation which manufactures the product and purchases the cans in which the product is packed, which cans it turns over to The Viscol Company at cost.

During the period between January 1 and June 30, 1943, having a packing quota of 315,863 cans, The Viscol Company accepted delivery of 221,633 cans in excess of said quota, and during the calendar year of 1943, having a packing quota of 631,727 cans, it accepted delivery of 502,798 cans and used 695,560 cans in excess of said quota. These acts were in violation of Conservation Order M–81. The Viscol Company had full knowledge of the provisions of Conservation Order M–81 and the violations resulted from the company's gross negligence.

These violations of Conservation Order M–81 have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Prduction Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.550 Suspension Order No. S-550. (a) During the balance of the year 1944, The Viscol Company, its successors and assigns, shall reduce its purchases, receipts and use of cans, as defined in Conservation Order M–81, so that its total purchases, receipts or use of such cans during the calendar year 1944 shall not exceed seventy-five per cent of its quota for the year 1944, for cans used for packing shoe polish, leather dressings and saddle soap, as specified by Conservation Order M–81.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve The Viscol Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 27, 1944, and shall expire on December 31, 1944.

Provisions Relating to Production

(c) General policy. In processing applications for priorities assistance on Form CMP–4B, the War Production Board will be guided by the policy that the total production will not exceed the approved WPB program for the products to which this order applies and that the production in any one plant, or labor requirements therefor, will not interfere with war production in that plant or in any other plant located in the same area.

(d) Restrictions on production of individual items—(1) No production of Schedule A items. Except to fill military orders, no producer shall manufacture any item listed in Schedule A.

(2) Limitation on production of Schedule B items. Except to fill military orders, no producer shall manufacture in any calendar quarter any item listed in Schedule B in excess of fifty (50) percent of the number of the like item manufactured by him in the corresponding calendar quarter in 1941.

(i) Provision for minimum factory runs. In the event that the limitation imposed by this paragraph (d) (2) should result in restricting production to less than his minimum practical factory run of any item listed in Schedule B, a producer may, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d) (2), manufacture a minimum practical factory run: Provided, That the total number of any such item manufactured by him in any two consecutive calendar quarters shall not exceed fifty (50) percent of the total number of the like item manufactured by him in the two corresponding calendar quarters of 1941.

(3) Limitation on production of Schedule C items. Except to fill military orders, no producer shall manufacture in any calendar quarter any item listed in Schedule C in excess of one hundred (100) percent of the number of the like item manufactured by him in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1941.

Such a producer may file an application in writing with the Automotive Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–270, for permission to increase production at such plant by giving complete explanation of the circumstances justifying such increase. Thereupon the War Production Board may authorize an increase in the production of the item at such plant in such quantities and upon such conditions as it shall find requisite in the public interest. Such authority will be issued either in the form of individual letters or by published directions supplemental to this order.

The War Production Board may likewise direct an increase in the production of items on Schedule D in conformity with paragraph (c), in such quantities and upon such conditions as it shall find requisite in the public interest.

(e) Limitation on production of repair parts. Except to fill military orders, no producers shall manufacture in any calendar quarter a dollar volume of repair parts for automotive maintenance equipment in excess of ten (10) percent of the total dollar volume of automotive maintenance equipment manufactured by him in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1941.

Provisions Relating to Critical Materials

(f) Use of aluminum and steel.[1] No producer shall use any aluminum, steel or other critical materials in the manufacture of automotive maintenance equipment where the use of less critical materials is practicable, and when so used such aluminum, steel or other critical materials shall be reduced to the minimum quantity and grade necessary for the proper operation of the automotive maintenance equipment.

(g) Use of copper.[1] No producer shall use any copper products or copper base alloy products in the manufacture of automotive maintenance equipment other than in the following: (i) conductors of electrical current, (ii) bearings, bushings, thrust washers and similar parts which require oil, grease or water lubrication, (iii) valve seats, tubes, and similar parts where condensation or corrosion make substitutions of less critical materials impracticable: Provided, That any copper products or copper base alloy products so used shall be reduced to the minimum practical gauge, size and grade necessary for the proper operation of the automotive maintenance equipment.

Provisions Relating to Distribution

(h) Sales by producers only on rated orders. No producer shall sell, transfer or deliver, on consignment or otherwise, any item on Schedules A, B, C or D, except pursuant to orders bearing preference ratings of AA–5 or higher;

[General Conservation Order L–89, as Amended May 29, 1944]

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of elevators and escalators for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.32 General Conservation Order L–89—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Elevator" means any hoisting or lowering mechanism, equipped with a car or platform which moves in guides in a substantially vertical direction; including electric, hydraulic and hydro-electric elevators, electric dumbwaiters, home lifts and elevettes; but excluding mine material hoists, man lifts, platform lifts and portable elevators. The term shall also mean inclinators, and electrically operated elevating devices appurtenant to stationary stairways.

(2) "Escalator" means a moving inclined continuous stairway or runway used for raising or lowering persons.

(3) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the ultimate delivery of an elevator, escalator, or parts or accessories therefor within the United States or Canada.

(4) "Export order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the ultimate delivery of an elevator, or elevator or escalator parts or accessories therefor, outside the United States or Canada.

[NOTE: Subparagraphs (5) and (6), formerly (4) and (5), redesignated May 29, 1944]

(5) "Approved order" means (i) any order for a new elevator bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher authorized on Form WPB-617 (formerly PD-200), except an order for a new elevator to replace the existing one or to install in an existing shaft, (ii) any order for parts or equipment for an elevator or escalator bearing a rating of AA-5 or higher involving less than $500, exclusive of installation labor costs, except an order for spare or maintenance parts not required for immediate use if, by its fulfillment, the parts inventory of the purchaser is increased beyond $50 for each elevator operated by him or if his total purchase of such parts would thereby exceed $100 for each elevator in any calendar year, or (iii) an order for repair or maintenance parts in whatever amount may be the minimum necessary when there has been an actual breakdown, or suspension of operations of an elevator or escalator is imminent because of the necessity for repair and the repair parts are not otherwise available from the purchaser's inventory. No order shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. The term "any order" includes a group of orders for equipment for one or more elevators or escalators where all of the equipment is customarily purchased as part of a single order.

(6) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continued operation of an elevator or escalator in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of an elevator or escalator to sound working condition when rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(b) Restrictions on accepting orders or export orders. (1) No person shall manufacture an escalator or accept an order for delivery of an escalator.

(2) The following restrictions apply to acceptance of an order or an export order for a new elevator or for elevator or escalator parts or accessories. (i) No person shall accept an order, except an approved order, without authorization in writing from the War Production Board. Application for authorization shall be filed by the purchaser with the War Production Board on Form WPB-1236 in accordance with instructions contained on the Form. The War Production Board may grant an application filed with it on such conditions, if any, as it may prescribe. (ii) No person shall accept an export order without approval by the Foreign Economic Administration of an application for a license to export the items covered by such order to which a rating has been assigned by the Foreign Economic Administration in accordance with authority delegated to it by the War Production Board. Applications for export licenses shall be filed with the Foreign Economic Administration and shall include a description of the elevators or elevator parts or accessories.

(c) Restrictions on use of materials. No non-ferrous metals or stainless steel shall be used in the manufacture of car enclosures, facias, hanger covers, car doors or gates, hoistway doors, car or landing thresholds or face plates of operating or signal fixtures; or in the manufacture of parts therefor.

(d) Exemptions. (1) The restrictions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this order shall not apply to any elevator or elevator parts, equipment or accessories, to be installed and used aboard any ships owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(2) The restrictions of paragraph (b) shall not apply to an order placed by a manufacturer or dealer for elevator or escalator parts, equipment or accessories to be delivered for further manufacture or for resale for maintenance and repair purposes.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time require. Specific reports and questionnaires will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(2) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time. Where the limitations imposed by other L, M or R orders are applicable to the subject matter of this order, the most restrictive limitation shall apply.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing Form WPB-1477 (formerly PD-500) or by letter, in triplicate, referring to the provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal. The appeal shall be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications, concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L-89.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Conservation Order L-89, Interpretation 1, as Amended May 29, 1944]

The following amended interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order L-89.

Paragraph (b) (2) provides that no person shall accept an order (except an approved order) unless the order has been authorized on Form WPB-1236 (this restriction not applying to acceptance of orders exempted under paragraph (d)). An "approved order" (as defined in paragraph (a) (5) (iii)), includes an order for repair or maintenance parts for an elevator or escalator where suspension of operations is imminent because of the necessity for repair and the repair parts are not otherwise available from the purchaser's inventory. A suspension of operations may be considered imminent if the condition of the cables of an elevator or the steps or hand rails of an escalator or of any other parts of an elevator or escalator would make definitely dangerous its continued operation without making the repairs; and such condition may be assumed where the cables, steps, hand rails, or other parts have been condemned pursuant to a state law or municipal ordinance requiring suspension of operations unless their repair or replacement is made within the period (normally 30 to 90 days) specified on the inspector's report. However, a possible future breakdown cannot be considered as meaning that suspension of operations is imminent.

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Conservation Order L-89, Interpretation 2, as Amended May 29, 1944]

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS; ORDERS FOR MATERIAL AND LABOR EXCEEDING $500

The following amended interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order L-89.

Some question has arisen as to whether an order rated as AA-5 or higher pursuant to CMP Regulation 5 or 5A is an "approved order" as defined in paragraph (a) (5) (ii) of Order L-89 if material alone cost less than $500 but material and labor installation together exceed $500. An order for material costing less than $500, other than material to be incorporated in a minor capital addition or capitalized under CMP Regulation 5 or 5A, is an approved order, as defined in Order L-89, even though the cost of both material and labor exceeds $500 and even though installation is made by the seller of the material as a normal business practice under a single fee for both material and labor. However, an MRO order for material costing less than $500, which will be incorporated in a minor capital addition or capitalized under CMP Regulation 5 or 5A, is not an approved order, as defined in Order L-89, if the material and labor together amount to more than $500 and the installation is made by the seller of the material as a normal business practice under a single fee. (See Interpretations 8 and 11 to CMP Regulation 5.)

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M-221, as Amended May 29, 1944]

TEXTILE BAGS

Section 3270.23 Conservation Order M-221 as amended is now amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States having created a shortage in the supply of textile bags for defense, for private account and for export, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.23 Conservation Order M-221—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Textile bag" means any hand or machine sewed bag made for commercially packing, storing or shipping some commodity and manufactured of cotton, burlap or other textile fabric including open mesh fabrics woven from cotton and twisted paper yarns, but excepting shopping bags, carry-out bags, and combination textile-paper bags (bags made of textile laminated with paper).

(2) "New textile bag" means any textile bag when neither the fabric nor the bag has been previously used.

(3) "Used textile bag" means any textile bag when the bag or the fabric has been previously used.

(4) "Bag maker" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing new textile bags.

(5) "Dealer" means any person whose principal business is that of buying, selling, or reconditioning empty textile bags.

(6) "User" means any person who acquired 500 or more empty new or used textile bags for use in his business during 1942 or who acquires such amount during any subsequent calendar year.

(7) "Commercial emptier" means any person who in the preceding three months acquired in his business and emptied 400 filled textile bags.

(8) "Export" means any shipment from the United States (the 48 states, the District of Columbia, the territories, the island possessions of the United States and the Panama Canal Zone).

(9) "Agricultural products" includes, but is not limited to, beans; chocolate; coffee; cotton; feed; flour; fruits; grain; meal; nuts; potatoes; poultry grits; rice; salt; seeds; starch; sugar; tobacco; vegetables.

General Restrictions for All Persons

(b) Joint responsibility. No person shall deliver textile bags to any other person if he has reason to believe that the other person is not entitled to accept them under the provisions of this order or that they will be used for any purpose prohibited by this order.

(c) Sampling bag-contents. No person shall sample the contents of any new or used textile bag except by opening the closure or by inserting a probe or trier without damage to the fabric.

(d) Sand bags. No person shall purchase or accept delivery of any new or used textile bag to be used for protection against air raids or other war hazards.

(e) Size changing. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall change the size of any burlap bag, or convert it into a sheet, sewed burlap or bale covering while it has a commercial use as a bag, with or without mending.

(f) Processing of used bags for sale. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any used textile bag to any person for his own use unless the bag has been processed and repaired and all holes, including trier or probe holes, properly mended or patched. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the delivery of any bag for the purpose of repair or delivery to the owner. For the purposes of this provision, "process" means to clean a used textile bag by washing, vacuuming, or any other method sufficient to prepare the bag for further reuse.

(g) Sale of used raw sugar bags. No dealer, user or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any jute (gunny) sugar bags of the type used for packing Puerto Rican or Cuban raw sugar to any person for any use other than packing raw sugar. For the purposes of this paragraph, the bags referred to shall be limited to bags which have been used for packing raw sugar and which are still usable as raw sugar bags, with or without such mending as is commercially practical.

(h) Export of empty bags. No permission from the War Production Board is necessary to export empty new or used textile bags. The War Production Board has assigned an export quota to the Foreign Economic Administration and no person may export such bags to any destination other than Canada unless authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration. Applications for export licenses should be sent to the Foreign Economic Administration, Bureau of Supplies, Requirements & Supply Branch, Washington 25, D. C. General information and instructions for export are contained in the Comprehensive Export Schedule issued by the Foreign Economic Administration.

Additional Restrictions for Bag Makers

(i) Prohibited practices. No bag maker shall overstitch the raw edge or selvage edge of any new cotton textile bag or manufacture any bag in a manner that wastes material, as for example, with a false seam that enables the bag to be packed with a lesser amount of any of the commodities listed in paragraph (j) than its normal capacity.

(j) Bag sizes for certain commodities—(1) Sizes permitted. No bag maker shall manufacture any new textile bag designed for packing any commodity listed below, except in any size of more than 100 lbs. or in any of the sizes specified below for that commodity:

Bag designed for packing commodity specified	Bag size (net weight capacity unless otherwise specified)
(1)	(2)
Beans	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Cement (standard portland)	94 lbs.
Flour (milled wheat) [1]	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Meal	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Plaster (gypsum)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs. (gross weight).
Potatoes [2]	2-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Processed feed (mixed, mill)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Rice	2-3-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Salt	2-4-10-25-50-60-100 lbs.
Seeds	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs. 1,2 bu.[3]
Starch (corn)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Sugar (refined cane, beet)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.

[1] "Flour (milled wheat)" means any flour product produced by milling wheat, including blends of wheat flours and bleached, promated, enriched phosphated, and self-rising flours, but excluding durum wheat products (semolina), farina, pancake flour, and cake flour.

[2] These restrictions do not apply to open mesh bags used for packing potatoes.

[3] Additional sizes are permitted as follows: ½ bu. of hybrid seed corn; 3 bu. for cotton seed.

(2) Exception for export. The size restrictions for paragraph (j) (1) above shall not apply to the manufacture of bags to be exported empty or filled.

Additional Restrictions for Commercial Emptiers

(k) Emptying bags. No commercial emptier shall remove the contents of any textile bag except by opening the closure, unless the contents have become so caked or solidified that salvage of the bag is not practicable.

(l) Time-limit on holding empty bags. Within 60 days after emptying any number of textile bags, a commercial emptier shall use, or transfer to dealers or users, an equal number of empty used textile bags from his inventory. Such disposition may be deferred beyond the 60-day period in the following cases:

(1) Seasonal re-use. If the commercial emptier needs the bags for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), he may retain them until the product becomes available for packing, subject, however, to the inventory restriction of paragraph (m) below.

(2) Carload accumulation. If, in accordance with his past practice, the commercial emptier wishes to accumulate a carload quantity of such bags for return to users for further packing of the kind of product last packed in them, he may retain such bags until he has accumulated a carload quantity.

Additional Restrictions for Users

(m) Inventory restriction. No user shall accept delivery of any empty new or used textile bags at a time when, or when by virtue of the delivery, his inventory of new or used empty textile bags is or will be in excess of a practical minimum working inventory for the uses which are not prohibited by this order. Except in the case of bags required by a user for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), such inventory shall not exceed the aggregate number of new or used empty textile bags which will be required to carry on his business during the next sixty days.

(n) Bags to be fully packed. No user shall use a bag, for packing any number of pounds of any of the commodities listed in paragraph (j), that is larger than the bag customarily used by the trade for packing that number of pounds of that commodity.

(o) Restrictions on use of new Calcutta wheat bags. During 1944 and each succeeding calendar year, new Calcutta wheat bags shall be used only for packing wheat or small grains and only in the states of Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

(p) Products permitted for new burlap bags. No user shall use any new textile bag made of burlap for packing any products other than the following: agricultural products; fertilizer; meat; mohair; petroleum waxes; stearic acid (cakes or slabs); edible or inedible tankage; wool, or wool products.

(q) Products permitted for new cotton bags. No user shall use any new textile bags made of cotton for packing any products other than the following: Agricultural products; chemicals; cement; coins; currency; fertilizer; glue; gypsum; malt; meat; abrasives; paste; plaster; samples; sand; securities; shell fish; small parts; edible or inedible tankage; tire chains; or such other uses as may be authorized by the War Production Board in writing. Applications for such authorizations should be made on Form WPB–1319, which is to be filed in accordance with the instructions for its use. Applications will be considered only on the basis of the essential need for new cotton bags, the availability of the supply, and the availability of used cotton bags or substitute containers. The application form and the instructions may be obtained at all War Production Board offices.

(r) Mohair bags. No user shall use any new or used textile bag for packing mohair unless the word "mohair" appears in legible type on both sides of the bag.

(s) Use of wool bags. Wool bags shall be used only for packing or wrapping wool or wool products. A "wool bag" is any new or used textile bag, made or burlap between 5½ and 7½ feet in length, ordinarily used to package wool. Such bag shall not be considered a wool bag when no longer capable of carrying any of the following: fleece wools, grease wools, pulled wools, scoured wools, noils, wool wastes or mohair.

General Exceptions

(t) Bags for certain Government agencies. The restrictions of this order shall not apply (1) to the manufacture of textile bags manufactured to meet the packaging specifications of, and for delivery to or for the account of, the persons listed below or (2) to the purchase, acceptance, use, or export of textile bags by those persons: The Army, Navy, United States Post Office, Federal Reserve System, United States Treasury Department (for Lend-Lease requirements and for coin, currency, and securities requirements), War Shipping Administration, Maritime Commission, any person pursuant to authorization by the Maritime Commission under Form WPB–646 (formerly PD–300), or any agency procuring for delivery pursuant to the Act of Congress of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

Miscellaneous Provisions

(u) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington (25), D. C., Ref: M–221.

(v) Appeals. Appeals from Order M–221 shall be filed by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington (25), D. C., Ref: M–221.

The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the particular provision appealed from, the precise relief desired, the reasons why denial of the appeal would result in undue and excessive hardship, and such other statistical and narrative information as may be pertinent.

(w) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(x) Budget approval. The reporting requirements set forth in paragraph (q) of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(y) Other reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such other reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(z) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M–317,[1] as Amended May 29, 1944]

COTTON TEXTILE DISTRIBUTION

§ 3290.115 General Conservation Order M–317—(a) Definitions. In this order:

(1) "Cotton textiles" means the following products, containing 50% or more by weight of cotton or cotton waste, or a combination of the two:

(i) Woven fabrics, whether gray, original mill or regular finish, bleached, dyed or printed, and the following cotton products: bedsheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, diapers, face cloths and table "linens"; and

[1] Limitation Order L–99 relates to cotton textile production.

(ii) Yarns, whether gray, bleached, colored, mercerized, glazed, polished, single, plied, cabled or braided, including thread, twines and cordage (e. g. tying, sail, seine, etc. twine, rope, sash, cord, etc.) and including any of the foregoing which may be spun on roving, ring, mule or converted twister spindles.

"Cotton textiles" does not include cotton duck as defined in Conservation Order M–91, blankets containing 25 percent or more by weight of wool, or fabrics (other than blankets) or yarns, containing wool and produced on the woolen or worsted system.

(2) (i) "Producer" means any manufacturer who makes cotton textiles in the United States.

(ii) "Intermediate processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of bleaching, dyeing or otherwise finishing cotton textiles and delivering or using them in the United States for his own account in the bleached or otherwise finished state.

(iii) "Processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of manufacturing or having manufactured in the United States for his account, any product in which cotton textiles are incorporated.

(iv) "Merchant" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of purchasing cotton textiles for resale in the United States in the form in which purchased.

(v) "User" means any person other than a producer, intermediate processor or processor, who purchases cotton textiles for his own use in the United States in any business, industry, profession or occupation.

(vi) Any person who performs the functions of more than one of the foregoing—regardless of his customary manner of conducting his business—shall, for the purpose of the following be deemed a separate person with respect to each of those capacities, and he is required to:

(a) Accept rated orders for cotton textiles in preference to any other contracts, orders or uses even though he has not in the past accepted or filled orders for that particular cotton textile, and also to fill them in accordance with the rules of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (In the case of yarn, this requirement applies only to sale yarn defined in the introduction to the Cotton Yarns, Cordage and Twine Distribution Schedule);

(b) Use the ratings assigned by this order; and

(c) Apply the inventory restrictions of this order.

(vii) The definitions in subdivisions (i) to (v) above do not include the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) Trade terms used in this order shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified.

(b) Assignment of ratings.[2] The preference ratings specified in the Preference Rating Schedules of this order are assigned to the persons in Column I for the cotton textiles in Column II to be used only as specified in Column III. The revocation of any rating and its effect is stated in the appropriate group of the Preference Rating Schedules.

(c) Compulsory use of ratings assigned in schedules or by Form WPB–2842. No intermediate processor, processor or merchant (except a retailer) shall purchase or accept delivery of a cotton textile for a purpose for which a rating for that cotton textile is assigned to him in a Preference Rating Schedule, unless he uses that rating or a rating assigned on Form WPB–2842. No retailer or user shall purchase or accept delivery of a cotton textile for a purpose for which a rating for that cotton textile is assigned to him in a Preference Rating Schedule, with any rating except one assigned to him either in that Preference Rating Schedule or on Form WPB–2842. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to purchases for delivery or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for direct or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, nor do they prohibit the use of an AAA rating.

This rule does not change the rating on the finished product. For example, even though a manufacturer (processor), who is given a rating, according to the AA–2X Preference Rating Schedule, to obtain twills to make coated abrasive products, holds an AA–1 order for coated abrasive products, he must use the AA–2X rating given by the schedule to obtain the twills, and may not use the AA–1 rating for this purpose. The AA–1 rating, however, remains applicable to the finished coated abrasive product for all other purposes (such as to determine the sequence of deliveries).

(d) How ratings for cotton textiles are to be applied or extended. Preference ratings shall be applied and extended as provided in Priorities Regulation 3. The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation 7 may be used in applying or extending the rating, but the provisions of subparagraph (1) or (2) below must also be complied with.

[The following subparagraph (1) shall be in effect through June 30, 1944, only.]

(1) Cotton textiles for export. In the case of products which are to be exported (or to replace in inventory the exported product) in the form of cotton textiles or in the form of clothing manufactured for the United States Treasury Procurement Division from piece goods purchased by that Division for the Foreign Economic Administration (except where that product or clothing is for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration), the purchaser shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation (with the blanks properly filled in), substantially as follows:

These cotton textiles will be exported, or will replace in inventory cotton textiles exported after December 24, 1943.

And also one of the following statements is to be made:

The preference rating was applied by the United States Treasury Procurement Division in connection with contract number ------- [In the case of United States Treasury Procurement for Foreign Economic Administration.];

or

The preference rating was applied in connection with Export License number ------- or Release Certificate number ---------- [In the case of export in connection with licenses or release certificates issued by Foreign Economic Administration.];

or

The preference rating was applied in connection with the Canadian Cotton Administrator's serial number --------. [In the case of exports to Canada.]

When the above is complied with, the requirements of M–328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.

[The following subparagraph (1) shall be in effect beginning July 1, 1944.]

(1) Cotton textiles for export. In the case of products which are to be exported (or to replace in inventory the exported product) in the form of cotton textiles or in the form of clothing manufactured for the United States Treasury Procurement Division from piece goods purchased by that Division for the Foreign Economic Administration (except where that product or clothing is for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration), the purchaser shall place upon the purchase order a notation substantially as follows:

These cotton textiles will be exported, or will replace in inventory cotton textiles exported after December 24, 1943.

[2] Conservation Order M–328 permits other preference ratings, as well as those assigned by this order, and imposes conditions on the use of all ratings for cotton textiles.

In addition, in the case of exports to Canada, the following notation must be added:

The preference rating was applied in connection with the Canadian Cotton Administrator's serial number ---------

In the case of exports in connection with licenses or release certificates issued by or under the authority of the Foreign Economic Administration or in connection with purchases by the United States Treasury Procurement Division for the Foreign Economic Administration, each purchaser shall deliver to his vendor a copy validated by the issuing agency of the following, whichever is appropriate:

The quadruplicate copy of the export license on FEA form 119.

The quintuplicate copy of the export license on FEA form 166.

The quadruplicate copy of the release certificate.

One of the copies of the Treasury Procurement contract.

When the above is complied with, the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.

(2) Cotton textiles for domestic use. In all other cases a person (other than the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration on their direct purchase orders), applying or extending a rating for a cotton textile, which was assigned by a Preference Rating Schedule or under a War Production Board form, shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation, substantially as follows:

This rating has been assigned by M-317, Group(s) No. ---------- [Insert applicable group number or numbers of Preference Rating Schedule.]

or

This rating has been assigned under Form WPB ---------, Serial No. ---------- [Insert the War Production Board form number and its serial number.]

When the above is complied with, the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.

(e) Restrictions relating to fiber or yarn. (1) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for cotton textiles in order to obtain any synthetic fiber or synthetic yarn, except cotton textiles for direct or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for direct or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(2) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for knitted or woven fabrics, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii). If he does not own or control spinning machinery, he may use the rating to obtain cotton yarns for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration. If he does own or control spinning machinery, upon his showing on Form WPB-2842 the extent to which it is insufficient or unsuitable to produce cotton yarns required for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, the War Production Board may authorize him to use that rating to obtain a specific quantity of cotton yarns for that purpose.

(3) No person owning or controlling spinning machinery shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for yarn, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii), except to the extent authorized by the War Production Board, upon his showing, on Form WPB-2842, that his own spinning is insufficient or unsuitable to fill that yarn order.

(f) Distribution schedules. (1) Each producer—even if he is also an intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user—shall, in each calendar quarter, deliver or set aside for later delivery on rated orders those percentages of his total production (in pounds or yards according to his usual method of operation) of each cotton textile as specified in the Distribution Schedules of this order.

(2) No producer shall be required to fill rated orders in excess of the percentage of his production of each cotton textile as specified in the Distribution Schedules, computed by calendar quarters.

(3) The War Production Board may establish other percentages with respect to any of the cotton textiles listed in the Distribution Schedules.

(4) The requirements of the Distribution Schedules supersede all authorizations, issued before May 29, 1944, on appeal from this order, from Limitation Order L-99 or from Supplementary Limitation Order L-99-a.

NOTE: Paragraphs (g) to (o), formerly (f) (4) and (g) to (n), redesignated May 29, 1944.

(g) Advance orders. No person shall be required to accept any rated order for cotton textiles calling for delivery more than 90 days after the receipt of the order, except from the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(h) Special conditions. No producer, intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user shall sell, deliver, buy, accept or use a cotton textile or any product containing a cotton textile or assign, apply or extend a preference rating contrary to the provisions in Column III of a Preference Rating Schedule, in Column VI of a Distribution Schedule of this order, or in any written direction of the War Production Board.

(i) Exports. No person shall purchase for export without a preference rating any cotton textiles, except woven or braided fabrics 12" or less wide, remnants (pieces shorter than ten yards) and rags (pieces shorter than two yards commonly sold by the pound).

(j) Inventory restrictions. No person shall accept delivery of any cotton textiles if his aggregate inventory exceeds or would then exceed the lesser of (1) a practicable minimum working inventory, or (2) his requirements for 90 days (except in the case of merchants and users of cotton textiles used in crop cultivation).

In computing inventory include products in process of manufacture but exclude cotton textiles in transit or in process of conversion.

(k) Allocation. The War Production Board may assign preference ratings for or allocate and direct deliveries of cotton textiles pursuant to application on Form WPB-2842.

(l) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided herein, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(m) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-317.

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

DISTRIBUTION SCHEDULE—COTTON YARNS, CORDAGE AND TWINE

(Schedule amended May 29, 1944. The changes and the percentage obligations in Columns III, IV, V, and VI are to be calculated from the first of each calendar quarter beginning April 1, 1944.)

Column I indicates the corresponding item numbers of the various cotton textiles in this schedule as each appears on Form WPB-658-E (3/17/44).

Column II shows the cotton textiles covered by this schedule. The calendar quarter in 1943 in which a producer delivered to purchasers the largest percentage of his yarn production is his base period. Each producer must make available for distribution in accordance with this schedule in each calendar quarter the same percentage of his current calendar quarterly yarn production as he sold in his base period and also all the yarn produced from spindles which he acquired since January 1, 1943, unless other disposition is permitted in writing by the War Production Board. This yarn is called "sale yarn".

Column III shows the minimum percentage of the producer's current calendar quarterly production which must be delivered by him against rated export orders for cotton textiles. Only deliveries on purchase orders given in conformity with the procedures described in paragraph (d) (1) (Cotton textiles for export) may be credited toward this obligation. Exports by or for the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration may not be credited toward this obligation.

Column IV shows the minimum percentage of the producer's current calendar quarterly production which must be delivered by him against all rated orders. However, where the percentage in Column IV amounts to 100, unless otherwise specified, seconds which are produced in the normal course of manufacture may be disposed of without regard to this provision to the extent that rated orders are not offered.

Column V shows the percentage of the producer's current calendar quarterly production beyond which he need not accept rated orders. Priorities Regulation 1 applies up to that percentage. If receipt of an order which is rated higher than a previously accepted rated order would result in having more rated orders than the Column V percentage, then the lowest rated order shall be displaced and it may be filled only from that percentage applicable to a subsequent quarter.

The provisions and explanations stated in Column VI, unless otherwise specified, apply to the producer, intermediate processor, processor, merchant and user and govern the particular cotton textiles, no matter when produced, converted or ordered, and also products containing those textiles. However, the restrictions in Column VI relating to exports do not apply where the export license or release certificate was issued before April 27, 1944.

PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION

PIG IRON

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of pig iron for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3294.66 General Preference Order M-17—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(2) "Producer" means any person producing pig iron.

(b) Production and delivery of pig iron—(1) Pig iron for ballast purposes. No person shall accept delivery of any pig iron for ballast purposes from a producer or distributor of pig iron, except upon the specific approval in writing of the War Production Board. Any person wishing to secure approval to accept delivery of pig iron for such purpose may apply to the War Production Board by letter, giving:

(i) Name of company.

(ii) Address of company.

(iii) Location where pig iron is to be installed as ballast.

(iv) Amount and intended source of pig iron.

(v) Reasons why other materials cannot be utilized.

(2) Special instructions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue special instructions with respect to production and delivery of pig iron.

(c) Appeals. Any appeal from this order or from any instruction issued hereunder shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Consumers of pig iron who are unable to obtain their requirements from suppliers may communicate with the War Production Board.

(d) Reports. Effective January 1, 1944, consumers of pig iron are no longer required to file forms WPB-3172 and WPB-3173. However, each producer must continue to file monthly reports with the War Production Board on Form WPB-3174. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Communications. All reports and all communications concerning this order or any instruction issued hereunder shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M-17.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any instruction issued hereunder, or who in connection therewith wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Applicability of other orders and regulations. Transactions in pig iron are also subject to the provisions of all other orders and regulations of the War Production Board, except that whenever such provisions may be inconsistent with any instruction issued hereunder the provisions of such instruction shall be controlling.

ARTICLE I—PURPOSE OF REVISED PROCEDURAL REGULATION NO. 1

SECTION 1. Purpose. It is the purpose of this regulation to prescribe and explain the procedure used by the Office of Price Administration in making various kinds of price determinations.

(a) Article II deals with the procedure of the Office of Price Administration in issuing maximum price regulations.

(b) Article III deals with individual applications for adjustment of maximum price established by a maximum price regulation. An adjustment ordinarily affects the prices of one particular seller or group of sellers who apply for a change in the prices established for them by the provisions of a maximum price regulation. An adjustment can be granted only if the applicable maximum price regulation contains specific provision for the granting of an adjustment.

(c) Article IV deals with petitions for amendment. A petition for amendment is the appropriate document to file when a seller seeks a change of general applicability in the terms of a maximum price regulation itself.

(d) Article V deals with protests. A protest is the means provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 for making a formal claim that a maximum price regulation is in some respect invalid. Only if a protest has been filed and denied may the protestant file a complaint with the Emergency Court of Appeals to have the maximum price enjoined or set aside in whole or in part.

(e) Article VI explains the way in which interpretations are rendered by officers or employees of the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Article VII contains miscellaneous provisions and definitions.

ARTICLE II—ISSUANCE OF MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATIONS

SEC. 2. Investigation prior to issuance. A maximum price regulation may be issued by the Administrator after such studies and investigations as he deems necessary or proper. Before issuing a maximum price regulation the Administrator shall, so far as is practicable, advise and consult with representative members of the industry which will be affected by such regulation.

SEC. 3. Price hearing prior to issuance. Whenever the Administrator deems it necessary or proper that a price hearing be held prior to the issuance of a maximum price regulation, he may provide for such hearing in accordance with sections 4 and 5 of this revised procedural regulation.

SEC. 4. Notice of pre-issuance hearing. Notice of any price hearing ordered prior to the issuance of a maximum price regulation shall be given by publication of such notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and may be supplemented by notice given in any other appropriate manner. The notice shall state the time and place of the price hearing and shall contain an appropriate indication of the purposes of such hearing.

SEC. 5. Conduct of pre-issuance hearing. A price hearing held prior to the issuance of a maximum price regulation shall be conducted in such manner, consistent with the need for expeditious action, as will permit the fullest possible presentation of evidence by such persons as are, in the judgment of the Administrator, best qualified to provide information with respect to matters considered at the hearing or most likely to be seriously affected by action which may be taken as a result of the hearing.

SEC. 6. Statement of considerations. Every maximum price regulation shall be accompanied by a statement of the considerations involved in its issuance. Such statement may include economic data and other facts of which the Administrator has taken official notice and facts found by the Administrator as a result of action taken under section 202 (a) of the act.

SEC. 7. Notice of provisions of a maximum price regulation. Notice of the provisions of a maximum price regulation shall be given by filing such regulation with the Division of the Federal Register. As soon as possible after the filing of such regulation, the Administrator shall make copies thereof available to the press.

SEC. 8. Effective date. A maximum price regulation shall become effective 5 days after the date of its issuance and a temporary maximum price regulation shall become effective from the date of its issuance, unless an earlier or later date is specified therein.

SEC. 10. Place of filing. All applications may be filed with a district, state or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., without regard to whether such office is authorized to consider such applications. If the office with which the application is filed is not so authorized it will forward such application to the authorized office and shall notify the applicant by mail of such forwarding. If an adjustment provision in a maximum price regulation indicates which office of the Office of Price Administration is authorized to consider applications for adjustment, action on applications will be expedited if it is filed with the nearest office authorized to consider it.

C. and, when the Regional Administrator of a regional office or the State or District Director of a district office of the Office of Price Administration is authorized to act upon an application for adjustment, shall include such regional or district office, as the case may be.

If no form has been designated for applications for the particular type of adjustment sought, the application shall set forth the following:

(a) Name and post office address of the applicant, the nature of his business, and the manner in which he is subject to the price regulation in question.

(b) A designation of the provision for adjustment pursuant to which the application is filed.

Applications for adjustment and all accompanying documents shall be filed in duplicate.

[Sec. 12 amended by Am. 7, effective 5-31-44]

[Sec. 13 added by Am. 7, effective 5-31-44. Former section 13 revoked by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 6173, effective 5-17-43]

A joint application shall be signed by each applicant in accordance with section 13 and shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of applications filed by one person. Whenever the authorized office deems it necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint applications, it may treat joint applications separately, and, in any event, may require the filing of relevant materials by each individual applicant.

An office so referring an application shall inform the applicant of such action.

Joint petitions shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of petitions filed by one person. A joint petition may be filed only where at least one ground is common to all persons joining it. Whenever the Administrator deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint petitions, he may treat such joint petitions as several and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant material by each individual petitioner.

SEC. 23. Action by the Administrator on petition. In the consideration of any petition for amendment the Administrator may afford to the petitioner and to other persons likely to have information bearing upon such proposed amendment, or likely to be affected thereby, an opportunity to present evidence or argument in support of, or in opposition to, such proposed amendment. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more petitions for amendment, the Administrator may consolidate such petitions.

SEC. 29. Contents of protest. Every protest shall set forth the following:

(a) The name and the post office address of the protestant, the nature of his business, and the manner in which the protestant is subject to the provision of the maximum price regulation protested.

(b) The name and post office address of the person filing the protest on behalf of the protestant and the name and post office address of the person to whom all communications from the Office of Price Administration relating to the protest shall be sent.

The protestant shall specify which of the facts are alleged and known to be true and which are alleged on information and belief.

SEC. 30. Affidavits or other written evidence in support of protest. Every protestant shall file, together with his protest, the following:

(a) Affidavits setting forth in full all the evidence, the presentation of which is subject to the control of the protestant, upon which the protestant relies in support of the facts alleged in the protest. Each such affidavit shall state the name, post office address, and occupation of the affiant; his business connection, if any, with the protestant; and whether the facts set forth in the affidavit are stated from personal knowledge or on information and belief. In every instance the affiant shall state in detail the sources of his information.

(b) A statement by the protestant in affidavit form setting forth in detail the nature and sources of any further evidence, not subject to his control, upon which he believes he can rely in support of the facts alleged in his protest.

Such further statement may contain a request for an opportunity to present such further evidence, which request shall state specifically the amount of time needed for preparation of such evidence. Any affidavits providing further evidence, pursuant to order, shall contain the information required by subparagraph (a) of this section 30.

SEC. 31. Submission of brief by protestant. The protestant may file with his protest and accompanying evidential material a brief in support of the objections set forth in the protest. Such brief shall be submitted as a separate document, distinct from the protest and evidential material.

SEC. 32. Joint protests. Two or more persons may file a joint protest. Joint protests shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of protests filed by one person. A joint protest shall be verified in accordance with section 29 (g) by each protestant. A joint protest may be filed only where at least one ground is common to all persons joining in it. Whenever the Administrator deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint protests, he may treat such joint protests as several, and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant materials by each individual protestant.

SEC. 33. Amendment of protest and presentation of supplemental evidence. (a) The protestant may amend his protest or his affidavits and briefs submitted therewith, or may add to such material within a period of sixty days after the issuance of the maximum price regulation against a provision of which the protest is filed, or, in the case of a protest based solely on grounds arising after the date of issuance of a maximum price regulation, within sixty days after the protestant has had or could reasonably have had notice of the existence of such grounds.

(b) After the time prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section a protestant may be granted permission to amend his protest or to present further evidence in connection therewith when, in the judgment of the Administrator, such permission will not unduly delay the completion of proceedings on the protest. No amendment which adds a new ground of protest will be permitted.

SEC. 34. Protest and evidential material not conforming to this regulation. In any case where a protest or accompanying evidential material does not conform, in a substantial respect, to this revised procedural regulation, the Administrator may dismiss such protest, or, in his discretion, may strike such evidential material from the record of the proceedings in connection with the protest.

SEC. 35. Action by the Administrator on protest. (a) Within a reasonable time after the filing of any protest in accordance with this revised procedural regulation, but in no event more than thirty days after such filing or ninety days after the issuance of the maximum price regulation against a provision of which the protest is filed, whichever occurs later, the Administrator shall:

(1) Grant or deny such protest in whole or in part.

(2) Notice such protest for oral hearing, to be held in accordance with the provisions of sections 39 to 47, inclusive, of this revised procedural regulation; or

(3) Provide an opportunity to present further evidence in connection with such protest. Within a reasonable time after the presentation of such further evidence, the Administrator may notice such protest for oral hearing in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this section, may include additional material in the record of the proceedings in connection with the protest in accordance with section 37 of this revised procedural regulation, or may take such other action as may be appropriate to the disposition of the protest.

(b) Notice of any such action taken by the Administrator shall promptly be served upon the protestant.

(c) Where the Administrator has ordered a hearing on a protest or has provided an opportunity for the presentation of further evidence in connection therewith, he shall, within a reasonable time after the completion of such hearing or the presentation of such evidence, grant or deny such protest in whole or in part.

SEC. 36. Statements in support of maximum price regulation. (a) Any person affected by the provisions of a maximum price regulation may at any time after the issuance of such regulation submit to the Administrator a statement in support of any such provision or provisions. Such statement shall include the name and post office address of such person, the nature of his business, and the manner in which such person is affected by the maximum price regulation in question, and may be accompanied by affidavits and other data. Each such supporting statement shall conform to the requirements of section 27 of this revised procedural regulation.

(b) In the event that a protest has been, or is subsequently, filed to a provision of a maximum price regulation in support of which a statement has been submitted, the Administrator may include such statement in the record of the proceedings taken in connection with such protest. If such supporting statement is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at an oral hearing, copies of such supporting statement shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof.

SEC. 37. Inclusion of material in the record by the Administrator. The Administrator shall include in the record of the proceedings on the protest such evidence, in the form of affidavits or otherwise, as he deems appropriate in support of the provision against which the protest is filed. When such evidence is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at an oral hearing, copies thereof shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof.

SEC. 38. Consolidation of protests. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more protests the Administrator may consolidate such protests.

ORAL HEARINGS ON PROTESTS

SEC. 39. Requests for oral hearing. Any protestant may request an oral hearing. Such request shall be accompanied by a showing by the protestant as to why the filing of affidavits or other written evidence and briefs will not permit the fair and expeditious disposition of the protest. In the event that the Administrator orders an oral hearing in connection with a protest, notice shall be served on the protestant not less than five days prior to such hearing. The time and place of the hearing shall be stated in the notice. Any oral hearing ordered by the Administrator may be limited in such manner and to the extent that he deems appropriate.

SEC. 40. Conference prior to oral hearing. At any time prior to the commencement of the oral hearing, the Administrator may request the protestant to appear at a conference to consider: (a) the simplification of issues; (b) the possibility of obtaining stipulations of fact and of documents which will avoid unnecessary proof; and (c) such other matters as may expedite the conduct of the oral hearing. No transcript of such conference shall be kept, but the Administrator shall incorporate in the record of the proceedings any written stipulations or agreements made at, or as a result of, the conference. If the circumstances are such that an oral conference is impracticable, the Administrator may direct that such negotiations be conducted by correspondence.

SEC. 41. Continuance or adjournment of oral hearing. The oral hearing shall be held at the time and place specified by the notice of hearing but may be continued or adjourned to a later day or to a different place. Notice of such adjournment or continuance may be by announcement at the oral hearing.

SEC. 42. Conduct of the oral hearing. The oral hearing shall be conducted by the Administrator or such officer or employee of the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter referred to as the "presiding officer") as the Administrator may appoint or designate for that purpose.

[Sec. 42 amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 11806, effective 8-24-43]

SEC. 43. Filing of briefs. The presiding officer shall allow the protestant to file briefs or written arguments within such time as he shall designate.

SEC. 44. Subpoenas. (a) Applications for subpoenas, when made prior to the oral hearing, may be filed by the protestant with the Secretary. The Administrator may grant or deny the application or refer it to the presiding officer appointed or designated under section 42, who may thereafter grant or deny the application. Applications for subpoenas made during the oral hearing shall be submitted to the presiding officer, who may grant or deny such application.

(b) All applications for subpoenas shall specify the name of the witness and the nature of the facts to be proved by him and, if calling for the production of documents, shall specify them with such particularity as will enable them to be identified for purposes of production.

(c) Service of a subpoena upon a person named therein shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to such person and by tendering to him the fees and mileage specified in section 202 (f) of the act. When the subpoena is issued at the instance of the Administrator fees and mileage need not be tendered.

SEC. 45. Witnesses. Witnesses summoned before the presiding officer at any protest hearing shall be paid the fees and mileage specified by section 202 (f) of the act. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the person at whose instance the witness appears.

SEC. 46. Contemptuous conduct. Contemptuous conduct at any oral hearing shall be ground for exclusion from the hearing. The refusal of a witness to answer any question which has been ruled to be proper shall, in the discretion of the presiding officer, be ground for the striking out of all testimony previously given by such witness on related matters.

SEC. 47. Stenographic report of oral hearing. A stenographic report of the oral hearing shall be made, a copy of which shall be available for inspection during business hours in the Office of the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

OPINION AND RECONSIDERATION

SEC. 48. Opinion denying protest in whole or in part. In the event that the Administrator denies any protest in whole or in part, he shall inform the protestant of the grounds upon which such decision is based, and of any economic data and other facts of which the Administrator has taken official notice.

SEC. 49. Treatment of protest as petition for amendment or an application for adjustment or exception. Any protest filed against a provision of a maximum price regulation may, in the discretion of the Administrator, be treated not only as a protest but also as a petition for amendment of the regulation protested or as an application for adjustment or exception pursuant thereto, when the facts produced in connection with the protest justify such treatment.

SEC. 50. Petitions for reconsideration. An order denying a protest may include leave to file a petition for reconsideration within a specified period. If the order of denial does include leave to file a petition for reconsideration the filing of such a petition within the time provided shall automatically vacate the order of denial and reopen the protest proceeding.

Action taken in reliance upon and in conformity with an official interpretation and prior to any revocation or modification thereof or to any superseding thereof by regulation, order or amendment, shall constitute action in good faith pursuant to the provision of the act, or of the regulation, price schedule, order, requirement or agreement to which such official interpretation relates. § 1421.101 Maximum prices for malleable iron castings. (a) On and after October 21, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver malleable iron castings, and no person shall buy or receive malleable iron castings in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, incorporated herein as § 1421.116; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That (1) if the purchaser shall receive from the seller a written affirmation that to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief the price charged does not exceed the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this section and (2) where the contract of sale has been entered into on or before October 20, 1942, the parties thereto may make and accept deliveries of the castings required or specified in such contract and the seller may render bills or invoices for such castings to the purchaser at the contract price, subject to adjustment of said price in accordance with the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241, within a period not to exceed 30 days after the billing or invoicing.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section prohibiting purchasers from paying in excess of the maximum prices shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting officer thereof, and any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any or every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241 or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of malleable iron castings to a purchaser if prior to October 21, 1942 such castings have been received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to such purchaser.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9694; 8 F.R. 1312, 3702) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1421.102 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[6] with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

§ 1421.103 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1421.104 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export any malleable iron castings shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[7] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§1421.105 Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a malleable iron casting, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such castings:

(a) As to a tax in effect between October 1 to October 15, 1941. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during the period from October 1 to October 15, 1941, inclusive, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 241.

(2) In all other cases, if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may

§ 1421.106 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

(1) That his maximum prices for such castings are below his costs of producing them, or are inadequate to maintain continued production of such castings, and

(2) That such castings are necessary to the war effort, and either

(3) That he has entered into or proposes to enter into Government contracts or subcontracts under such contracts for the sale of such castings, or

(4) That unless adjustment is granted applicant will cease or will not undertake production of such castings, and as a result the purchaser will be materially handicapped in its operations for one or more of the following reasons:

(i) Applicant possesses special knowledge and experience in the production of such castings,

(ii) No other foundry properly equipped to produce such castings is located within a convenient distance of the purchaser,

(iii) There is a general shortage in the type of facility possessed by applicant for the production of such castings,

(iv) The purchaser will be unable to procure such castings from another satisfactory source except at prices higher than those requested by applicant.

Such adjustments may be granted by the Administrator or by the Regional Administrator for the appropriate regional office of the Office of Price Administration, and shall be based upon a consideration of changes in applicant's costs of production, his over-all returns and such other circumstances as may be pertinent to the maintenance of an adequate supply of malleable iron castings needed for the war effort.

Applications for adjustment under this paragraph (a) shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration, except that they shall be filed in triplicate with the appropriate regional office of the Office of Price Administration. Such applications shall be submitted on Form 341:3. Copies of this form may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., or from any of its field offices.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 325, effective 10–21–42]

(c) Each person making a purchase or sale of malleable iron castings in the course of trade or business shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1421.112 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any person producing malleable iron castings are or have been sold or otherwise transferred after October 15, 1941, and the transferee carries on the business or continues to produce the same type of malleable iron castings in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him; the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligations to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record and filing of price provisions, of this regulation.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 13737, text designated (1) by Am. 6, effective 5–31–44]

(2) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (a), the seller may, in computing his maximum price of a malleable iron casting under this paragraph (a), add to the maximum price which would otherwise be arrived at, an amount to compensate for the cost of overtime labor, such amount to be separately invoiced and computed in the manner set forth in paragraph (e) of this section.

[Subparagraph (2) added by Am. 6, effective 5–31–44]

(b) Castings which are not substantially the same as those which the seller contracted or agreed to sell between October 1 and October 15, 1941, inclusive, or as those for which prices were quoted in the seller's published price lists during such period. The maximum price for each such casting shall be computed by the seller on the following basis:

(1) Pricing method. (i) The seller shall employ the applicable pricing method which was in use at the foundry on October 15, 1941, and which has been or will be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1421.111 herein, employing each of the pricing factors reflected in such method at the levels prevailing at such time, except as specified in subparagraphs (3), (4) and (5) hereinbelow, including: labor rates (applied in accordance with subparagraph (2) below); materials costs (applied in accordance with subparagraph (3) below); overhead (burden) rates (applied in accordance with subparagraph (4) below); subcontracted machinery service costs (applied in accordance with subparagraph (5) below); mark-up, bargin or profit (applied in accordance with subparagraph (6) below: Provided however, That in the case of a seller of a malleable iron casting who is not the producer thereof, such seller shall compute his maximum price for such casting by adding to the price at which he purchased such casting, not to exceed the maximum price of the casting under this regulation for the producer thereof, a mark-up, margin or profit determined in accordance with subparagraph (6) of this paragraph (b), and by adjusting this sum in accordance with the following subdivision (ii): And provided further, That the seller may, in computing his maximum price of a malleable iron casting under this paragraph, add to the maximum price of such casting which would otherwise be arrived at, an amount to compensate for the cost of overtime labor, such amount to be separately invoiced and computed in the manner set forth in paragraph (e) of this section.

[Subdivision (i) amended by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 4733, effective 4–15–43 and Am. 4, 8 F.R. 12016, effective 9–4–43]

(ii) The price arrived at by use of the pricing method shall be adjusted for all applicable customary charges, discounts, quantity differentials or other allowances in use at the particular foundry on October 15, 1941, inclusive.

[Subdivision (ii) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 13737, effective 10–11–43]

(2) Labor rates. (i) Labor costs shall be based upon the labor rates prevailing in the foundry on October 15, 1941, for each classification of labor. If at such time average or piece rates were used, such average or piece rates must be applied, and, in computing such piece rates, the seller shall use the base hourly rates and method in effect for him on October 15, 1941.

(ii) [Revoked]

[Subdivision (ii) revoked by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 12016, effective 9–4–43]

(3) Direct material costs. The seller shall compute direct material costs on a basis no higher than the actual costs to him of such materials, not to exceed the applicable maximum prices thereof established by the Office of Price Administration, and, in determining whether items of material costs are direct or indirect, the seller shall employ the same classifications and criteria which he used on October 15, 1941.

(4) Overhead (burden) rates. The seller shall determine overhead or burden rates on the basis of labor, material and other costs, for the period from January 1 to June 30, 1942, adjusting, however, labor costs (both direct and indirect) actually incurred during such period according to the allowable labor rates as specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (b). In computing and applying such overhead rates, and in determining whether items of costs are direct or indirect, the seller shall employ the identical method used on October 15, 1941, and, in particular, (i) if his method of computing overhead rates on October 15, 1941 was based in whole or in part on a normal rate of production expressed in terms of tonnage or other measure of production, he shall continue to use such method, and (ii) if his method of computing overhead rates on October 15, 1941, was based in whole or in part on actual production expressed in terms of tonnage or other measure of production, he shall continue to use actual production factors determined by the amount of such production for the period from January 1 to June 30, 1942, inclusive.

(5) Subcontracted machinery service costs. To the extent that the pricing method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted machinery services, the seller shall use the actual prices paid or to be paid for such services, not in excess of the maximum prices established for such services by the Office of Price Administration, together with such additional charge, if any, as was in effect for such seller on October 15, 1941 for such subcontracted machinery services: Provided, That no overhead, mark-up margin or profit may be figured on such additional charge.

(6) Mark-up, margin or profit. The seller shall use the mark-up, margin or profit which he used at the foundry on October 15, 1941, for the same type or classification of castings and customers, and which has been or will be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1421.111.

(c) Reports and recomputations of maximum prices of malleable iron castings priced in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. (1) Except as hereinafter provided, the seller is required to make one recomputation of the maximum price for a malleable iron casting priced under paragraph (b) of this section (but not under any other paragraph of this section) to determine whether his cost estimates are in accordance with his production experience (for example, the seller may have first estimated that five man-hours of molding time would be required in the production of the casting, whereas his production experience demonstrates that only four man-hours are necessary; in such a case the recomputed maximum price will be based on four man-hours of molding time rather than five). Overtime additions pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section shall not be deemed recomputations of maximum prices within the meaning of this paragraph. The recomputed maximum price shall be determined in accordance with the rates and pricing method set forth in paragraph (b) of this section and such price shall, subject to the provisions of § 1421.116 (b) (1) (ii) and § 1421.116 (e) of this regulation, thereafter be the maximum price for the casting. Only one recomputation shall be made and it shall be made by the seller in pricing the first order received after completion of the order for which the original maximum price was computed, except that the seller shall make a second recomputation if the first recomputation was made or required to be made before the seller produced one hundred molds of the casting which is being priced. Where a second recomputation is required, it shall be made by the seller in pricing the first order received after completion of the order for which the first recomputation was made.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 6, effective 5–31–44]

(2) In any case in which a seller, in accordance with the preceding subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c), recomputes a maximum price which is higher than the maximum price earlier estimated, he shall file a report with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration containing:

(i) Description of the malleable iron casting;

(ii) The maximum price prior to the price increase;

(iii) The new maximum price;

(iv) An explanation of the higher price (in terms of the pricing method and of the appropriate cost factors reflected in such pricing method): Provided, That if the price of the malleable iron casting previously has been reported pursuant to this subparagraph (2) without objection from the Office of Price Administration, the seller shall not be required to report subsequent sales or deliveries at the same or a lower price.

(d) Maximum prices in lieu of those set forth in paragraph (b) for malleable iron castings which are not substantially the same as those which the seller contracted or agreed to sell between October 1 and October 15, 1941, inclusive, or as those for which prices were quoted in the seller's published price lists during such period. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this § 1421.116, where the seller contracted or agreed to sell a casting at any time before October 1, 1941, which is the same or substantially the same as the casting for which a maximum price is sought, and if such casting cannot be priced under paragraph (a) of this § 1421.116, he may if he so chooses, in lieu of determining the maximum price of such casting under paragraph (b) of this section, use as his maximum price for such casting the price at which he last contracted or agreed to sell the same or substantially the same casting before October 1, 1941, after adjusting such price in accordance with the applicable customary charges, discounts, quantity differentials and allowances in effect for him between October 1, 1941 and October 15, 1941: Provided, That the seller may, in computing his maximum price of a malleable iron casting under this paragraph, add to the maximum price of such casting which would otherwise be arrived at, an amount to compensate for the cost of overtime labor, such amount to be separately invoiced and computed in the manner set forth in paragraph (e) of this section: And provided further, That where the casting is sold or offered for sale on or after June 30, 1944, and the maximum price therefor is determined under this paragraph, the seller may not thereafter determine the maximum price for such casting under paragraph (b) of this section.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 325, effective 10–21–42 and amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 12016, effective 9–4–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 13737, effective 10–11–43; and Am. 6, effective 5–31–44]

(e) Method of computing overtime addition permitted under paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) of this section. The addition which may be made to compensate for the cost of overtime labor (both direct and indirect shop and clerical labor) incurred in producing malleable iron castings, as provided in paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) of this section, shall be computed [10] as follows: The seller shall (1) elect to compute overtime on a calendar monthly or a calendar quarterly basis, and such election shall be final, i. e., the seller may not shift from a monthly to a quarterly basis if he has chosen a monthly basis, and vice versa (the calendar month or calendar quarter, whichever is selected, shall be referred to in this paragraph as the "period"), (2) determine the overtime premium (as used in this paragraph, the term "overtime premium" means the excess of total payments to labor incurred in producing malleable iron castings in a period above what would have been made

[10] An example of the method of computing overtime labor costs in accordance with the requirements of § 1421.116 (e) is as follows: Assume that total overtime premium paid to labor involved in the production of malleable iron castings for the period immediately preceding the period in which the casting in question is priced amounts to $1,000; that total gross sales of malleable iron castings invoiced during such preceding period were $20,000; that the percentage increase of average straight time hourly earnings during such preceding period over average straight time hourly earnings during the payroll period immediately preceding October 15, 1941, was 10%; and that the maximum price of the casting established under paragraph (b) of § 1421.116 is $200 without the inclusion of any overtime. Then:

(a) Total overtime premium per dollar of sales of malleable iron casting

$$\frac{$1,000.00}{$20,000.00} = $.05 \text{ per } $1 \text{ of sales}$$

(b) Total overtime premium per dollar of sales of malleable iron casting reduced to reflect average straight time hourly earnings in the payroll period immediately preceding October 15, 1941.

$$\frac{$0.05}{110\%} = $0.0455 \text{ per } $1 \text{ of sales}$$

(c) Permissible overtime labor charge = $200.00 × $.0455 = $9.10

(d) New maximum price of casting $200.00 + $9.10 = $209.10

The $9.10 charge must be shown separately on the invoice.

If the original maximum price of $200.00 under paragraph (b) of § 1421.116 already included a charge of, say, $4 for overtime labor cost, then:

(c) In the above example would be $196 × $.0455 = $8.92

(d) In the above example would be $196 + $8.92 = $204.92

for the same period if no overtime were paid) per dollar of sales of malleable iron castings for the period immediately preceding the period in which the casting in question is priced, by dividing the overtime premium during such preceding period by the total gross sales of malleable iron castings invoiced during such period, except that if the casting in question is priced within 15 days after the close of the preceding period, the next preceding period shall be used, (3) reduce such overtime premium per dollar of sales to reflect the percentage by which average straight time hourly earnings during such applicable preceding period exceed the average straight time hourly earnings during the payroll period (the time element in a "payroll period" may not be the same as that in a "period") immediately preceding October 15, 1941, and (4) apply the resultant rate in (3) to the maximum price of the casting which would otherwise be arrived at under paragraph (a), (b) or (d) of this section: Provided however, That before overtime labor cost, as specified in the foregoing, may be applied and added to the maximum price of a casting which would otherwise be arrived at under paragraph (b) of this section, such maximum price must be reduced to the extent that it already reflects any overtime labor costs.

PART 1386—SOAPS AND GLYCERINE

[MPR 390,[1] Amdt. 5]

HOUSEHOLD SOAPS AND CLEANSERS SOLD BY RETAIL FOOD STORES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 390 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 is amended as follows:

a. Paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (d) and the following heading inserted prior to the first sentence thereof: "New size packs."

b. A new paragraph (c) is inserted as follows:

(c) Reclassification of store groups. Effective May 25, 1944, this regulation requires that the year 1943 be used for figuring your "annual gross sales" instead of the year 1942. If you find that as a result of that change, your store is now in a group different from the one it was in before, you must, after June 15, 1944, use the ceiling prices fixed for the group in which you are now classified.

2. Section 11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. How you figure the annual gross sales of your store in most cases. (a) To find your "annual gross sales," take your total sales for the calendar year 1943, including all sales whether of foods or not, as shown on your books (except sales made by restaurants operated in conjunction with your store). You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or any part of the calendar year 1943 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in operation during the entire year 1943, you must divide your total gross sales from the time you began operation up to May 25, 1944 by the number of weeks you were in operation. This will give you your weekly average gross sales. Multiply this figure by 52 and the result is your "annual gross sales."

3. The first sentence in section 13 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) If you open an "independent" retail food store on or after May 25, 1944, you may consider your store to be in Group 1 and figure your selling prices accordingly.

4. The first sentence in section 13 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) If you open a "chain" retail food store on or after May 25, 1944, you may consider your store to be in Group 3 and figure your selling prices accordingly.

[1] 8 F.R. 6428, 9847, 9380, 13499; 9 F.R. 4440.

5. The first sentence in section 16 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Adjustment provision for Group 3 or 4 stores. On or before June 24, 1944, any retail food store in Group 3 or 4 which is subject to this regulation may apply to its appropriate state or district office of the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of its established maximum price for any household soap or cleanser to the price established for such household soap or cleanser for Group 1 stores.

6. The first sentence in section 16 (d) is amended to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: § 1388.1181 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765.

SECTION 1. Scope of this regulation—(a) Housing and defense-rental areas to which this regulation applies. This regulation applies to all housing accommodations within each of the defense-rental areas and each of the portions of a defense-rental area (each of which is referred to hereinafter in this regulation as the "defense-rental area"), which are listed in Schedule A of this regulation, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

In Schedule A, "the maximum rent date" and "the effective date of regulation" is given for each defense-rental area listed. More than one effective date is given for different portions of a defense-rental area where the same effective date is not applicable to the entire defense-rental area. Wherever the words "the maximum rent date" or the words "the effective date of regulation" are referred to in this regulation, the dates given in Schedule A for the particular defense-rental area or portion of the defense-rental area in which the housing accommodations are located shall apply. The effective date listed in Schedule A in each instance is the date rent regulation was effective in the particular defense-rental area or portion of the defense-rental area.

(b) Housing to which this regulation does not apply. This regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Farming tenants. Housing accommodations situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon.

(2) Service employees. Dwelling space occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the space is provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the dwelling space is a part.

(3) Rooms in hotels, rooming houses, etc. Rooms or other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses, or housing accommodations which have been, with the consent of the Administrator, brought under the control of the Rent Regulation for Hotels and Rooming Houses pursuant to the provisions of that regulation.

(4) Structures in which more than 25 rooms are rented or offered for rent. Entire structures or premises wherein more than 25 rooms are rented or offered for rent by any lessee, sublessee or other tenant of such entire structure or premises: Provided, That this regulation does apply to entire structures or premises wherein 25 or less rooms are rented or offered for rent by any lessee, sublessee or other tenant of such entire structure or premises, whether or not used by the lessee, sublessee or other tenant as a hotel or rooming house: And provided further, That this regulation does apply to an underlying lease of any entire structure or premises which was entered into after the maximum rent date and prior to the effective date of regulation, while such lease remains in force with no power in the tenant to cancel or otherwise terminate the lease.

(5) Rented to National Housing Agency. Housing accommodations rented to the United States acting by the National Housing Agency: Provided, however, That this regulation does apply to a sublease or other subrenting of such accommodations or any part thereof.

(6) Resort housing. Housing accommodations located in a resort community and customarily rented or occupied on a seasonal basis, which were not rented during any portion of the period beginning on November 1, 1943 and ending on February 29, 1944.

The exemption provided by this paragraph (b) (6) shall be effective only from June 1, 1944 to September 30, 1944, inclusive.

[Subparagraph (6) amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 2176, effective 2-24-44]

(c) Effect of this regulation on leases and other rental agreements. The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this regulation.

(d) Waiver of benefit void. An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of regulation.

SEC. 2. Prohibition against higher than maximum rents—(a) General prohibition. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of regulation of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) Exception in case of conversion of fuel oil heating units. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, where housing accommodations are heated with fuel oil the landlord of such accommodations may as hereinafter provided enter into an agreement with the tenant providing for payment by the tenant of part or all of the cost of changing the heating unit to use some fuel other than oil or of installing a new heating unit using some fuel other than oil. Prior to making such agreement the landlord shall in writing report the terms of the proposed agreement to the area rent office. The landlord may enter into the agreement either upon its approval by the Administrator or, unless the Administrator has disapproved the proposed agreement within five days after the filing of such report, upon the expiration of such 5-day period.

(c) Lease with option to buy. Where a lease of housing accommodations was entered into prior to the effective date of regulation (or prior to October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date) and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith was granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which were the subject of the lease, with the further provision that some or all of the payments made under the lease should be credited toward the purchase price in the event such option is exercised, the landlord, notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, may be authorized to receive payment made by the tenant in accordance with the provisions of such lease and in excess of the maximum rent for such housing accommodations. Such authority may be secured only by a written request of the tenant to the area rent office and shall be granted by order of the Administrator if he finds that such payments in excess of the maximum rent will not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof. After entry of such order the landlord shall be authorized to demand, receive and retain payments provided by the lease in excess of the maximum rent for periods commencing on or after the effective date of regulation. After entry of such order, the provisions of the lease may be enforced in accordance with law, notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation: Provided, however, That if at the termination of the lease the tenant shall not exercise the option to buy, the landlord may thereafter remove or evict the tenant only in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of this regulation. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to authorize the landlord to demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent in the absense of an order of the Administrator as herein provided. Where a lease of housing accommodations has been entered into on or after the effective date of regulation (or on or after October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith has been granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the landlord, prior to the exercise by the tenant of the option to buy, shall not demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent, whether or not such lease allocates some portion or portions of the periodic payments therein provided as payments on or for the option to buy.

SEC. 3. Minimum services, furniture, furnishing and equipment. Except as set forth in section 5 (b), every landlord shall, as a minimum, provide with housing accommodations the same essential services, furniture, furnishings, and equipment as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, and as to other services, furniture, furnishings and equipment not substantially less than those provided on such date: Provided, however, That where fuel oil is used to supply heat or hot water for housing accommodations, and the landlord provided heat or hot water on the date determining the maximum rent, the heat and hot water which the landlord is required to supply shall not be in excess of the amount which he can supply under any statute, regulation or order of the United States or any agency thereof which rations or limits the use of fuel oil.

SEC. 4. Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in section 5) shall be:

(a) Rented on maximum rent date. For housing accommodations rented on the maximum rent date, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) Not rented on maximum rent date but rented during two months ending on that date. For housing accommodations not rented on the maximum rent date, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during the two-month period.

(c) First rent after the maximum rent date but before effective date. For housing accommodations not rented on the maximum rent date nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of regulation, the first rent for such accommodations after the maximum rent date. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c).

(d) Constructed or changed before effective date. For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after the maximum rent date and before the effective date of regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c).

(e) First rent after effective date. For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time during the two months ending on the maximum rent date nor between that date and the effective date, the first rent for such accommodations after the change or the effective date, as the case may be, but in no event more than the maximum rent provided for such accommodations by any order of the Administrator issued prior to September 22, 1942. Within 30 days after so renting the landlord shall register the accommodations as provided in section 7. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c).

If the landlord fails to file a registration statement within the time specified, the rent received for any rental period commencing on or after the date of the first renting or October 1, 1943, whichever is the later, shall be received subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by an order under section 5 (c) (1). In such case, the order under section 5 (c) (1) shall be effective to decrease the maximum rent from the date of such first renting or from the beginning of the first rental period after October 1, 1943, whichever is the later. The foregoing provisions and any refund thereunder do not affect any civil or criminal liability provided by the act for failure to file the registration statement required by section 7.

(f) Priority-constructed housing. For housing accommodations newly constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent is approved by the United States or any agency thereof prior to the maximum rent date or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, prior to the first renting of the accommodations after that date, the rent so approved, but in no event more than the rent on the maximum rent date, or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, more than the first rent after that date: Provided, however, That if, prior to the maximum rent date or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, prior to the first renting of the accommodations after that date, the landlord made a written request to the appropriate agency of the United States to approve a higher rent than the rent initially approved because of increased costs of construction, and a higher rent is approved by such agency on or after March 29, 1944, because of such increased costs of construction, the maximum rent on and after the date of such approval shall be the rent so approved.

The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall apply to the approval of rents for such housing accommodations by the United States or any agency thereof in connection with the grant of an application for priority rating filed on any of the application forms of the Office of Production Management or the War Production Board, including the September 1941 form in use by the Office of Production Management prior to the revision of this form on December 15, 1941.

The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not apply to housing accommodations resulting from the alteration or remodeling of an existing structure.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 20, 9 F.R. 3422, effective 3-29-44; and Am. 21, 9 F.R. 4026, effective 4-15-44]

(g) Housing owned and constructed by the government. For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c).

(h) Housing subject to rent schedule of War or Navy Department. For housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department, the rents established by such rent schedule.

[Paragraph (h) amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 12795, effective 9-20-43]

(i) Rent established under former section 5 (e). For housing accommodations with a maximum rent established, prior to March 1, 1943, under the first paragraph of section 5 (e) as that paragraph appeared in Maximum Rent Regulations issued prior to such date,[1] the rent on March 1, 1943, or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, the last rent prior thereto, but in no event more than the maximum rent established under such first paragraph of section 5 (e). The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c) (8).

(j) Changed on or after July 1, 1943, from unfurnished to furnished. For housing accommodations changed on or after July 1, 1943 from unfurnished to fully furnished, the first rent for such accommodations after such change. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section 5 (c) (1).

Within 30 days after the accommodations are first rented fully furnished, the landlord shall register the accommodations as provided in section 7. If the landlord fails to file a registration statement within the time specified, the rent received from the time of such first renting shall be received subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by an order under section 5 (c) (1). In such case, the order under section 5 (c) (1) shall be effective to decrease the maximum rent from the time of such first renting. The foregoing provisions and any refund thereunder do not affect any civil or criminal liability provided by the Act for failure to file the registration statement required by section 7.

[Paragraph (j) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 9020, effective 7-1-43]

SEC. 5. Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required.

In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, an increase or decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on the maximum rent date, the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change: Provided, however, That no adjustment shall be ordered where it appears that the rent on the date determining the maximum rent was fixed in contemplation of and so as to reflect such change.

In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date: Provided, That in cases under paragraph (c) (8) of this section due consideration shall be given to any increased occupancy of the accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant.

In cases involving construction, due consideration shall be given to general increases in costs of construction, if any, in the defense-rental area since the maximum rent date.

In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on the maximum rent date.

[Above paragraphs amended by Am. 20, 9 F.R. 3422, effective 3-29-44]

(a) Grounds for increase of maximum rent. Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) Major capital improvement after effective date. There has been on or after the effective date of regulation a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) Major capital improvement prior to maximum rent date. There was, on or prior to the maximum rent date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on the maximum rent date was fixed by a lease or other rental agreement which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) Substantial increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment. There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent. No increase in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground set forth in this paragraph (a) (3) unless the increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment occurred with the consent of the tenant or while the accommodations were vacant: Provided, That an adjustment may be ordered, although the tenant refuses to consent to the increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, if the Administrator finds that such increase (i) is reasonably required for the operation of a multiple dwelling structure or other structure of which the accommodations are a part or (ii) is necessary for the preservation or maintenance of the accommodations.

(4) Special relationship between landlord and tenant. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date: Provided, That no adjustment under this subparagraph increasing the maximum rent shall be made effective with respect to any accommodations regularly rented to employees of the landlord while the accommodations are rented to an employee, and no petition for such an adjustment will be entertained until the accommodations have been or are about to be rented to one other than an employee.

(5) Lease for term commencing one year or more before maximum rent date. There was in force on the maximum rent date, a written lease, for a term commencing on or prior to the date one year before the maximum rent date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date; or the housing accommodations were not rented on the maximum rent date, but were rented during the two months ending on that date and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, for a term commencing on or prior to the date one year before the maximum rent date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

(6) Varying rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) Seasonal rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand, or seasonal variations in the rent, for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(8) Substantial increase in occupancy. There has been, since the maximum rent date, either (i) a substantial increase in the number of subtenants or other per-

[1] The first paragraph of section 5 (e) read as follows: "Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units."

sons occupying the accommodations or a part thereof under a rental agreement with the tenant, or (ii) a substantial increase in the number of occupants, in excess of normal occupancy for that class of accommodations on the maximum rent date, or (iii) an increase in the number of occupants over the number contemplated by the rental agreement on the date determining the maximum rent, where the landlord on that date had a regular and definite practice of fixing different rents for the accommodations for different numbers of occupants.

(9) On the date determining the maximum rent the housing accommodations were temporarily exempt from real estate taxes, the landlord was passing the benefit of this tax exemption on to the tenant, and as a result the rent on that date was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Paragraph (9) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 12660, effective 9-15-43]

(10) Priority rating granted on September 1941 application form of Office of Production Management. The maximum rent for the housing accommodations is established under section 4 (f), the application for priority rating for the construction of the housing accommodations was filed on the September 1941 form in use by the Office of Production Management prior to the revision of this form on December 15, 1941, the landlord did not make, prior to the maximum rent date or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, prior to the first renting of the accommodations after that date, a written request to the appropriate agency of the United States to approve a higher rent than the rent initially approved because of increased costs of construction, and the maximum rent for the accommodations is substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable accommodations on the maximum rent date, giving due consideration to general increases in costs of construction, if any, in the defense-rental area since the maximum rent date.

This paragraph (a) (10) shall apply only to housing accommodations which were first rented prior to March 29, 1944.

[Subparagraph (10) added by Am. 20, 9 F.R. 3422, effective 3-29-44; and amended by Am. 21, 9 F.R. 4028, effective 4-15-44]

(b) Decreases in minimum services, furniture, furnishings and equipment—(1) Decreases prior to effective date. If, on the effective date of regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than the minimum services required by section 3, the landlord shall either restore and maintain such minimum services or, within 30 days (or, for housing accommodations within the Los Angeles Defense-Rental Area, within 60 days) after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. If, on such effective date (or on December 1, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), the furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with housing accommodations are less than the minimum required by section 3, the landlord shall, within 30 days after such date, file a written report showing the decrease in furniture, furnishings or equipment.

(2) Decreases after effective date. Except as above provided, the landlord shall, until the accommodations become vacant, maintain the minimum services, furniture, furnishings, and equipment unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment he shall file a petition within 10 days after the change occurs. When the accommodations become vacant the landlord may, on renting to a new tenant, decrease the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment below the minimum; within 10 days after so renting the landlord shall file a written report showing such decrease.

(3) Adjustment in maximum rent for decreases. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent; and any maximum rent for which a report is required by this paragraph may be decreased in accordance with the provisions of section 5(c)(3). If the landlord fails to file the petition or report required by this paragraph within the time specified, or decreases the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment without an order authorizing such decrease where such order is required, the rent received by the landlord for any rental period commencing on or after such decrease or the effective date of regulation (or December 1, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), whichever is the later, shall be received subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by any order decreasing the maximum rent on account of such decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment. In such case, any order decreasing the maximum rent shall be effective to decrease such rent from the beginning of the first rental period after the decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment or after the effective date of regulation (or after December 1, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), whichever is the later. The foregoing provisions and any refund thereunder do not affect any civil or criminal liability provided by the Act for failure to comply with any requirement of this paragraph.

(c) Grounds for decrease of maximum rent. The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable only on the grounds that:

(1) Rent higher than rents generally prevailing. The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (c), (d), (e), (g), or (j) of section 4 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 9020, effective 7-1-43]

(2) Substantial deterioration. There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) Decrease in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment. There has been a decrease in the minimum services, furniture, furnishings or equipment required by section 3 since the date or order determining the maximum rent.

(4) Special relationship between landlord and tenant. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal, or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

(5) Varying rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) Seasonal rent. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand, or seasonal variations in the rent, for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(7) Substantial decrease in occupancy. There has been a substantial decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants since an order under paragraph (a) (8) or (c) (8) of this section.

(8) Rent established under section 4 (i). The maximum rent is established under section 4 (i) and is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date, taking into consideration any increased occupancy of such accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant: Provided, That no decrease shall be ordered below the rent on the maximum rent date.

(d) Orders where facts are in dispute, in doubt, or not known. If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

(e) Sale of underlying lease or other rental agreement. Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the act or this regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

(f) Interim orders. Where a petition is filed by a landlord on one of the grounds set out in paragraph (a) or (d) of this section, or a proceeding is initiated by the Administrator under paragraph (d), the Administrator may enter an interim order increasing or fixing the maximum rent until further order, subject to refund by the landlord to the tenant of any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order in such proceeding. The receipt by the landlord of any rent authorized by such interim order shall constitute an agreement by the landlord with the tenant to refund to the tenant any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order. The landlord shall make such refund either by repayment in cash or, where the tenant remains in occupancy after the effective date of the final order, by deduction from the next installment of rent, or both.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 12, 8 F.R. 16032, effective 11-25-43]

(g) Adjustments in case of options to buy. No adjustment in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground that the landlord, since the date or order determining the maximum rent, has, as a part of or in connection with a lease of housing accommodations, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease. Where a lease of housing accommodations was in force on the date determining the maximum rent, and the landlord had on that date, as a part of or in connection with such lease, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the Administrator may, on or after the termination of such lease, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, enter an order fixing the maximum rent on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations not subject to an option to buy on the maximum rent date.

SEC. 6. Removal of tenant—(a) Restrictions on removal of tenant. So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and regardless of any contract, lease, agreement or obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into which provides for entry of judgment upon the tenant's confession for breach of the covenants thereof or which otherwise provides contrary hereto, unless:

(1) Tenant's refusal to renew lease. The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement, except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this regulation; or

(2) Tenant's refusal of access to landlord. The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee, or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) Violating obligation of tenancy or committing nuisance. The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) Subtenants on expiration of tenant's lease. The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the occupants of the housing accommodations are subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, and no part of the accommodations is used by the tenant as his own dwelling; or

(5) Demolition or alteration by landlord. The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) Occupancy by landlord. The landlord owned, or acquired an enforceable right to buy or the right to possession of, the housing accommodations prior to the effective date of regulation (or prior to October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date, or prior to November 6, 1942 for housing accommodations within the Hastings Defense-Rental Area), and seeks in good faith to recover possession of such accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling for himself. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefor before renting the accommodations or any part thereof during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

(b) Administrator's certificate—(1) Removals not inconsistent with Act or regulation. No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(2) Occupancy by purchaser. Removal or eviction of a tenant of the vendor, for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of regulation (or on or after October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date, or on or after November 6, 1942 for housing accommodations within the Hastings Defense-Rental Area) is inconsistent with the purposes of the Act and this regulation and would be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof, unless (i) the payment or payments of principal made by the purchaser, excluding any payments made from funds borrowed for the purpose of making such principal payments, aggregate 20% or more of the purchase price, and (ii) a period of three months has elapsed after the issuance of a certificate by the Administrator as hereinafter provided. For the purposes of this paragraph (b) (2), the payments of principal may be made by the purchaser conditionally or in escrow to the end that they shall be returned to the purchaser in the event the Administrator denies a petition for a certificate. If the Administrator finds that the required payments of principal have been made, he shall, on petition of either the vendor or purchaser, issue a certificate authorizing the vendor or purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law at the expiration of three months after the date of issuance of such certificate.

In no other case shall the Administrator issue a certificate for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of regulation (or on or after October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date, or on or after November 6, 1942 for housing accommodations within the Hastings Defense-Rental Area) unless he finds (i) that the vendor has or had a substantial necessity requiring the sale and that a reasonable sale or disposition of the accommodations could not be made without removal or eviction of the tenant, or (ii) that other special hardship would result, or (iii) that equivalent accommodations are available for rent, into which the tenant can move without substantial hardship or loss; under such circumstances the payment by the purchaser of 20% of the purchase price shall not be a condition to the issuance of a certificate, and the certificate may authorize the vendor or purchaser, either immediately or at the expiration of three months, to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 12693, effective 9-16-43]

(c) Exceptions from section 6—(1) Subtenants. The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(2) Housing subject to rent schedule of War or Navy Department. The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(3) One or two occupants in landlord's residence. The provisions of this section shall not apply to an occupant of a furnished room or rooms not constituting an apartment, located within the residence occupied by the landlord or his immediate family, where such landlord rents to not more than two occupants within such residence.

(4) Renting to family in landlord's residence. The provisions of this section shall not apply to a family which on or after August 1, 1943 moves into a furnished room or rooms not constituting an apartment located within the residence occupied by the landlord or his immediate family, where such landlord does not rent to any persons within such residence other than those in the one family.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 10618, effective 8-1-43]

(d) Notices required—(1) Notices prior to action to remove tenant. Every notice to a tenant to vacate or surrender possession of housing accommodations shall state the ground under this section upon which the landlord relies for removal or eviction of the tenant. A written copy of such notice shall be given to the area rent office within 24 hours after the notice is given to the tenant.

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations by court process or otherwise, unless at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal or eviction in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession: Provided, however, That the requirement of this sentence shall not apply to housing accommodations within the City of Baltimore, Maryland, the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area, or the Trenton Defense-Rental Area, when the ground for the removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent.

Where the ground for removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent, every notice under this paragraph (d) (1) shall state the rent for the housing accommodations, the amount of rent due and the rental period or periods for which such rent is due. The provisions of this paragraph (d) (1) shall not apply where a certificate has been issued by the Administrator pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Notices at time of commencing action to remove tenant. At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant, including an action based upon non-payment of rent, the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the area rent office stating the title of the case, the number of the case where that is possible, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant, and the ground under this section on which removal or eviction is sought.

(e) Local law. No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

SEC. 7. Registration—(a) Registration statement. On or before the date specified in Schedule A of this regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof, on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the area rent office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

(b) Receipt for amount paid. No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

(c) Exceptions from registration requirements—(1) Housing under section 4 (g). The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations under section 4 (g). The owner of such housing accommodations shall file a schedule or schedules, setting out the maximum rents for all such accommodations in the Defense-Rental Area and containing such other information as the Administrator shall require. § 1388.1202 Necessity. The necessity for the stabilization or reduction of rents for defense-area housing accommodations in the defense-rental areas designated in § 1388.1201 is as follows:

The designated areas now are or will be the location of establishments of the armed forces of the United States or war production industries. An increase in employment has taken place in most of these areas and is about to take place in the other areas. Such increases in employment reflecting the expansion of war activities have resulted or threaten to result in increased demands for rental housing accommodations by persons residing in these areas. The President has already found that an acute shortage of housing exists or impends in most of the areas under Public Law 849, 76th Congress (Lanham Act); Public Law 9, 77th Congress; or Public Law 24, 77th Congress (Title VI, National Housing Act). Most of the areas have been placed on the list of Defense Housing Areas in which builders may secure priority ratings on critical materials for residential construction.

In each of the designated areas defense activities have resulted or threaten to result in an increase in rents for housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. As war activities continue to expand, the demand for housing accommodations will become more extensive, and further rent increases and threatened rent increases will materialize unless prevented. Accordingly, it is necessary that rents for such housing accommodations be reduced or stabilized.

§ 1388.1203 Recommendations. It is the judgment of the Price Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within any of the defense-rental areas designated in § 1388.1201 inconsistent with the purposes of the act. Accordingly, the Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each of the designated areas on or about March 1, 1942. The Price Administrator has considered, so far as practicable, relevant factors deemed by him to be of general applicability, including fluctuations in property taxes and other costs. It is the judgment of the Price Administrator that the recommendations hereinafter set forth are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the act.

Recommendations with reference to the stabilization or reduction of rents for housing accommodations within each of the designated defense-rental areas are as follows:

(a) The maximum rent for housing accommodations rented on March 1, 1942, should be the rent for such accommodations on that date. Appropriate provision consistent with such maximum rent date should be made for the maximum rent for housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942. In appropriate cases, including those relating to new construction or substantial changes of housing accommodations, provision consistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 should be made for the determination, adjustment, and modification of maximum rents of housing accommodations, but in principle such rents should not be greater than the rents generally prevailing for comparable accommodations in the particular area on March 1, 1942.

(b) Appropriate provision should be made with respect to the restraint of evictions and other actions relating to the recovery of possession.

(c) Appropriate provision should be made to prevent the circumvention or evasion of maximum rents by any method whatever.

§ 1388.1204 Maximum rent regulation. If within sixty days after the issuance of this designation and rent declaration, rents for housing accommodations within any defense-rental area designated in § 1388.1201 have not in the judgment of the Price Administrator been stabilized or reduced by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the foregoing recommendations, the Price Administrator may by regulation or order establish such maximum rent or maximum rents for such accommodations as in his judgment will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Administrator.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Designation and Rent Declaration 31[1] Incl. Amdts. 1-18]

DESIGNATION OF AREAS AND RENT DECLARATIONS RELATING TO SUCH AREAS

This compilation of Designation and Rent Declaration 31 includes Amendment 18, effective June 1, 1944. The items added or amended by Amendment 18 are indicated by note.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, defense activities have resulted or threatened to result in increases in the rents for housing accommodations in the areas designated in § 1388.1341 inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942; and

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the said Act to issue this declaration, setting forth the necessity for, and recommendations with reference to, the stabilization or reduction of rents for defense-area housing accommodations within the defense-rental areas designated in § 1388.1341;

§ 1388.1342 Necessity. The necessity for stabilization or reduction of rents for defense-area housing accommodations in the defense-rental areas designated in § 1388.1341 is as follows:

The designations of defense-rental areas hereby and heretofore made include the entire United States. The problem of inflation is nation-wide, and effective prevention of inflation requires nation-wide action affecting substantially all elements of the national economy. War conditions have caused widespread increases in rents, and threaten further general price and rent rises. Any increases in housing rentals, an important factor in the cost of living, have serious inflationary effects. Additional rental increases are threatened not only by increased migrations from one part of the country to another in connection with war production and new or expanding military establishments, but also by general factors affecting the economy including the greatly increased purchasing power of the people of the nation in relation to a relatively stable and limited supply of housing. In each of the designated defense-rental areas, defense activities have resulted or threaten to result in an increase in rents for housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1388.1343 Recommendations. It is the judgment of the Price Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within any of the defense-rental areas designated in § 1388.1341 inconsistent with the purposes of the act. Accordingly, the Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each of the designated areas on or about March 1, 1942. The Price Administrator has considered, so far as practicable, relevant factors deemed by him to be of general applicability, including fluctuations in property taxes and other costs. It is the judgment of the Price Administrator that the recommendations hereinafter set forth are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the act.

Recommendations with reference to the stabilization or reduction of rents for housing accommodations within each of the designated defense-rental areas are as follows:

(a) The maximum rent for housing accommodations rented on March 1, 1942 should be the rent for such accommodations on that date. Appropriate provision consistent with such maximum rent date should be made for the maximum rent for housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942. In appropriate cases, including those relating to new construction or substantial changes of housing accommodations, provision consistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 should be made for the determination, adjustment, and modification of maximum rents of housing accommodations, but in principle such rents should not be greater than the rents generally prevailing for comparable accommodations in the particular area on March 1, 1942.

(b) Appropriate provision should be made with respect to the restraint of evictions and other actions relating to the recovery of possession.

(c) Appropriate provision should be made to prevent the circumvention or evasion of maximum rents by any method whatever.

§ 1388.1344 Maximum rent regulation. If within sixty days after the issuance of this designation and rent declaration, rents for housing accommodations within any defense-rental area designated in § 1388.1341 have not in the judgment of the Price Administrator been stabilized or reduced by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the foregoing recommendations, the Price Administrator may by regulation or order establish such maximum rent or maximum rents for such accommodations as in his judgment will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1388.1345 Effective date. This designation and rent declaration (§§ 1388.1341 to 1388.1345, inclusive) shall become effective October 5, 1942. [Designation and Rent Declaration 31 originally issued October 5, 1942]

§ 1407.86e Special allotments for production of frozen sugared egg yolks between May 29, 1944, and July 31, 1944—(a) General. Any industrial user may apply to the Board (or District Office) with which he is registered for a special allotment for the production of frozen sugared egg yolks between May 29, 1944, and July 31, 1944, inclusive.

(b) How to apply. Application shall be made by the industrial user on OPA Form R-315 and must show:

(1) The amount of the special allotment requested;

(2) The number of pounds of egg yolks he will freeze between May 29, 1944, and July 31, 1944, inclusive, excluding any amount which he will produce from his regular allotment.

(c) When to apply. Application under this section may be made at any time before August 1, 1944. The Board may not act upon an application but shall forward it to the district office. If the district office finds that the facts stated in the application are true, it shall approve the application and issue a certificate in the amount requested. However, the applicant may not be granted more than one pound of sugar for each nine pounds of egg yolks he will freeze before August 1, 1944, excluding any amount which he will produce from his regular allotment.

(d) Additional applications may be made. An industrial user who has obtained sugar under this section and who needs more sugar for freezing sugared egg yolks may, before August 1, 1944, file another application and the District Office may approve it in the way provided by paragraphs (b) and (c). The application, however, must state the number of pounds of egg yolks he froze with any sugar he previously obtained under this section and the District Office shall take such amount into account in acting on the application.

(e) How sugar obtained under this section may be used. Sugar obtained under this section may not be used at a rate greater than one pound of sugar for each nine pounds of egg yolks frozen. It may be used only before August 1, 1944, and for the purposes for which it was granted and any sugar not so used shall be considered excess inventory.

(f) A person obtaining sugar must make a report. Any person receiving a special allotment under this section must, on or before August 10, 1944, report to the Board (or District Office) with which he is registered in writing the number of pounds of egg yolks he froze with the special allotment.

(g) Sugar obtained under this section may be used in addition to regular allotment. Sugar obtained under this section may be used in addition to any other allotments which an industrial user may obtain under this order.

(h) New industrial user may be registered for purposes of this section. Any person desiring to get sugar under this section and is not eligible for registration as an industrial user under this order may petition for registration in the way provided by § 1407.163. The District Office may permit such person to register on OPA Form R-1300 for the purpose of obtaining a special allotment under this section. (Such person may not be assigned a base or obtain other allotments.)

This amendment shall become effective May 29, 1944.

(The Administrator reserves the right to determine the reasonableness of commercial rates on bulk and other cargoes, from the effective date of this order.)

(e) 2½% of the vessel's revenue on outward ad valorem cargo and mail, and 1½% of the vessel's revenue on homeward ad valorem cargo and mail. The Agent shall be paid 5¢ for each bag of mail and for each mail bag that is filled with empty mail bags, when such bags are transported without charge.

(f) Payment of customary brokerage is authorized to brokers who performed services in connection with booking, handling, etc., of cargo in trades and on such commodities and under such conditions as it has been in the past customary to pay brokerage on cargo carried aboard dry cargo vessels sailing prior to 12:01 a. m. June 10, 1942. On vessels sailing after 12:01 a. m. June 10, 1942, brokerage may be paid at the customary rate, but not in excess of the following rates:

(1) General commercial cargo, commonly known as package cargo, loaded outward and homeward: 1¼% on the base freight rates before all surcharges, war or otherwise.

(2) Sugar, metals, ores and other bulk cargoes covered by bills of lading, charter party or contract of affreightment, outward, homeward and way, in the nearby trades, which includes Caribbean and Canadian: 1¼% on the base freight charges before all surcharges, war or otherwise: Provided, however, That brokerage shall not be paid on that portion of freight charges in excess of $5.00 per handled ton.

(3) Sugar, metals, ores and other bulk cargoes covered by bills of lading, charter party or contract of affreightment, outward, homeward and way, in long voyage trades or in spheres outside of those covered by subparagraph 2 of this paragraph: 1¼% on the base freight before all surcharges, war or otherwise: Provided, however, That brokerage shall not be paid on that portion of freight charges in excess of $8.00 per handled ton.

(4) Bulk cargoes coastwise: 1¼% on the base freight before all surcharges, war or otherwise: Provided, however, That brokerage shall not be paid on that portion of freight charges in excess of 80¢ per handled ton on any bill of lading, contract of affreightment or charter.

(5) It is further provided that no shipper or consignee of cargo, or Agent or General Agent of the carrying vessel, shall act as broker or be paid brokerage, and that all broker's invoices must be certified that no portion whatsoever of any brokerage received by them is to be refunded to any shipper, consignee or owner of the cargo.

(g) For compensation as Agent in connection with passengers transported on dry cargo vessels, the Agent will be compensated as follows:

(1) Commercial passengers. $3.00 for each passenger carried outward, and $2.00 for each passenger carried homeward.

(2) Military personnel. $1.50 for each military passenger carried outward, maximum $300.00; $1.00 for each military passenger carried homeward, maximum $200.00.

For the purpose of this paragraph, the terms "passenger" and "military personnel" shall be construed as defined in § 306.23 (c) and (d). This compensation is payable fom the effective dates set forth in § 306.2.

(h) The foregoing scales of compensation are subject to the following special conditions: (1) Minimum compensation for each port of loading or discharging, $100.00; (2) minimum compensation for services rendered whenever a vessel enters a port for purposes other than loading or discharging shall be $50.00 for all services in connection with entry and clearance, arrangements for pilotage and towage and other usual port services of like nature; (3) if a vessel loads cargo at a port outside of the continental United States and is lost prior to arrival at the port of destination of the cargo, the Agent, General Agent, or Berth Sub-Agent that is responsible for the cargo business shall be paid one fee of 50% of the homeward rates provided in this § 306.7. Additional allowances may be made by the Administrator for extraordinary services in such connection.

§ 306.7a Compensation of Agents, General Agents, or Berth Sub-Agents for services, incident to way cargo, passengers and mail. (a) On way cargo, passengers, and mail loaded outward from Canadian or Newfoundland ports, the Agent, General Agent, or Berth Sub-Agent who is responsible for such business shall be compensated as provided in § 306.7, out of which the agent will pay his Canadian or Newfoundland sub-agent.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, or as otherwise determined by the Administrator, the Agent, General Agent, or Berth Sub-Agent who is responsible for the business incident to way cargo, passengers, and mail shall be paid one fee of 25% of the outward rates as provided in § 306.7 for supervisory services rendered, with a minimum fee of $50.00.

§ 306.8 Compensation of Agents at ports outside of continental United States. As compensation for services rendered by a Sub-Agent or branch house outside of the continental United States the Agent may pay for the account of the United States, except as provided in § 306.7a, the prevailing commercial rates, but in no event in excess of the following maximum compensation to his foreign Sub-Agents, whose services are utilized in this connection, as follows:

(a) 2½¢ per handled ton for all Army and Navy cargo outward, homeward, or way, where the cargo is handled by the Army or Navy and the Agent is not required to check the details of the cargo handled: Provided, further, Where the vessel handles a full cargo and the detail of the tonnage handled is not made available to the Agent, the Agent shall receive a fee of $250.00, but if the Army or Navy cargo is less than a full cargo or is not the only cargo loaded or discharged, the fee for such Army or Navy cargo shall be $100.00. 15¢ per handled ton outward and 12½¢ per handled ton homeward or way for Army and Navy cargo shipped under standard form of Government bill of lading as required under Traffic Regulations 7, issued February 27, 1943 (Operations Regulations 44), and when not coming within the preceding provisions hereof.

(b) 7½¢ per handled ton for outward, homeward, or way bulk cargoes.

(c) 10¢ per handled ton for outward, homeward, or way cargo shipped for Lend-Lease account.

(d) 25¢ per handled ton for all homeward cargo and way cargo loaded, 20 cents for outward and way cargoes discharged not falling within paragraphs (a), (b) or (c).

(e) 2½% of the vessel's revenue on outward ad valorem cargo and mail, and 1½% of the vessel's revenue on homeward and way ad valorem cargo and mail. The foreign Sub-Agent shall be paid 5¢ for each bag of mail and for each mail bag that is filled with empty mail bags, when such bags are transported without charge.

(f) Payment of customary brokerage is authorized to brokers who perform services in connection with booking, handling, etc., of cargo in such trades and on such commodities and under such conditions as it has been customary to pay brokerage: Provided, however, That such payment of brokerage shall not exceed that provided in § 306.7 (f), and provided further that no more than one brokerage may be paid on any one cargo or shipment, and that no brokerage shall be paid to the foreign Sub-Agent of the vessel.

(g) For compensation as Sub-Agent at ports outside the continental limits of the United States, including Alaska, for passengers handled on dry cargo vessels, the Agent may pay his foreign Sub-Agent or branch house, with respect to such passengers, at the prevailing commercial rate, but not in excess of the following:

(1) Commercial passengers. $2.00 for each passenger embarked, and $1.00 for each passenger disembarked.

(2) Military personnel. $2.00 for each military passenger embarked, maximum $500.00; $1.00 for each military passenger disembarked, maximum $250.00.

For the purpose of this paragraph the terms "passenger" and "military personnel" shall be construed as defined in § 306.23 (c) and (d). This compensation is payable from the effective dates set forth in § 306.2.

(h) The foregoing scales of compensation are subject to the following special conditions:

Minimum compensation for each port of call—$100.00.

Additional allowances may be made by the Administrator for extraordinary services.

The Administrator reserves the right to determine the prevailing commercial rates on bulk and other cargoes from the effective date of this order.

§ 306.9 Compensation of General Agents. The General Agent shall be compensated both (a) as Agent, and (b) as General Agent as herein provided. He shall receive all agency fees earned from the operation of vessels assigned to him. From the sums received under the agency formula he shall compensate all agents as provided in Article 6 of the standard form of service agreement (GAA–4–4–42). From his compensation as General Agent the General Agent shall compensate all Sub-Agents performing services which are required to be performed by him under the service agreement. In addition to the agency fees, the General Agent shall be paid as follows:

(a) Basic scale. For each calendar month or pro rata thereof beginning with the month in which the first vessel subject hereto is delivered to the General Agent and ending with the calendar month or pro rata thereof (part days shall count as whole days) in which the last vessel subject hereto is redelivered by the General Agent, the basic compensation, computed on the basis of payable tons of the vesels handled during each such month, shall be calculated in accordance with the following scale:

First 80,000 tons 50¢ per payable ton per month.
Next 40,000 tons 40¢ per payable ton per month.
Next 40,000 tons 30¢ per payable ton per month.
Next 40,000 tons 25¢ per payable ton per month.
Next 50,000 tons 20¢ per payable ton per month.
Over 250,000 tons 15¢ per payable ton per month.

In computing compensation hereunder all owners of vessels time chartered to the War Shipping Administration will calculate payable tons of such time chartered vessels, which payable ton months will be added to the total payable ton months of assigned vessels. Compensation shall be payable on the assigned vessels only at the rates shown above, which would be applicable to such assigned vessels in the proper brackets after first applying tonnage of time chartered vessels.

(b) Adjustment when vessels are idle. The Administrator reserves the right to reduce compensation to the extent that any vessel is idle at any port for causes for which the General Agent is responsible, at the highest applicable rate hereunder.

(c) Computation of net compensation. In order to compute the net compensation due with respect to any calendar month, the General Agent shall:

(1) Multiply the number of payable tons of each vessel by the number of days operated each month, vessels time chartered to the War Shipping Administration and assigned vessels to be calculated separately;

(2) Divide each figure resulting from the foregoing calculation by the number of days in said calendar month, thereby obtaining the net payable tons per month on which compensation is to be based;

(3) Calculate the compensation payable at the rates and in the brackets shown on the time chartered vessels for which no bill is to be rendered, using the formula as prescribed in subparagraph (1) hereof, and then calculate the compensation payable in the lower brackets on the assigned vessels in accordance with the formula prescribed in subparagraph (1) hereof, for which compensation will be billed.

The General Agent shall, as soon as may be practicable after the close of each calendar month, render an invoice to the War Shipping Administration covering the compensation due him, computed in accordance with the foregoing.

§ 306.9a Commission on fares. On or after February 1, 1943, General Agents and Agents are authorized to pay in all trades to bona fide travel or tourist agents a commission of 5% on fares paid by or for passengers traveling for private or commercial account. No commission shall be allowed on fares paid by or for repatriated seamen traveling as passengers. For commissions incurred for services performed by bona fide travel or tourist agents between the earliest applicable effective date provided in § 306.2 and February 1, 1943, if such commissions were incurred at rates in accordance with customary practice, General Agents and Agents will be reimbursed, following payment of such commissions to such travel or tourist agents.

§ 306.10 Adjustments of earnings to cover deficiencies. Whenever it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Administrator that any General Agent performing services hereunder has not earned sufficient annual income pursuant to the provisions of this order, plus other earnings against which any portion of the overhead expense is properly allocable, to cover all of such General Agent's fair and reasonable overhead expenses as determined by the Administrator, then the General Agent shall receive as additional compensation hereunder an amount equal to 85% of such deficit, Provided, however, That such additional compensation shall not exceed 50% of the compensation otherwise payable hereunder. The deficit shall be determined in accordance with sound accounting rules and regulations of the Administrator promulgated from time to time. In computing such deficit, the Administrator shall take into account income and overhead expense of the General Agent, any subsidiary, or other company whom the Administrator deems should be included for accounting purposes in order to determine fair and reasonable income and expense, in connection with the operation of any other vessels for the account of the War Shipping Administration, for the Agent's own account, for the account of any government or otherwise as well as the overhead allowance included in any charter hire paid to the General Agent by the Administrator.

The effective date of the provisions of this § 306.10 shall be July 1, 1942, and adjustment for the first period shall be for the six months ending December 31, 1942, but the net balance of terminal income and terminal expense for the nine months ending December 31, 1942, shall be included in making the adjustment for the first period; thereafter adjustment under this section shall be made on an annual basis.

§ 306.11 Adjustment for excessive compensation. If the amount of compensation received by a General Agent or Agent hereunder, plus sums otherwise earned from other sources and allocable to overhead expense, exceeds the General Agent's or Agent's aggregate fair and reasonable overhead expense on an annual basis as determined by the Administrator, the amount of compensation payable hereunder shall be reduced to the extent of 75% of such excess: Provided, however, That compensation in no event shall be reduced below 25% of the compensation otherwise payable. The amount of such reduced compensation shall be determined in accordance with sound accounting rules and regulations promulgated from time to time by the Administrator. All sums earned by the General Agent or Agent, or any subsidiary or other companies who the Administrator deems should be included for accounting purposes, from whatever source, against which any portion of such overhead expense is properly allocable, shall be taken into account in determining such reduction, including sums earned in connection with the operation of vessels for the direct account of the General Agent or Agent, for the account of the United States of America, or any foreign government or otherwise. Such determination shall also reflect allowance for overhead in charter hire paid by the Administrator under any time or bareboat charter. General Agents and Agents shall refund such excess compensation at the end of each calendar year or otherwise as may be required in fiscal regulations issued in connection herewith.

The effective date of the provisions of this § 306.11 shall be July 1, 1942, and adjustment for the first period shall be for the six months ending December 31, 1942, but the net balance of the terminal income and terminal expense for the nine months ending December 31, 1942, shall be included in making the adjustment for the first period; thereafter adjustment under this section shall be made on an annual basis.

§ 306.12 Accounting. (a) Beginning with March 31, 1942, all General Agents and Agents will render quarterly income statements twenty-five days after the end of period, and for the calendar year not later than February 28 of the following year, covering results of all operations as General Agents and Agents under GAA and TCA Service Agreements, vessels time chartered by War Shipping Administration and vessels under bareboat charter to War Shipping Administration as well as other operations prepared in accordance with U. S. Maritime Commission General Order 22, issued February 8, 1938, and regulations as issued by the Assistant Deputy Administrator for Fiscal Affairs. Separate columns shall be used separating income as follows:

Overall total.
Income from vessels under time charter to WSA.
Income from vessels under bareboat charter to WSA.
Income under GAA & TCA Agreements.
Income from other operations.

Appropriate expenses shall be allocated against such income with overhead expenses being appropriately allocated to each operation. Income statement shall be accompanied by statement giving basis of allocation of overhead, also surplus statement giving balance at beginning of period and additions thereto and deductions therefrom with balance at end of period.

(b) Except as provided in § 306.46 (c) of General Order 21, Supplement 4, where a vessel is assigned to one person as Agent or General Agent and another person as Berth Sub-Agent, the Berth Sub-Agent shall account to the Agent or General Agent for all income and expenses (including the Berth Sub-Agent's compensation and that paid by him to foreign sub-agents as voyage expenses).

(c) Except as provided in § 306.46 (c) of General Order 21, Supplement 4, each Agent and General Agent shall account directly to the Administration for the income and expenses of the vessels operated, and render monthly invoices to the Administration for their compensation.

§ 306.17 Compensation of Agents in continental United States ports. As compensation for each tanker allocated to an Agent to conduct the business of the vessel for the War Shipping Administration, such Agent shall be paid at the rate of $400.00 per month. (Out of this compensation the Agent must pay, among other things, all of the Agent's outgoing communication costs except for communications to places outside the continental United States excluding Alaska). It is further provided that, if a vessel is withdrawn from service for repairs in a United States port, Agent's compensation will continue as long as there is cargo aboard and for the first ten days after discharge, or, if no cargo is aboard, upon the expiration of ten days after arrival. Thereafter Agent's compensation will cease until vessel is again placed in service.

§ 306.18 Compensation of Sub-Agents in continental United States ports. As compensation for services rendered by a Sub-Agent for both the United States and the Owner, or for a General Agent, the Sub-Agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $125 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $25 per day for each additional day; Provided, No fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. One-third of this fee shall be for the account of the United States and the remainder shall be for the account of the owner or the General Agent.

As compensation for services rendered by a Sub-Agent for the United States only, the Sub-Agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $45 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $10 per day for each additional day; Provided, No fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. § 306.18a Compensation for services in connection with passenger, dry cargo or mail. Except as otherwise provided, the Agent or General Agent for tank vessels who performs services in connection with passengers, dry cargo, or mail carried on a tank vessel shall be compensated at the rates set forth in §§ 306.7 and 306.7a for comparable services performed by agents in connection with dry cargo vessels, except the compensation provided in § 306.7 (h) (2) shall not apply. Out of such compensation the Agent or General Agent shall pay his sub-agents employed by him, except that the United States shall pay sub-agency fees to the extent required to be paid by the United States as provided in §§ 306.18 and 306.19.

306.19 Compensation of Sub-Agents at ports outside of continental United States. As compensation for services rendered by a Foreign Sub-Agent for the account of both the United States and the Owner or the General Agent, the foreign Sub-Agent shall be paid the prevailing commercial rate, but in no event in excess of a lump sum of $125 for the first three days the vessel remains in port, and thereafter at the rate of $25 per day for each additional day; Provided, No fee shall be paid for the time during which the vessel is laid up for repairs. One-third of this fee shall be for the account of the United States and the remainder shall be for the account of the Owner or the General Agent.

The entire fee provided for in this paragraph shall be for the account of the United States.

§ 306.20 Brokerage. No brokerage will be paid except with the prior approval of the Administrator and application for such brokerage will not be considered unless brokerage was formerly paid in such trade.

§ 306.20a Compensation of General Agents. The General Agent shall be compensated both (a) as Agent, and (b) as General Agent as herein provided. From his compensation he shall pay Sub-Agents for services which are required to be performed by him as General Agent under his service agreement. In addition to the agency fees, the General Agent shall be paid as follows:

(a) Basic scale. For each calendar month or pro rata thereof (part days to count as whole days), beginning with the month and day in which the first vessel subject hereto is delivered to the General Agent and ending with the calendar month and day thereof in which the last vessel subject hereto is redelivered by the General Agent, the basic compensation, computed on the basis of whole months or pro rata thereof for the vessels handled during each such month, shall be calculated in accordance with the following monthly allowance:

First 8 vessels—$2,500.00 per month per vessel.
Over 8 vessels—$2,000.00 per month per vessel.

The Administrator reserves the right to review and make such adjustments in the above rates as may be required to produce what, in his judgment, may be determined as fair and equitable compensation.

(b) Adjustment when vessels are idle. The Administrator reserves the right to determine the amount compensation shall be reduced to the extent that any vessel is idle at any port for causes for which the General Agent is responsible.

SUBPART III—COMBINATION CARGO AND PASSENGER VESSELS

§ 306.21 Vessels included. This Subpart III of General Order 12 (§§ 306.21 through 306.28) is applicable to services rendered in connection with the operation of combination cargo and passenger vessels for the War Shipping Administration under the standard form of service agreement for vessels time chartered from others for the War Shipping Administration (TCA–4–4–42) and the services rendered pursuant to standard form of service agreement for vessels of which the War Shipping Administration is owner or owner pro hac vice (GAA–4–4–42).

§ 306.22 Effective period. This Subpart III of General Order 12 shall become effective at the earliest dates permissible under such service agreements.

§ 306.23 Definition of terms. (a) The words defined in §§ 306.3, 306.4, 306.5 and 306.6 shall have the same meaning in this Subpart III, except that the terms "General Agent" and "Agent" shall be deemed to include wholly owned subsidiaries or any other related or interested companies that the Administrator deems should be included for accounting purposes in order to determine fair and reasonable income and expenses.

(b) A "combination passenger and dry cargo vessel" is a vessel which was constructed or materially reconditioned prior to December 7, 1941, to accommodate at least fifty passengers.

(c) A "passenger" is a person carried on the vessel other than members of the gun crew, the Master, and licensed and unlicensed personnel of the vessel, and military personnel.

§ 306.26 Compensation of General Agents. No compensation shall be paid to any General Agent for his services in connection with the management and operation of the vessels where such vessels are chartered under a charter party that makes allowances for the General Agents' services (whether designated as overhead or otherwise in the charter party), except, however, the General Agent may receive payment for the amounts hereinabove provided for the account of Sub-Agents, where such services are performed by branch office of the General Agent located outside the continental limits of the United States including Alaska, and, as to vessels that were originally operated under a Passenger Agency Service Agreement that was cancelled and superseded retroactively by the General Agency Service Agreement, where such Passenger Agency Service Agreement provided for the payment of $1.00 per day per vessel, such compensation of $1.00 per day per vessel shall be paid to the General Agent, unless otherwise determined by the Administrator, for services rendered from the date of delivery of the vessel under the Passenger Agency Service Agreement until redelivery of the vessel to the Administration, or until lost.

In cases where the General Agent does not receive an allowance for services under a charter party for the combination cargo and passenger vessel, he shall be compensated both (a) as Agent to the extent provided in § 306.24, and (b) as General Agent to the extent provided below, except where the Administrator determines that those rates are inappropriate and establishes a separate rate. From the sums received under the agency formula he shall compensate all agents as provided in Article 6 of the standard form of service agreement (GAA-4-42). From his compensation as General Agent he shall compensate all Sub-Agents performing service that are required to be performed by him under the service agreement. In addition to the agency fees, the General Agent in such cases will be paid compensation as provided in § 306.9, except that "payable tons" for combination cargo and passenger vessels shall be the gross tonnage of each such vessel multiplied by two, and, in the event that the General Agent has been allocated cargo vessels as well as combination cargo and passenger vessels, the compensation payable to the General Agent shall not be calculated separately for cargo vessels and combination cargo and passenger vessels, but, in such case, the combined payable tons of both types of vessels shall be used in determining the compensation due the General Agent for services rendered in connection with both types of vessels.

§ 306.26a Commission on fares. On or after February 1, 1943, General Agents and Agents are authorized to pay in all trades to bona fide travel or tourist agents a commission of 5% on fares paid by or for passengers traveling for private or commercial account. OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION.

[Supp. Order ODT 6A–27]

COMMON CARRIERS

COORDINATED OPERATIONS WITHIN AMARILLO, TEX.

Upon consideration of a plan for joint action filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by the persons named in Appendix 1 hereof to facilitate compliance with the requirements and purposes of General Order ODT 6A (8 F.R. 8757, 14582; 9 F.R. 2794), a copy of which plan is attached hereto as Appendix 2,[1] and

It appearing that the proposed coordination is necessary in order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies; and to provide for the continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the persons named in Appendix 1 hereof are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or schedules, or supplements to filed tariffs or schedules, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plan; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or schedules, or supplements, to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

3. Whenever transportation service is performed by one carrier in lieu of service by another carrier, by reason of a diversion, exchange, pooling, or similar act made or performed pursuant to the plan for joint action hereby approved, the rates, charges, rules, and regulations governing such service shall be those that would have applied except for such diversion, exchange, pooling, or other act.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority and shall not be construed to include the provisions in paragraph 2 (F) of Appendix 2 hereto, imposing a condition upon the subsequent delivery of a shipment not accepted at the time of a prior offer of delivery, in the event that advance notice of the prior offer of delivery is not given or any increase in rates or charges effected thereby is not authorized by the appropriate regulatory body.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

7. Communications concerning this order should refer to "Supplementary Order ODT 6A–27" and, unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C.

This order shall become effective May 31, 1944, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

[MPR 136, as Amended, Rev. Order 104]

MACHINES AND PARTS AND MACHINERY SERVICES

Order No. 104 under Maximum Price Regulation 136, as amended, is revised and amended to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, and § 1390.25a of Maximum Price Regulation 136, as amended, It is hereby ordered:

(a) Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan, (hereinafter called the "manufacturer") may sell each 1½ ton chassis and cab truck, manufactured for civilian purposes, at a price not to exceed a price determined as follows:

The maximum net price for Ford Model 218T81-8 cylinder, 90-HP, 158" chassis with closed cab shall be $738.75. the maximum list price for this truck shall be $985.00. The manufacturer may add to these prices the list price he had in effect on March 31, 1942, for all optional, extra and special equipment added to the truck. However, the manufacturer must deduct from this net price and these list prices all applicable discounts and other deductions he had in effect on March 31, 1942 to a purchaser of the same class.

The manufacturer shall determine the maximum prices of models other than Ford Model 218T81-8 cylinder, 90-HP, 158" chassis with closed cab, for example the 194" chassis and cowl, by adjusting the maximum prices established by this revised order for that model to reflect the manufacturer's March 31, 1942, differential between that model and the model being sold.

Regardless of where the trucks are manufactured, the maximum prices established by this revised order are prices f. o. b. Dearborn, Michigan. Accordingly, the manufacturer may receive freight from Dearborn, Michigan, to point of delivery including the 3% tax on the transportation of all property imposed by the Revenue Act of 1942. In determining freight charges, the freight rate shall be determined on the basis of three built-up 158" chassis cabs and four built-up 194" chassis cowls to a carload.

(b) A reseller of Ford Motor trucks may sell f. o. b. place of business, each of the Ford trucks referred to in paragraph (a) at a price not to exceed the total of the list price in subparagraph (1) below and the applicable allowances in sub-paragraph (2) below, subject to the discounts the reseller had in effect on March 31, 1942 to the applicable class of purchaser.

(1) List price. The list price for the truck being sold determined by the manufacturer under paragraph (a).

(2) Allowances. (i) An allowance for extra, special and optional equipment not to exceed the allowance the reseller had in effect on March 31, 1942 to the applicable class of purchaser for such equipment when sold in connection with the applicable truck model.

(ii) The reseller's actual transportation costs.

(iii) Allowance to include federal, state, and local taxes on his purchase, and sale, or delivery, of the applicable truck model, computed in accordance with the reseller's method in effect on March 31, 1942.

(iv) The reseller's charge for handling and delivery in effect on March 31, 1942.

(v) The dollar amount of all other charges or allowances which the reseller had in effect on March 31, 1942, to the applicable class of purchaser.

(c) A reseller who cannot establish a price in accordance with paragraph (b) because he was not in business on March 31, 1942 may apply for a price to the national office of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(d) All requests in the application not granted in this revised order are denied.

(e) This revised order may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

[NOTE: The manufacturer's price under paragraph (a) is for a truck equipped with natural rubber tires, or synthetic rubber tires purchased by the manufacturer prior to April 18, 1944. Where the manufacturer has an established price in accordance with § 1390.6 of Maximum Price Regulation 136, as amended, which is higher than a price permitted under paragraph (a) because the truck is equipped with synthetic tires purchased by the manufacturer on and after April 18, 1944, or because of any other substantial specification change or material substitution in the truck, the reseller may add to his price under paragraph (b) the increase in cost to him over the price he would otherwise pay under paragraph (a) plus his customary markup on such cost.]

This revised order shall be effective as of October 12, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of May 1944.

[Region I Order G–70 Under RMPR 122]

SOLID FUELS IN BOSTON REGION

Order No. G–70 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Specific maximum prices for solid fuels within specified areas in Region I.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region I of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.259 (a) (1) and 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Order G–70 is hereby issued.

(a) What this order does. This order establishes specific maximum prices for certain solid fuels when sold in specified areas in Region I. The body of the order contains the general provisions which are applicable to all solid fuels in all of the areas covered by this order. The special provisions and specific prices applicable in particular areas will be set forth in appendices, each of which will be issued as an amendment of this order and will be numbered. If any special provision in an appendix is contrary to or inconsistent with any of the general provisions, the special provision shall be controlling in the area covered by that appendix. Any solid fuel for which specific prices are not provided will continue to be priced under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

Nothing contained in this order shall be so construed as to permit noncompliance with any statutes of the State or States within which any area covered by this order is located, or any rules or regulations promulgated under any such statutes, concerning sales or deliveries of solid fuels.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall:

(1) Sell, or in the course of trade or business, buy any solid fuel for which a specific price is established by this order, at a price higher than the specific maximum price (but lower prices may be charged, paid or offered); or

(2) Obtain a higher than maximum price, directly or indirectly, by:

(a) Granting less than the discounts, allowances or price differentials which are specifically required;

(b) Charging for a service unless it is expressly requested by the buyer, charging more for a service than the amount authorized by this order, or charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order;

(c) Using any tying agreement or making any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him, except that a dealer may comply with the requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by any agency of the United States government; or

(d) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained.

(c) Transportation tax. Any dealer subject to this order may collect, in addition to the specified maximum prices established herein, provided he states it separately, the amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by him, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of his prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from the dealer by his supplier; Provided, however, That no part of that tax may be collected in addition to the maximum price on sales of lesser quantities than one-quarter ton or any sales of any quantity of bagged fuel; And provided, further, That the dealer need not state separately from his selling price the amount of said tax on a sale to the United States or any agency thereof, any State government or any political subdivision thereof.

(d) Addition of increases in supplier's prices prohibited. The maximum prices established by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in purchase costs or in suppliers' maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereof, and need not be decreased to reflect decreases in such costs or maximum prices. Increases or decreases in the maximum prices established by this order to reflect such increases or decreases are within the discretion of the Regional Administrator.

(e) Conditions on sales of named anthracites. Whenever provision is made that specific maximum prices for Pennsylvania anthracite may be increased by specified amounts when designated sizes of certain named Pennsylvania anthracite coals are sold, said increases may be charged only if:

(1) The named coal is not mixed with a coal which is not named, or with any other named coal, either in storage or delivery; Provided, however, That if a purchaser requests a delivery of a mixture of two or more coals, the dealer may comply with such request if the quantity of each is separately weighed, the price charged does not exceed the weighted average of the maximum prices for the individual coals and the invoice or similar document delivered to the purchaser clearly states the quantity of each coal in the mixture, identified by the terms used herein; And provided, further, That two or more named coals which carry the same increase may be mixed or two or more which carry different increases may be mixed and sold at the increased price provided for that one which carries the lowest increase, in either of which cases the name used may be that of any named coal in the mixture except one carrying a greater increase than that permitted by this proviso;

(2) An invoice or similar document is delivered to the purchaser which describes the coal by the name used in this order;

(3) The records kept by the dealer, pursuant to the record-keeping clause of this order, clearly identify the named coals by the names used in this order, and are complete and accurate as to any mixtures permitted by subparagraph (1) above and as to the composition thereof and name or names used therefor; and

(4) The dealer preserves and keeps available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, all invoices and other records of his purchases of named coals.

(f) Geographical applicability. Specific maximum prices which are established by an appendix to this order for "yard sales", sales f. o. b. transportation facilities at a dealer's yard, dock or other terminal facility or sales at retail stores and other fixed locations shall apply to all such sales at points located in the area covered by the particular appendix, regardless of the ultimate destination of the fuel. Specific maximum prices for sales on a delivered basis shall apply to all such sales to purchasers who receive delivery within the area covered by the appendix, regardless of whether the dealer is located within that area.

(g) Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at whatever maximum price is in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(h) Applicability of other regulations. (1) To the extent applicable, the provisions of this order supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and dealers whose prices are established by this order are not required to file reports under § 1340.262 (c) thereof for those solid fuels for which specific maximum prices are established. However, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 shall continue to apply in all cases where specific maximum prices are not established by this or some other order, and as to all transactions prior to the date upon which specific maximum prices become effective, and all dealers shall continue to observe the requirements of § 1340.262 (a) concerning preservation of base period records.

(2) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(i) Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to the criminal penalties, civil and enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the State Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the violation occurred.

(j) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Every dealer subject to this order shall post all of the maximum prices established hereby which apply to the types of sales made by him in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public and shall keep a copy of this order available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours. In the case of a dealer who sells directly to consumers from a truck or wagon, the posting shall be done on the truck or wagon. All postings shall include the relevant terms of sale.

(2) Every dealer selling solid fuel for sales of which a maximum price is set by this order shall give to each purchaser an invoice or similar document showing (a) the date of the sale or delivery, the name and address of the dealer and of the buyer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold, the price charged and the terms of sale; and (b) separately stating any special services rendered and other charges made and the amount charged therefor. This paragraph shall not apply to sales of quantities of less than one-quarter ton unless the dealer customarily gave such a statement on such sales, but in the case of bagged fuel, the invoice shall be given on all sales to dealers and retail stores, and it shall show both the price per bag and the total charge.

(3) In the case of all other sales, every dealer who during December 1941, customarily gave buyers sales slips or receipts shall continue to do so. If a buyer requests of a seller a receipt showing the name and address of the dealer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold to him or the price charged, the dealer shall comply with the buyer's request as made by him.

(k) Records. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer (if known), the per net ton price charged and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in this order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(l) Definitions. When used in this order, except where otherwise provided in an appendix hereto, the following terms shall have the following meanings. (ii) Weekly bare rental rates shall be one-third of the maximum monthly rates above established and daily bare rental rates shall be one-twelfth of the monthly rate.

(iii) In every instance, rental of an automotive vehicle leased on a bare basis shall be calculated as beginning at the time the automotive vehicle is delivered into the posession of the lessee and as terminating at the time when the automotive vehicle is delivered back into the possession of the lessor.

(2) Rental of automotive vehicles to defense plants or for use in connection with construction projects, fully operated or similar basis. (i) The maximum rental price for an automotive vehicle rented on a fully operated or similar basis shall be the maximum rental determined under paragraph (1) above for the rental of such automotive vehicle on a bare rental basis plus the following:

(ii) In every instance, the foregoing maximum rates shall apply irrespective of the time the automotive vehicle is on the job, except that where the lessor is required to pay his operator on any job because of the overtime operation of the automotive vehicle, there may be added to the maximum rental, the dollar amount, determined in accordance with the applicable government or union wage rates, or if none is applicable, the wage rates in effect on March 31, 1942, in the rental area, of so much of the excess of overtime wages over straight time wages, as is actually paid the operator because of the overtime operation of the automotive vehicle.

(iii) In every instance, rental for any automotive vehicle rented on a fully operated basis shall be calculated in accordance with this paragraph as beginning not sooner than the time the automotive vehicle arrives on the job ready for use and ending when the automotive vehicle is finally released on the job for return to the lessor, except that where the automotive vehicle must be moved daily to and from the job, the lessor may charge the lessee an additional hour's rental at the applicable maximum rate for each day that the automotive vehicle is moved to and from the job.

(3) The lessor shall furnish the lessee an itemized statement showing the bare rental (with an itemized breakdown of costs new of the vehicle and equipment) and in the case of a rental on a fully operated basis, the operator's wages, payroll taxes, fuel costs, oil costs, lubrication costs, and repair costs (other than for normal wear and tear).

(4) As used in this order the term:

"Fully operated or similar basis" refers to any lease, contract, or understanding, regardless of whether the same is denominated a rental agreement or forms part of another agreement, whereby one party undertakes to furnish the use of or use for another party any automotive vehicle and to supply all or some of the operating and maintenance services required in connection therewith for any consideration regardless of how such consideration is determined.

"Net cost" as used herein means the net amount paid by the lessor for operator's wages, repair parts, mechanic's wages, gasoline, and anything else which the lessor supplies.

(b) This order shall become effective five days from the date of issuance and shall apply to all sales and deliveries or offers to sell whether heretofore or hereafter made of the above described rentals by the aforesaid persons. All maximum prices heretofore established for rental of automotive vehicles by applicants pursuant to section 102 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, as amended, are hereby revoked and the maximum prices herein established shall apply to all rentals of the type covered hereby, whether heretofore or hereafter made by said applicants, except to the extent that rentals heretofore made have been paid for at or below a maximum price heretofore established for the particular applicant.

CAPITAL TRANSIT COMPANY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 26th day of May 1944.

Requirement of public invitation of proposals for purchase or underwriting of securities of subsidiary of registered holding company.

Denial of exemption. Application by non-utility subsidiary of a registered holding company for exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U–50 with respect to the issuance and sale of its first mortgage bonds, denied, it not appearing in the light of the particular circumstances that compliance with Rule U–50 is not appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers as a condition to the exemption of such issuance and sale from the provisions of section

6 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, or to aid the Commission (in carrying out the provisions of section 6 (b) of said Act) to determine such terms and conditions as it may be appropriate to impose in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers in exempting such issuance or sale from the provisions of section 6 (a) of said act.

Appearances: John M. Perry and Frank H. Heiss of Rathbone, Perry, Kelley & Drye and G. Thomas Dunlop, for Capital Transit Company; Frederick Zazove and E. M. Calkin, for the Public Utilities Division of the Commission.

This is an application by Capital Transit Company (Capital Transit), a non-utility subsidiary of The Washington Railway and Electric Company (WR&ECo) The North American Company (North American), both registered holding companies, for an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 of the general rules and regulations under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the act).[1] Capital Transit contemplates the issuance and sale of new bonds for the purpose of refunding all or part of its existing funded debt.[2] Although the financing program has not definitely been determined, the company's financial advisers[3] have tentatively suggested the issuance of approximately $16,000,000 principal amount of twenty-year 4% First Mortgage Bonds.

After appropriate notice, a public hearing was held. Requested findings of fact, briefs and oral argument have been waived. Having considered the record, we make the following findings:

Capital Transit was organized in 1933 pursuant to a Joint Resolution of Congress. It operates a surface transportation system of street car and motor bus lines in the City of Washington, D. C. and adjacent areas, and is not a "public-utility company" as that term is defined in the act. One-half of its 240,000 shares of $100 par value capital stock is owned by WR&ECo. and 1.26% by North American.[4] North American also owns 34.55% of the voting securities of WR&ECo.

Capital Transit is subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia and must secure that Commission's approval for the issuance of the new bonds.[5] Since the contemplated refunding is solely for the purpose of financing the business of Capital Transit, the proposed refunding would be exempt, upon application by the company, from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the act by reason of section 6 (b) thereof, subject to such terms and conditions as the Commission may deem appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

Dillon, Read & Co. and Alex. Brown & Sons have been employed by the company to assist it in formulating a financing program and setting up the terms of the proposed issue.

The company bases its request for an exemption from competitive bidding upon several grounds. The first of these is that in view of the complex nature of the problems involved in a refunding of the company's outstanding debt securities, the company believes that its interest would best be served by negotiating the nature and terms of the refinancing concurrently with negotiations as to the price. In other words, the company contends that a negotiated deal would permit of greater flexibility and afford it an opportunity to weigh alternative financing plans. We have carefully considered this argument but cannot find that the circumstances surrounding Capital Transit's situation are sufficiently distinguishable from other financing programs to warrant a conclusion that it should be accorded different treatment on this ground.

The company also assigns as a reason for an exemption the fact that there has been no public offering of traction bonds within the last decade and that an offer of its bonds at competitive bidding might not attract sufficient interest to insure acceptable results. In this connection we note that Dallas Railway & Terminal Company, a subsidiary of Electric Power & Light Corporation, operating a transportation system in Dallas, Texas, has recently filed an application with respect to the issuance of bonds which it proposes to sell at competitive bidding.[6] Although Capital Transit is a traction company, its 5% bonds due in 1947 have a current market price of around 105 and that in the last five years its total fixed charges had the following coverages: 1939, 1.8 x; 1940, 2.23 x; 1941, 2.84 x; 1942, 3.30 x; 1943, 3.04 x.

The company has also emphasized the essentially local character of the market for the proposed bonds. However, Frederick Brandi, a partner of Dillon, Read & Co., testified that in his opinion the local market would not absorb more than two or three million dollars of the issue. In any event, if the participation of local underwriters or dealers is deemed desirable, it undoubtedly could be obtained by an appropriate requirement in the invitation for bids.

It is our conclusion that the present record does not support a finding that compliance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50 with respect to issuance and sale of the contemplated bonds of Capital Transit is not appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers as a condition to the exemption of such issuance and sale from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, or to aid the Commission (in carrying out the provisions of section 6 (b) of said act) to determine such terms and conditions as it may be appropriate to impose in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers in exempting such issuance or sale from the provisions of section 6 (a) of said act.

The absence of a definitive refunding program has complicated the resolution of the problems raised by this application and has made our task with respect thereto a difficult one. In the definitive refinancing program, the desirability of a fairly rapid amortization of a substantial part of the company's debt seems obvious, and if the refunding includes serial notes of a maturity of ten years or less, such notes may qualify for automatic exemption from competitive bidding under paragraph (a) (2) of Rule U-50.

It is ordered, That the application for exemption be and the same is hereby denied.

By the Commission.

[F. R. Doc. 44-7693; Filed, May 27, 1944; 2:32 p. m.]

[1] By its subdivision (a) (5), Rule U-50 excludes from its scope:

"The issuance or sale of securities as to which the Commission finds that compliance with paragraphs (b) and (c) hereof with respect to such issuance or sale is not • • • (b) appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers as a condition to the exemption of such issuance or sale from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the Act, or to aid the Commission (in carrying out the provisions of section 6 (b) of the Act (to determine such terms and conditions as it may be appropriate to impose in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers in exempting such issuance or sale from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the Act • • •"

UNITED GAS CORP., ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 26th day of May, A. D. 1944.

In the matter of United Gas Corporation, United Gas Pipe Line Company, Houston Gulf Gas Company, File No. 70-314; Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 70-315; Electric Bond and Share Company, Electric Power & Light Corporation, United Gas Corporation, Houston Gas Securities Company, United Gas Pipe Line Company, Houston Gulf Gas Company, File No. 59-21. In the matter of investigation of organization and financing of United Gas Corporation, etc., File No. 4-33; United Gas Corporation, Electric Power & Light Corporation, Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54-91; Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 70-868.

United Gas Corporation ("United"), a subsidiary of Electric Power & Light Corporation ("Electric"), a registered holding company, which in turn is a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), also a registered holding company, and United's subsidiary, United Gas Pipe Line Company, have filed an amendment to their declaration in these consolidated proceedings concerning, among other things, a proposed issuance and sale by United of $100,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds.[1] United has stated in the said filing that it believes the proposed issuance and sale are not subject to the provisions of Rule U-50 since the original declaration which the present filing amends was filed two days before the effective date of that rule. It requests, however, in the event that we find that the proposed sale is subject to the provisions of Rule U-50 that it be exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of subsections (b) and (c) thereof. It has further requested that we rule on these matters at the earliest possible date and in advance of any other order in these consolidated proceedings.

After appropriate notice, a public hearing was held on these matters and we have considered the record with respect thereto as well as a brief in opposition to the application filed by a participant in the proceeding.

Consideration of the application of United requires a brief summary of the history of the proposed financing. On May 5, 1941, two days before the effective date of Rule U-50, United filed a declaration seeking permission to issue and sell $75,000,000 principal amount of first Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds and to use the major portion of the proceeds to liquidate the $52,925,000 indebtedness of United to Bond and Share. Questions had previously been raised by our staff and communicated to the companies with respect to the debt claims held by Bond and Share in United on the basis of facts developed in the record of the section 11 (b) (2) proceedings of Bond and Share and Electric (File No. 59-12).

Prior to the time of the filing, United has been negotiating[2] with certain insurance companies for the sale of the bonds but had not yet secured an agreement with respect to the precise method and terms of sale. After the filing, on June 12, 1941, a contract fixing a price of 99.34%, an interest rate of 3¼% and other terms of sale was entered into with 14 major insurance companies and the filing was amended to bring this contract before us. In view of the questions previously mentioned above arising from the history of the relations among Bond and Share, Electric and United our Order of May 31, 1941[3] for hearing on this declaration together with a declaration filed by Bond and Share for the use of the proceeds to be received by it, also instituted proceedings with respect to Bond and Share, Electric, United and certain subsidiaries of United under sections 11 (b) (2), 12 (b), 12 (c), 12 (f), 18 (a) and 18 (b) of the act which were consolidated for hearing with the proceedings on the above-described filings. The purpose of these "cross proceedings" was to ensure a comprehensive investigation of all factors relevant to the recapitalization and refinancing of United including a determination of the respective claims and equities of its various security holders in connection therewith and to give notice of our intention to exercise our full statutory powers to resolve the problems facing the company.

In view of the fact that the resolution of the problems raised by the proceedings so consolidated involved a thorough study of the background and organization of United and its entire corporate history together with the roles played by Bond and Share and Electric in connection therewith, extensive hearings were necessary and were undertaken. During the course of these hearings various attempts were made to separate the refinancing problems from the issues surrounding the proposed use of the proceeds, i. e., the problem of the status and rank of the Bond and Share claims in and against United. We have previously described in detail the formulation and the reasons for the failure of the most comprehensive effort in this direction undertaken immediately after Pearl Harbor (Holding Company Act Release No. 3301). In February 1942, subsequent to this unsuccessful attempt, the contract with the insurance companies which had been several times extended was allowed to expire. Hearings were thereafter held with respect to all phases of the proceedings until September, 1943 when they were completed and concluded with respect to all matters except as to the accounts and structures of certain of the subsidiary companies of United.

Following the closing of the record on the major problems in the proceedings, the present section 11 (e) plan was filed, providing for the reorganization of United and the settlement of all claims among United, Electric and Bond and Share arising from the organization and history of United.[4] This plan contemplates the issuance by United of $100,000,000 of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds and is conditioned upon the ability of United to issue and sell such bonds. Accordingly, the present amendment to its previous declaration with respect to the refinancing was filed by United seeking approval of the proposed issuance and sale of the bonds, as increased from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 principal amount.

Joe H. Gill, president of United, has testified that if the company is permitted to carry on negotiations, it will not limit such negotiations to the 14 insurance companies with which the previous contract was made although he would anticipate that they would purchase a substantial portion of the issue.

We have determined that in the light of the several unique factors in the present case an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 may appropriately be granted.

We have passed at this time, as requested by the company, only the question of the method of sale of the bonds, if made. We have not yet had before us the substantive questions under the act which will determine the propriety of the sale nor have we passed upon the pending section 11(e) plan for United to which the proposed financing is a condition. Any contract resulting from the proposed negotiations will, of course, be subject to our approval of the proposed financing, as such, and the exercise of our jurisdiction over the terms and conditions of sale and all fees and expenses in connection therewith.

It is therefore ordered, That pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, the said application for exemption of the proposed issue and sale by United of $100,000,000 of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds from the requirements of subsections (b) and (c) of Rule U-50 as to competitive bidding be, and it hereby is, granted subject, however, to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 of the general rules and regulations.

It is further ordered That jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved expressly to pass upon all other matters involved in these consolidated proceedings including the propriety of the proposed issue and sale under the applicable provisions of the act and rules and regulations thereunder and the terms and conditions of any such sale and the fees and expenses in connection therewith.

By the Commission.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) and (d) of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk, skim milk, or cream disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and milk drinks, and cream, for consumption as cream (including any cream product in fluid form containing 6 percent or more butterfat), and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk, skim milk, and cream, used to produce a milk product other than those specified in Class I milk and all milk accounted for as actual plant shrinkage: Provided, That allowance for such plant shrinkage shall not exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers. In establishing the classification of milk as required in (b) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler who receives milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) Milk, skim milk, and cream shall be classified as Class I milk when moved from the plant of a handler (i) to the plant of another handler who receives milk from producers: Provided, That if such milk, skim milk, or cream was utilized in Class II, it shall be classified accordingly subject to verification by the market administrator; (ii) to the plant of a handler who receives no milk from producers other than milk of his own production; and (iii) to the plant of a nonhandler who distributes milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form for consumption as such.

(2) Milk, skim milk, and cream received at the plant of a handler from sources other than producers or other handlers shall be Class II milk except for such milk in excess of the total Class II utilization of the receiving handler.

(3) Milk, skim milk, and cream, disposed of by a handler to the plant of a nonhandler who does not distribute milk, skim milk, or cream for consumption in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk.

(e) Computation of the milk in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute in the case of each handler the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received as follows: add into one sum the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received from (i) producers; (ii) the handler's own farm production; (iii) other handlers; and (iv) other sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk, skim milk, and cream received from (i) producers; (ii) the handler's own farm production; (iii) other handlers; and (iv) other sources. Add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) Convert to pounds the total quantity of milk, skim milk, and cream, disposed of in each of the several products of Class I on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) of the quantity of milk so computed when added to the pounds of milk in Class II computed pursuant to (5) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of milk received in accordance with (1) of this paragraph an amount equal to the difference shall be added to the sum obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine to total pounds of butterfat in Class I as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class I by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed, when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II computed pursuant to (6) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of butterfat received in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be added to the sum obtained in (ii) of this paragraph.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) Compute the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream which were used to produce each of the several products of Class II; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of milk in Class I computed pursuant to (3) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of Class II milk computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph from the total pounds of milk received computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers, shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purpose of this paragraph; and (iv) add together the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph and the result obtained in (iii) of this subparagraph, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers.

(6) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class II as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II by its average butterfat tests; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk computed pursuant to (4) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers, shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purpose of this paragraph; and (iv) add together the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph and the result obtained in (iii) of this subparagraph, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers.

(7) Determine the classification of milk of producers as follows: (i) Subtract from the pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received from other handlers and apportioned to each class in accordance with (d) of this section; (ii) subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in Class II the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream, except emergency milk, received from other sources: Provided, That if the quantity of such milk, skim milk, and cream received is greater than the remaining quantity of Class II milk of such handler, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the remaining pounds of Class I milk; and (iii) subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk in each class, the total pounds of milk which were received from the handler's own farm production and emergency milk; and (iv) the result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class.

SEC. 4. Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall, subject to the provisions of (b) of this section, pay at the time and in the manner set forth in section 8 not less than the prices set forth in this section per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period at such handler's plant or caused by such handler to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(1) For Class I milk, the price shall be 50 cents per hundredweight more than the price resulting from the following computation by the market administrator: determine the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the period beginning with the 16th day of the previous month and ending with the 15th day of the current month at the plants listed in this subparagraph: Provided, That if the price so determined is less than the price computed by the market administrator in accordance with the following formula, such formula price shall be used in lieu of the above-stated price: (i) Multiply by six the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago for the delivery period as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function); (ii) add 2.4 times the average weekly prevailing price of the cheese known as "Twins" during said delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth,

Wisconsin (in the absence of such prices the prevailing price of "Twins" at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function) shall be used); (iii) divide the resulting sum by 7; (iv) add 30 percent thereof; and (v) multiply the result by 3.5.

Dean Milk Company, Pearl City, Ill.
Dean Milk Company, Pecatonica, Ill.
Libby, McNeil and Libby Co., Morrison, Ill.
Pet Milk Company, Schullsburg, Wis.
United Milk Products Co., Argo Fey, Ill.

(2) For Class II milk, the price shall be the result of the following computation by the market administrator: Multiply by 3.5 the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function) during the delivery period in which such milk was received, add 20 percent thereof and add any plus amount resulting from the following calculation:

Subtract 6 cents from the average price per pound of casein and multiply such result by 2.3. The price per pound of casein to be used shall be the average of the carlot prices for unground casein f. o. b. drying plants in the Chicago area as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function).

(b) Butterfat differentials to handlers. (1) If the average butterfat content of the milk of producers disposed of as Class I by any handler computed pursuant to section 3 (e) is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class I price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract from such Class I price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent, divide the result obtained by 10, and add 1.0 cent.

(2) If the average butterfat content of the milk of producers disposed of as Class II by any handler computed pursuant to section 3 (e) is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class II price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract from such Class II price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent, and divide the result obtained by 10.

(c) Emergency price provision. Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason, the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment: Provided, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price or if the specified price is not reported or published and the War Food Administrator determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the War Food Administrator to be equivalent to or comparable with the prices specified.

SEC. 5. Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. (1) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler, with respect to all milk or milk products which were, during such delivery period, (i) received from producers; (ii) received from other handlers; (iii) received from such handler's own farm production; (iv) received from any other source; or (v) caused to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area, shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by him, as follows:

(b) The receipts at each plant from any other handler, including any handler who is also a producer;

(c) The receipts at each plant from such handler's own farm production;

(d) The receipts at each plant from any other source;

(g) The respective butterfat content of each of the above.

(2) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, the receipts at each plant of emergency milk as follows: (i) The amount of such milk and the average butterfat content thereof; (ii) the date or dates upon which such milk was received during the delivery period; (iii) the plant from which such milk was shipped; (iv) the prices paid or to be paid for such milk; (v) the utilization of such milk; and (vi) such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

(b) Reports as to producers. Each handler shall report to the market administrator within 10 days after the market administrator's request with respect to any producer and with respect to a period of time designated by the market administrator: (1) The name and address; (2) the total pounds of milk received; (3) the average butterfat test of milk received; and (4) the number of days upon which milk was received.

(c) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period, which shall show for each producer (1) the net amount of such producer's payments with the prices, deductions, and charges involved, and (ii) the total volume of milk received from such producer or caused by the handler to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area and the average butterfat test of such milk.

(d) Reports of producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers. Producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers shall report to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(e) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audits of such handler's records and the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk such handler claims classification. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk required to be reported pursuant to this section and, in the case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in section 8.

SEC. 6. Application of provisions—(a) Producer-handlers. (1) Sections 4, 7, 8, 9, and 10 shall not apply to the handling of milk by handlers (i) whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers or (ii) who are producer-handlers pursuant to section 1 (g) as verified by the market administrator in the manner provided in (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Handlers shall furnish to the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the War Food Administrator, evidence of their qualifications pursuant to section 1 (g), as of the effective date hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing their milk that affects their qualification as producer-handlers; such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the date of receipt of the evidence and shall be effective retroactively to the effective date of the provisions hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(b) Emergency milk. During any delivery period when the market administrator determines that the supply of milk available to any handler from producers and handlers is not sufficient to fulfill the Class I requirements of such handler, such handler, after giving notice to the market administrator of his intention to purchase milk from other than such sources, may secure milk from emergency sources on terms and conditions other than those provided in section 4 hereof. Emergency milk shall be reported to the market administrator by the receiving handler separately from milk received from producers and handlers in accordance with section 5 (a) (2). The person from whom the handler received such milk shall not be considered a handler with respect to milk disposed of in the marketing area under the circumstances described in this paragraph.

(c) Payment for excess milk or butterfat. If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler pursuant to section 7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or milk equivalent of such butterfat in accordance with its actual utilization by the handler.

SEC. 7. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligation of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply the pounds of milk in each class computed pursuant to section 3 (e) by the class prices computed pursuant to section 4 (a) subject to the butterfat differentials set forth in section 4 (b), add together the resulting amounts and add the value of any payments required to be made pursuant to section 6 (c).

(b) Computation of the uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers computed pursuant to (a) of this section who made the reports prescribed by section (5) and who made the payments prescribed by section 8 for the previous delivery period;

(2) Add an amount equal to one-half the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the amount due handlers pursuant to section 8 (g);

(3) Divide the resulting sum by the total quantity of net pooled milk of all handlers whose reports are included in the computation; and

(4) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payment by handlers.

(c) Announcement of prices. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify all handlers and make public announcement of the computations pursuant to (b) of this section, of the uniform price per hundredweight of milk, of the Class I and Class II prices computed pursuant to section 4 (a), of the butterfat differentials to handlers computed pursuant to section 4 (b), and of the butterfat differential to producers computed pursuant to section 8 (c).

(d) Notification of handlers. On or before the 10 day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify each handler of the amount of his net pool obligation and of the amount by which such handler's net pool obligation is greater or less than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to section 8 (a).

SEC. 8. Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section, after deducting the amount of the payments made pursuant to (b) of this section, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(1) To each producer, except as set forth in (2) of this paragraph, on or before the 15th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was purchased or received at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to section 7 (b).

(2) To a cooperative association for milk which it causes to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments, on or before the 12th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was purchased or received, of a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Half delivery period payments. (1) On or before the last day of each delivery period, each handler shall, except as set forth in (2) of this subparagraph, make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of the delivery period, was received by such handler.

(2) At least 3 days before the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association for milk which it causes to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments for the approximate value of the milk which such cooperative association caused to be delivered to such handler during the first 15 days of the delivery period.

(c) Butterfat differential to producers. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler, in making the payments prescribed in (a) (1) and (2) of this section, shall add to the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct from the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.5 percent, not more than an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be hereafter authorized to perform this price reporting function) add 20 percent, and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (e) and (g) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (f) and (g) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the uniform price for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying the mundredweight of milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to (a) of this section and adding together the resulting amounts. This amount shall be entered on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or credit, as the case may be.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section.

(f) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum reported to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler.
